Paine's Celery Compound THE Great Spring Medicine.

While It Drives Out The Seeds of Deadly Diseases It Quickly Builds Up Flesh and Muscle.

A Marvelous Restoration Vouched For by a Promi- nent Clergyman.

THE CURED MAN SAYS:
"I Feel Like a New Man, Which Condition I owe to the Blessing of God and Paine's Celery Compound."

Thousands of families to-day mourn the loss of near and dear ones who, when sickness first came upon them, were forced to use other medicines instead of the great disease banisher, Paine's Celery Compound.

We earnestly appeal to the relatives and friends of every suffering man or woman to break away from the bondage of medical etiquette and dietation, in order that the suffering ones may have a surer and happier hope of a new life.

The one remedy known for the benefit that can bring vigor, strength and permanent health to the weak, ruddy, rheumatic, neuralgic, dyspeptic and those burdened with kidney and liver troubles, blood diseases and disorders of the digestive organs, is Dr. Paine's great medical preparation, Paine's Celery Compound.

The following letter from Daniel Lawrence, N.E., surely inspire every suffering man or woman with fresh courage and hope.
Mr. Daniels' cure is vouched for by Roy C. M. Taylor, a prominent clergyman of the Methodist church.

"I feel constrained for the benefit of suffering humanity, to add my testimony to the wonderful effects of your Paine's Celery Compound. I was induced to try your Compound through its wonderful effects upon Mr. M.
Paine. I had previously used a vast quantity of patent and doctors' medicines, only to find myself growing weaker. After using your Paine's Celery Compound in the number of five bottles, I gained forty-three pounds, and I am able to work hard all day as a man, with comfort to myself.
I feel like a new man, which condition I owe to the blessing of God and your

THE NURSES GRADUATION.

CEREMONY IN CONVOCATION HALL LAST NIGHT.

Fourteen Diplomas Awarded—Prof. Marshall's Remarks—The Graduates Addressed by Rev.
Prof. McComb.

Every seat in convocation hall at Queen's university was filled last night by friends of the Kingston general hospital, who had come to see the graduating exercises of the nurses in training. Prof. Marshall, chairman of the board of governors, occupied the chair, and called upon the venerable archdeacon Carey to open the exercises with prayer. Amongst those on the platform were Mr. and Mrs. H.
A. Calvin, Mrs. Morgan Shaw, Miss Ina Shaw, Rev. John Mackie and Mrs. Mackie, Dr. and Mrs. Anglin, Dr. and Mrs. Herald, Miss Herald, Miss Melver, Mr. and Mrs. W. B.
Skinner, Miss Strange, Miss Nichol, Miss Francis, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Laird, Dr. and Mrs. Hair, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Shaw, Dr. Kilborn, Mrs. Marshall, Rev. and Mrs. Carey, Dr. Wood, Miss Flaws, Rev. Dr. Philip, Rev. Prof. Mc-Comb, W. H. Nickie, D. M. McIntyre, G. Y. Chown.

The platform and walls were draped with red and white, the hospital colors, the front of the platform was banked up to the level of seats reserved for them at the front of the hall, and when they had taken their places they formed a very bright, attractive-looking company, in their white and red uniforms. Eleven of the nurses wore black bands around their white caps, the distinction that marks the graduating class, but the actual number of graduates this year is fourteen, although but eleven were present to claim their diplomas. Good reasons were given by Prof. Marshall for the absence of three, viz.: Miss Chalmers is nursing a case in California and could not conveniently return for her diploma; Miss Chown, as she used to be known, but who now prefers to be known as Mistress Ingham, has been married and cannot leave her husband; and Miss Rowden is in Petersborough nursing her mother, who is ill.

Prof. Marshall's address was full of interesting points. He said he was not going to treat his audience with sugared water, because everyone knows that pure water is much more healthy. He was not going to say the Kingston school for nurses had no equal in the civilized world, nor yet in Canada, nor even in Ontario.
There were many things our school had yet to learn, but he could truthfully say that there was a marked improvement and that the lady in-superintendent had good reason to be proud of the classes she was turning out. He was glad to see the graduating exercises held in convocation hall and expressed a hope that the training school for nurses might soon be affiliated with Queen's university.
It was not so many years ago convocation hall would have been too large a place for the friends who gathered together to see the nurses graduate. The operating room at the hospital used to be large enough to accommodate the guests, but the classes have grown larger and the friends of the hospital have increased, and for three years the exercises have been held at convocation hall.
One hundred and seven nurses have graduated from the hospital and they form the nurses alumnae who are interesting themselves in the much-needed home for nurses. Prof. Marshall mentioned the names of the alumnae and their addresses. Ten thousand dollars from one man or one family would build the home, and what a monument such a building would be to any name—its value far exceeding the most costly monument.

Dr. Wood also spoke strongly in favor of the nurses' home. He drew a vivid word picture of the cabined, cribbed, confined quarters to which the nurses are now consigned, spoke of their twelve hours of willing, cheerful service, at the beck and call of patients from seven in the morning till seven at night. No union duty has they are compelled to breathe. He ended by saying emphatically "We must have a nurses' home."

Prof. McComb addressed the graduating class and for half an hour held the audience in breathless attention.
He opened his address by saying that part of the time by his amusing remarks, but when he referred to the small boy listening for the tone of the doctor's voice when a dear one was ill, the audience died away.
Prof. McComb told a pathetic story of a mother who had lost a child, as well as an amusing one.
The following remarks were made by Mrs. Marshall and Mrs. McComb.
Mrs. Marshall said, "The nurse is the backbone of the hospital. She is the one who carries the burden of the suffering. She is the one who is always ready to sacrifice. She is the one who is always there for the patient. She is the one who is always there for the doctor. She is the one who is always there for the
