A Terrible Disease That Comes Unsuspectingly, and When Needed It Brags Its Victims To Death.

Paine's Celery Compound Has Wrought Thousands of Cures After Failures of Physicians.

To-day, kidney disease is as common as rheumatism. Thousands of men and women living in fancied security have kidney trouble in some form that must develop from day to day and end in death, unless wise and proper treatment is at once taken advantage of.

Have you any of the following symptoms? Backache, frequent urinating, fluttering of the heart, nausea, vomiting, a dry, harsh skin, fever, coated tongue, extreme thirst, feeble appetite, stiff limbs, taste, deposit of mucus after urination, sour stomach, chronic swelling, loss of memory, sickening sensations and constipation?

If you experience any of these symptoms, begin at once with Paine's Celery Compound, which will quickly begin to fight all symptoms of diseased kidneys. It is nature's true remedy, the only one you can rely upon with certainty of cure.

Mrs. Mabel, Haverhill, Mass., writes as follows: "I suffered terribly for two years from kidney trouble and dyspepsia. I was completely run down and could not get out of bed. One of the best city doctors attended me, but no good result followed his work. Happily a friend advised me to use Paine's Celery Compound. I procured a supply, and the first dose relieved me. I have used eight bottles, and now sleep well, appetite is good, and I am as strong as ever before. I recommend Paine's Celery Compound to all."

PRESBYTERY OF KINGSTON. IT MET ON TUESDAY AT CHALMERS CHURCH.

The Various Reports Presented - Reports From Sessions in This District Show That Intemperance is Decreasing.

Kingston presbytery met in Chalmers church on Tuesday afternoon. The moderator, Rev. H. Gracey, Ganoque, presided. With him were present: Revs. Prof. Fowler, R. Laird, Dr. Ross, W. Maclean, W. A. Yeoman, J. Macdonald, W. A. Macdonald, J. Cumberland, Dr. Jordan, D. G. McNeil, J. McIlroy, J. A. McDonald, W. W. Peck, W. S. Macpherson, etc.

The roll of presbytery was revised preparatory to its transmission to synod. Attention was called to the death of Rev. S. Houston, M.A., for years a member of presbytery, and the clerk was instructed to prepare a suitable minute in connection with the removal of his name from the appendix to the roll.

From the home mission committee, Mr. Maclean reported in part, and the recommendation was granted, that an evangelist be secured for the year, the field to provide at least $300. It was agreed to recommend to appoint Rev. E. W. Watson to the Amble, etc., for two years.

Mr. Maclean reported in part, and the recommendation was granted, that an evangelist be secured for the year, the field to provide at least $300.

A long discussion arose on the report from the general assembly. This involved the appointment of three to the boards of the assembly, and other matters embraced in the report.

The report on church life and work was fully and ably presented by Mr. Mackie. Sessions had generally given good attention to the questions submitted to them.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Prof. Pike, Wants to Meet the Dog Poisoner.

Kingston, March 4.-(To the Editor.) I believe you would be conferring a great benefit on many in this city if you could, through the medium of your columns create such a general interest in the wholesale and malicious poisoning of dogs that would lead to the discovery of the scoundrels who are plaguing the place by the cowardly practice of dropping poisoned meat, etc., about at night in order to destroy their neighbors' property.

It is a scandal, that we dare hardly take a dog on the street without fear of having him poisoned. I wish you would warn the owner of dogs to be careful, especially at night, and to make engines and endeavor to glean intelligence of the culprit, who are pursuing this abominable business. They should have enemies ready to hand for immediate use as professional help generally arrives too late, and in case a dog is poisoned, they should give the emetic at once, and then ply him with demulcents such as milk, sweet oil, eggs, chalk, etc.

QUITE A DISPLAY.

Grand Delivery of Massey-Harris Machines.

Thursday, 27th ult., was a gala day in the history of the city of Kingston, which was the occasion of the spring delivery by Massey-Harris company, limited, and their agents of machines to their customers. Nine carloads of implements, including binders, mowers, rakes, cultivators, drills, etc., arrived at the station and were unloaded at Kingston some days before, and the entire supply was sold previous to the delivery. On the day of the delivery the roads were almost impassable, but to the surprise of everyone, 135 of this immense order of machines were loaded on the farmers' wagons and taken home that day. How characteristic of the energy of the Canadian farmer!

