BICYCLISTS AT DINNER.

BANQUET LAST NIGHT AT GRAND UNION HOTEL.

A Jolly Time Spent by The Guests—The Different Toasts Proposed and Honored—A Well Managed Affair.

The first annual banquet of the Kingston bicycle club hockey team, held last evening at the Grand Union hotel, will long be remembered by those who had the pleasure of being present as one of the happiest events of their life.

The dining hall was tastefully decorated with red and blue, the bicycle club colors; host Devlin had gone to considerable trouble to make the room look bright and cheerful, and succeeded admirably.

In the absence of the club's president, R. J. Wilson, now living in Oshawa, F. J. Hoag, a past president, presided, and he made a capable and most successful presiding officer.

On his right were seated Edw. J. H. Pense, M.P.P., and J. C. Hamer, while supporting him on his left were mayor Shaw, J. T. Sutherland, of the Frontenacs, and E. C. Dean, of the Ramblers.

A couple of hours were given up to a thorough discussion of the well-arranged menu, after which chairman Hoag proposed the first toast, "The King," which was received with the national anthem.

"The Parliament of Canada" was next proposed by chairman Hoag, to which Edw. J. B. Pense responded and did full justice to.

"The Mayor and Corporation" was proposed by E. C. Hamer, mayor Shaw responding. Earl Ashley proposed "The O.H.A." J. T. Sutherland replying, "The Q.D.H.L." was proposed by W. Bearance, captain of the Ramblers, responses being made by J. C. Hamer, manager of the Ramblers, and E. H. Bell, manager of the Bicyclists.

James Laird paid tribute to "The Ramblers," to which E. C. Dean, W. Bearance and J. C. Hamer, made reply. To chairman Hoag fell the honor of proposing "The Kingston Bicycle Club," to which Sidney Smith made an appropriate reply.

Mr. Pense took the liberty of proposing a toast not included in the programme and offered that of the health of chairman Hoag, to which that gentleman made response.

"The Ladies" were done full honor and justice by James Devlin, and which he left unsaid W. Tait and E. Koen filled in.

Chairman Hoag proposed the toast to "The Host and Hostess," to which James Devlin made an appropriate reply.

During the evening songs were contributed by Joseph Brennan, J. Cousins and E. Koen, the banqueters enjoying the sweet singing.

At a couple of hours the assemblage broke up, after singing the national anthem.

The banquet was well arranged and carried out and reflected credit upon those at the head of affairs.

It was a pleasant gathering and all present carried away pleasant recollections of the successful affair.

When the bicyclists undertake to do anything it is always well done.

Two Fine Specimens

Of Physical Manhood.

No form of athletic exertion demands such perfect physical condition as prize fighting. Every muscle in the body must be fully developed and supple, and the heart, lungs and stomach must act in perfection.

James J. Jeffries, the present champion heavyweight of the world, and his gallant opponent, Tom Sharkey, in the greatest pugilistic encounter that has ever taken place, both pursued most strenuous courses of training, and the first and most important part of this training was to get the stomach in condition, so to keep the digestion absolutely perfect, so that every muscle and nerve would be at its highest capabilities.

This was not done by a secret patent medicine, but both of these great pugilists used a well-known natural digestive tablet, sold by druggists under name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and composed of the effective ferment which every stomach requires for healthy digestion.

Champion Jeffries says: "Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets prevent acidity, strengthen the stomach and insure perfect digestion. They keep a man in the physical condition." Signed, James J. Jeffries, champion of the world.

The gallant fighter, Sharkey, says: "Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets remove all discomfort after eating. They rest the stomach and restore it to a healthy condition. I heartily recommend them." Signed, Thomas J. Sharkey.

The advantages of the daily use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is that they keep people well and ward off sickness and are equally valuable to well persons as to the dyspeptic. Another advantage is that these tablets contain no salarines or poisons of any character, but simply digestive ferments which are found in every healthy stomach, and whose digestion is imperfect it is because the stomach lacks some of these elements and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets supply it.

They are not about cathartics, but a perfectly safe and efficient digestive and the demand for them is greater than the sale of all other so-called dyspepsia cures combined. No remedy could possibly reach such a place in public esteem except as a result of positive merit.

Full-sized packages are sold by all druggists at 50 cents, and the best habit you can possibly form is to take a Stuart's Tablet after each meal. They make weak stomachs strong and keep strong stomachs vigorous.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

The Origin of The Names of Places in Canada. At the historical society meeting last evening, James McArthur read a paper on the origin of the names of Canadian cities, towns and counties.

The names of places, he said, were not of arbitrary fixture, but demanded careful historical consideration. Mr. McArthur dealt principally with places in Ontario, whose names he showed to be derived from places in the old country, from great statesmen, etc. The paper was of great interest to students of history, and showed most careful research and a wide knowledge of affairs.

Rev. Prof. Ferguson said it was lamentable that so many insignificant places in the United States should be named after ancient sacred places, such as Corinth. It was really desecration. Canada had a few of such cases. The speaker expressed the hope that in this country the old Indian names would be retained. It was only in this way that we could trace out the tribal locations of the Indians.

Dean Smith also spoke about the alleged names given to small hamlets and villages. He instanced Athens as an example. It was ridiculous, he said, to give that name to the village which bears it. Fortunately, there were not many cases in Canada of this kind.

The society tendered a vote of thanks to Mr. McArthur for his interesting paper. A resolution was passed, expressing sympathy with United States consul Twitchell and Mr. George in their recent bereavements.

The next paper to be read before the society, will be "Landmarks of Kingston" by Mr. George, one of the city's oldest residents. His paper will be of great interest.

Food for Athletes

Rebuilds Brain and Muscle.

A young athlete, commenting on the need of well selected food to build up a man after over-study, says: "Two years ago I returned home from the university with my health quite run down from over-study and severe athletic training. I needed a good rest to put me right, but instead of taking it, went to work in an office with very confining duties.

"My health grew no better; I felt unfit for work and at night would lie awake several hours before sleep would come. The appetite was gone entirely. One morning a new dish appeared on the table, Grape-Nuts with cream. We all thought it an excellent food, and I not only enjoyed breakfast that day, but dinner and supper as well.

"This rather surprised me. Since that I have made the food a regular article of diet. I keep a box on hand at the office and often lunch on Grape-Nuts and cream instead of going home to dinner.

"Although it was in the summer when I started the use of the food, it was not long before I had gained fifteen pounds, and I know it is from the use of this food that I can stand so well the indoor work. My health is now perfect; sleep sound and enjoy my meals, but I find I do not need to eat so much volume of other food while eating Grape-Nuts.

"A short time ago I thought Grape-Nuts were commencing to disagree with me, but found it was because I was eating more than you recommend. I simply ate too much at a time and more than the system required. When I returned to the regular 'feed' of four heaping teaspoons, the old zest for the food returned."

This young man is a member of quite a famous family. He requests that his name be omitted, but the same can be furnished by application to the Postum Cereal Co., Limited, Battle Creek, Mich.

BODY AND BRAINS.

Wizened little bodies and big brains or big strong bodies and no brains—neither one of these makes a good combination.

To produce big healthy bodies and big healthy brains take Scott's Emulsion.
