LESSON AND WARNING.

John P. Altgeld, the ex-governor of Illinois, who died so suddenly after a pro-Boer meeting in which he had taken a leading part, had risen to prominence by the exercise of his undoubted talents. He began life in the United States as a poor emigrant boy, and he became a millionaire. Wealth appears to come to some easily, but they have to win it all the same.

EDITORIAL BRIEFS.

Hugh John Macdonald now repudiates the Roblin referendum. The idea originally, he says, was to enforce the liquor act if the privy council endorsed it.

The women righters in Toronto have achieved another victory—the election to the staff of the general hospital of a woman house surgeon. And she's a peach, too!

Must Mr. Borden, as leader of the opposition, go? Is he a failure? The World's admiration of Mr. Tarte makes one suspect that there is a new conspiracy afoot.

The bill, which presumed to confer special and uncalled for powers, upon the civil engineers, has been withdrawn from the Ontario legislature. It was regarded with great hostility.

The opposition is talking against the New Ontario railway, but it is not putting its opinions in the form of resolutions. Isn't that the way a party should put itself on record?

There may be many to endorse LaBoeche's idea, that if Canada sends any more troops for the war she shall bear all the expenses of them. The selection of the men is a small expense to the equipment and support of them in the field.

Hamilton is a favoured place. The Bell Telephone Company has offered $3,000 a year for the use of the streets in which to promote and improve their service. There is here the recognition of the council and the valuation of its municipal franchise.

The fact that Dr. Courtice and Dr. Carman are dissatisfied with the referendum is thus heralded by the Mail: "Methodists warn Premier Ross. Electors will condemn prevalence of liberal party." Is the Methodist vote in the keeping or giving of any special set? The answer is obvious.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell is not taking kindly to the liberalizing of the senate. The filling of vacancies by senate is feelingly commented upon by the Intelligencer. Would it have these vacancies filled by conservatives? How many liberals were appointed to the senate by the conservative governments during the eighteen years in which they ruled!

Why should the selection of the teachers who go to South Africa be left with a couple of men, even the principals of the Toronto and Ottawa Normal schools. Why was not each educational centre allowed to nominate one or two as the population warranted? The troops were not organized as the teachers' contingent appears to be.

The American Machine telephone does away with the girl in the central office, and the delay in making connections. It is the newest thing in telephone discovery—a marvel in its way—and is the product of a young Canadian who did not live to see the glories of his genius. When this system has been installed there will be a great change in the telephone business.

Acquires Branch Line. St. Louis, March 14.—The St. Louis & Memphis line, extending from Paw Paw Junction to Ladora, a distance of seventy-five miles, has been turned over to the St. Louis, Memphis & South-Eastern, which was recently organized and which will form the St. Louis-Memphis line of the Frisco system. The Frisco system has grown to such an extent that, with its recent purchase of the Blackwell, Engle & South-Western, it operates over 4,000 miles of road and figures among the strongest lines in the west.

The South African market is disturbed by premature reports of the death of Cecil Rhodes. The condition of public opinion respecting Mr. Rhodes has been greatly modified since the Jameson raid. TOO LATE TO ACT.

Says The Under-Secretary Re Teachers' Applications. In reply to his letter of the 12th inst., Inspector Kidd this morning received a communication from Joseph McCabe, under secretary of state, respecting the applications of the Misses Burton and Abrams of this city, as teachers in the South Africa concentration camps. Mr. McCabe writes: "The applications came to hand after the selection for this province had been determined upon. The provincial authorities have been entrusted with the selection of a certain number from the western portion of the province, and possibly it might be well for you to address the provincial secretary at Toronto on the subject. But as regards Eastern Ontario the applications are too late for consideration."

The "last sentence" is regarded as very remarkable by educationalists in this city. The Kingston applications were sent in just as soon as the imperial request for teachers appeared in the daily press. The applications must therefore have reached the department as soon as those of any other place. However, the local applicants have not given up hope. Several prominent men, who have the ear of the government, are exerting themselves in behalf of the Kingston young ladies.

BOARD OF WORKS.

Street Railway Company May Sprinkle The City Streets. The board of works held a regular meeting Thursday afternoon. Those attending being: Alds. McLeod, chairman; McAmmon, Craig, Walkem, McFarlane, Dunlop, Harkness and city engineer J. H. Nickle.

The chairman announced that the first item on the slate was the question of street sprinkling by the street railway company.

H. Nickle was present in behalf of the company. He said that the company would be willing to enter into a contract with the city to sprinkle the streets on the route of the best line for a term of five or more years at rate of 2 1/2c a foot, the same as now charged. The company however, must sprinkle the whole route, and would also agree to take up the sidewalks in a block here and there. It had been suggested that the company would be unable to sprinkle King street from West to Union street, which was not the case; the company could sprinkle the portion in question, and would not agree to a contract unless that portion and all blocks on the route were included. The company could secure an appliance that would throw a stream seventy-eight feet on one side, or sixty feet on two sides.

Chairman McLeod stated that as he understood the question, it was intended to have all the streets watered on which the cars ran.

Mr. Nickle replied that the letter received from the city engineer left out mention of Barrie street.

It was pointed out that Alfred street had not been sprinkled for years past.

Ald. McLeod thought that if the city could have the sprinkling done at a figure below the present cost, probably more people would have sprinkling done on streets fronting their premises.

Ald. Craig suggested that Mr. Nickle put his terms in writing, so that the committee could have something tangible to work on.

Mr. Nickle promised to do so. He had talked over the matter with Mr. Folger, and the conclusion determined was that the company could not afford to accept a contract for the service at less than two and a half cents a foot. The company would have to invest $2,000 in appliances, besides having to employ more men. The company could sprinkle the belt line, part of Williamsville and Bagot streets in about thirty minutes.

When Mr. Nickle presents the company's terms in writing the matter will again be taken up by the committee.

The disputed account of $535 between the city and street railway company was not taken up. The chairman stated that there was about $300 in dispute between the city and the company. Unfortunately for the city, two good witnesses were not present in the employment of the corporation, namely, the late city engineer and Ernest Roberts. The account in question arose over the grading of King street west, where the company laid a new track. He was given to understand that the late city engineer told the company's representatives that if the laying of the track was postponed until a new sewer was being built in King street, the cost of grading to the company would not be so great. This advice had been followed out. At the time the work was undertaken the company had deposited $300 with the city as a guarantee.

It was shown that the city solicitor had deducted $235 from the account, and the company had admitted $108, leaving a difference of $127 standing in dispute between the city and the company.

After a short debate, it was decided that before settlement, a report asked for from the city solicitor by the master in disputed damages for broken arm received reason of falling on a slippery sidewalk, was refused by the city solicitor.

The city engineer, chairman Leod and Ald. McFarlane will refer to the advisability of opening a street to Stephen street. Also to repairs needed to Barrie street.

Tenders were opened for supply but contracts were not awarded. Competition between the tenderers was very keen.