After the day's work was over, the customers and their horses partook of refreshments provided by Massey-Harris company and their agents at the hotels. One feature of the procession was a splendid brass band, which helped much to enliven the proceedings.

Too much cannot be said of the indefatigable work of Messrs. T. Hughes, Kingston, and R. J. Spoor, of Wolfe Island, the two agents of the company, who had the arrangements of the day in hand. Both these gentlemen have established an enviable reputation for zeal and industry, which the day's work in connection with the Massey-Harris delivery only served to enhance.

An Ex-Convic's Clothes. "Hello, there, another one out! 'Prety, young fellow, too," exclaimed a man as he stood on the street corner. A young man had just passed, wearing the regulation suit supplied by the penitentiary authorities to convicts who have expired or who are let out on parole. These suits are of a peculiar style, and all bear a striking resemblance to each other. It is very easy to detect a liberated convict by the clothes, he wears. This man, however, had secured for himself a more respectable suit, and he was being eyed by the convicts. Anyone who knows anything about the penitentiary can always tell a convict by his boots, which are always prison made. The liberated men should have some means to assist them in leading a better life.

Had A Successful Trip. Sergt. Maj. James O'Hagan, A.M.C., just returned from a two months' recruiting tour in the R.C.F.P.A., had a most successful trip. In all he secured eighty-five recruits of a most desirable kind, and had two only rejected because of a slight minor defect, but these two are overruling the defect which barred them, and they hope to be accepted within a week or two. Sergt. Maj. O'Hagan met with varying experience during his outing and can relate many amusing incidents incidental to the tour. At Lindsay he recruited two brothers named Hall, one strapping and one scrawny, standing five feet, ten and one-half inches, weighing 162 pounds and only nineteen years old. At Orillia he also enlisted two brothers. All the recruits are first class in every respect, the choice of Canadian sons. The men have all expressed their liking for the life of a soldier and are pleased with their surroundings. Sergt. Maj. O'Hagan has received warm praise for his success as a recruiting officer.

Nearly 101 Years Old. On Thursday, 13th inst., Malcolm McKee, of the house of industry, will celebrate his 101st birthday. In honor of the event a concert will be given there under the auspices of the directors, followed by a supper for the aged inmates. Mr. McKee, despite the fact that he has passed his ninety years, passed over his head, is still lively and cheerful. When he celebrated his one hundredth birthday the "Whig" gave a sketch of the life of this remarkable man. Born in the "Highlands of Scotland," he spent his early days there, coming out to Canada, about the time of the rebellion of 1837. He served as a volunteer at Quebec, during 1837 and '38. For many years he followed the trade of a shoemaker in Kingston, and was Mr. Thompson and "Sandy" Sutherland, father of the Sutherland Bros. shoe dealers, Princess street. He said Mr. Sutherland was the best employer he ever had.

The Bohemian Girl. Belle's "Bohemian Girl" was capably presented by the Boston Lyce company at the Grand opera house last evening. The company did not receive from the citizens the support it merited. The chorus, though small, is well balanced and carefully trained. The soloists possess magnificent voices, that of Martin Pasche, the tenor, being particularly noticeable for its sweetness. Mabel Day, as "Arline," won repeated applause by the very clever rendering of her difficult solos. The company is a particularly strong one, every role being filled with a soloist well able to present the character in masterly style. The beautiful music lost much of its charm from lack of good orchestral support.

The Copper Cliff Courier. Another paper has risen upon the journalistic horizon - The Copper Cliff Courier, the first number of the first volume of which has just reached the Whig's editorial desk. The rapid growth of New Ontario has made many openings for the enterprising newspaper man. The new sheet is edited and managed by J. J. Pratt, and is neat and attractive. The Whig wishes it all success in its rushing little home town.

We Have Good Representatives. The Whig yesterday had a paragraph in regard to Yankees of the right sort in Canada, but the list was incomplete without reference to the Folgers of Kingston, men of inspiration and enterprise, who have done much to make a commercial name for this city. All they possess is invested in Canada. And by the way B. W. some time ago became a Canadian citizen.

