Made a Fine Job. Canadian News. Andrew Halse, one of the finest artistic painters in Canada, has just completed two large artistic signs, 9x3 feet, for the steamer Islander and to be placed on the paddle boxes on each side. Eagles with outstretched wings are fully drawn out and portrayed with a neatness of style and finish that has indeed been very seldom seen in Kingston. Folger Bros. are delighted with the work and have engaged Mr. McGuire to paint the large work on the steamer St. Lawrence. His work was viewed by a large number of citizens who were led in their praise of the artistic ability of the artist.

Funeral of Late Ernest Nevins Held To-day. The funeral of the late W. Ernest Nevins took place at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon from the residence of his father, William Nevins, Cataract street, to Cataract cemetery. The obsequies were under the direction of the Masonic order, of which the deceased young man was a member. The rich and profuse floral offerings spoke eloquently of the regard in which he was held by his many friends and associates, and they were a kind of tribute to the many noble qualities that marked the life of him whose casket they almost hid from view with their rich luxuriance. Among the floral offerings were: A pillow of lilies, with these words in the center: "Fellow employees of the K. L. H. & P. Co." on flowers, W. J. Paul; wreath, Mrs. H. Squire; Sunday school class, Queen street Methodist church; the square and compass, worked in flowers, a beautiful design from Susan, No. 5, and Salem, No. 268, A. F. & A. M., Brockville; floral heart, Fred Simons; cut flowers, Mrs. Oatley, Montreal, (a sister), Miss Carrington, city and the Misses Valeria Patterson and Lillian Hall, Brockville; floral tribute from Ancient St. John's, A. Snider, Rochester, formerly a resident of Napanee and Wellington, and prominent in musical circles in the flower city, will be pleased to know of her success as a teacher, and the hearty congratulations extended to her through the press on her popular series of recitals. Mrs. Snider is related to some of the leading families in this vicinity. Her portrait presented in the Utica Globe is a good likeness and is recognized by many of her friends here.

He is father of R. J. Vair, of Glenburnie. The venerable gentleman is highly thought of by many friends in the city, who hope to see him enjoy many more natal days.

Work Is Suspended. Napanee News. Although John Milligan got a numerously signed petition in favor of obtaining a tavern license for the old Tichborne house corner, when properly fitted up, he was notified by the licensing commissioners that no license can be granted, as the present number of the license law will allow, considering the present population of Napanee. He has, therefore, suspended work in rebuilding. When he may yet decide to do with the building and premises remains to be seen.

ROASTS COGNATE CHURCHES

THEY ARE DOING NOTHING TO HELP SAVE SINNERS. Work Among Millionaires—There Are Many of the Crocodiles. He Says, Who Need to be Converted. New York, April 11.—Warner Van Norden, president of the bank of North America, whose two daughters deserted the circles of the 400 to become Salvation army lassies, appeals to the churches to save the souls of the millionaires. He chided modern preachers at a meeting of the Presbyterian union, and he is quoted in the same strain in an afternoon paper. He is reported as saying: "Whoever has heard of a sinner being converted in one of our big churches? I mean a real sinner, some big millionaire, pure-blooded and hard-hearted, or some crime-tainted, hardened criminal. Not one of you. What we ought to strive for is to convert the millionaires and take them out of their wretched, selfish lives, and the women, those foolish butter-fies, who are wasting their lives. We speak of sin in the abstract, and Russell Sage smiles and rubs his hands and says 'That's right.' "It has become nothing less than a scandal that so many millionaires leave their work for three or four months of the year. There are many of the rich larks who take a vacation from church activities not merely for three months, but for the whole year. If poor people come to a fashionable church, among wealthy persons, they are made to feel uncomfortable, and so they stay away. The all-important question confronting the Presbyterian church. The problem is to find a way to cure the rich of their coldness and indifference.

A VENERABLE GENTLEMAN

Has Just Celebrated His Ninetieth Birthday. Napanee, April 11.—Mrs. Allan Pringle, John street, took dinner with her father, James M. Leach, Selby, on Monday, 7th, to celebrate his ninetieth birthday. Although at this advanced age Mr. Leach is still remarkably active, and drives to town quite regularly. He is an erect and stately as many a man of seventy-five and, with the exception of his hearing, he is bright and wonderfully well preserved for a man of his age. Mr. and Mrs. Iga Pringle arrived home this week after an absence of two months spent with their children. The summer and early part of the winter was spent with their daughter, Mrs. F. A. Thompson, in Melita, Manitoba, and the past three months with their sons, Fred and Herbert, in Chicago. It is needless to say they thoroughly enjoyed every day of their stay, yet were pleased to be back again to the home and amongst old friends who are pleased to welcome them.

A jury was empanelled to look into the death of Everett Wagar, killed on Monday afternoon, while engaged raising William Ferguson's frame house, South Napanee. The jury, after viewing the body and the scene of the accident adjourned until Saturday, when it will be made known whether they think there was carelessness or not in the untimely death of young Wagar. Wednesday was a day of wind and rain. The whole day long the rain came down, and the wind howled a perfect hurricane. The sun did not make his appearance all day, but yesterday the air was so fresh and invigorating that we enjoyed the day all the more after the preceding day's gloom. The ladies of St. Mary Magdalene's church held a very successful bazaar in the town hall yesterday afternoon and in the evening a concert and tea was conducted. The affair was most enjoyable, and very successful financially.

On Tuesday night, W. J. McKim, who expects to leave next week for the coast, was banqueting in the L.O.O.F. lodge, No. 86, and presented with an address. Mr. McKim was quite taken by surprise, but managed to make a suitable reply, expressing his regret at having to sever his relations with the people of Napanee, which has been his home for so many years. Two new mail boxes have been put in, one at Grand corner, the other at Huffman's corner. The old boxes have been removed and new up-to-date boxes take their place. An quite a convenience they are to the public, who would otherwise have to go to the post office with their letters.