A.O.U.W. ANNUAL CONCERT

CITY HALL OVER-CROWDED LAST NIGHT.

The Programme Furnished Was Perhaps The Best of The Season - Most of Kingston's Best Talent Took Part - A Highly Successful Affair.

The occasion on which the spacious and historic city hall has held such a large assemblage as it did last evening, are few indeed. Every seat was occupied, extra chairs were provided on the platform, the aisles and wide down ledges held their share, while the narrow spaces about the entrance doors were crowded with standing people.

"Can't you find us a seat anywhere?" inquired a citizen as he entered with his wife. The usher found one for the lady, but the man was obliged to stand. It was the annual complimentary concert tendered by Limestone Lodge, No. 91, A.O.U.W., to its members and their friends. This lodge never does anything by halves, so a good concert was expected. And not one in that large audience could possibly have been disappointed.

Veterinary major Massey occupied the chair, owing (as he explained) to the bashfulness of the master workman, Edward Perry. On behalf of the lodge, the chairman gave the audience a cordial reception. The programme was an excellent one, and one that was not easily excelled. As "no response to encore," appeared at the bottom of the printed programmes, the audience contented itself with liberal applause of the first numbers.

Charles Harvey rendered two solos, the first being "The Sailor's Grave," in his accustomed good form. His powerful, rich voice was heard to good effect in the selections he chose. Miss Elsie Perley, who has become a great favorite with Kingston audiences, was kindly received as the came forward. She sang with more than usual sweetness and expression. Among her selections were "Marguerite," and "Spring Is Coming," both of which called forth rounds of applause. The violin solos by Miss Ethel Armstrong - "Mazurka," "Musique Serenade" (Gardner) and "Minuet" (Beethoven) - were very artistically rendered.

The baritone solos by Arthur Craig were features of the very attractive programme. His "Asleep" in the "Composed" (St. Quentin) certainly had that effect upon the hearts of his listeners. Mr. Craig is to-day one of the first gentlemen singers of the city. "Lays A Captive" (Chambrade) and "Marguerite" - Three "Bonquets" (Thage) were the solos contributed by Miss Kinghorn, and her rendition was very pleasing. Mrs. Herison sang "My Bonnie Lads" and "Minuet" (Bach) in very excellent voice.

But the programme was not all solos. Miss Dutton, whose eloquent powers are well known to Kingstonians, gave two splendid recitations. The first was in the French ballad dialect, "How Betsey Came Home," by Dr. Drummond, and it was a popular piece with the audience. Miss Shaw, organist of St. John's street Methodist church, played the accompaniments in a most satisfactory manner.

Veterinary major Massey and J. E. Hopkirk, who arranged the programme, deserve great credit for the success of the evening's entertainment.

Every Herring Must hang on its own gill, and every tub must stand on its own bottom. We judge of state by their words, and listen by their hearts; not that we undervalue facial beauty, we don't still a fair face may turn out a foul bargain. Every herring must hang on its own gill. The world was never so practical as today. Can't humbug, facing both ways, are doomed. A gentleman living in Westmonte suffered severely from bronchitis. His sister urged him to take Eastern Balm. He was disgusted and used strong language, but persisted. One day he surprised her by saying, somewhat testily, "Give me some of Crocker's Eastern Balm." Result: Since then he will use no other.

Perley, Harrowsmith; township president, Harrowsmith; Angus McMillan; Kingston; William Spomer; Portland; E. M. York; place for next convention Elginburg.

Found A Mineral Spring. A new mineral spring has just been discovered on the Algonquin property. The company, which has purchased the grounds and which will build a hotel there, started to pump out the spring water. The mineral water is said to be a very healthful fluid.

The Starvation Plan

Of Treating Dyspepsia and Stomach Troubles by Fasting and Laxatives.

Many people with weak digestion, as well as some physicians, consider the first step to take in attempting to cure indigestion is to reduce the food, and to use laxatives to relieve the bowels and to get rid of the surplus of food eaten to barely enough to keep the body supplied with energy. This is the starvation plan, and is by many supposed to be the first essential.

It is a well known fact that food is essential and unobtainable to recommend fasting to cure indigestion. The body cannot survive on indigestion itself, and it is by many supposed to be the first essential.
