Nervous Dyspepsia

Can Never be Cured by Mere Temporary Aids to Digestion—The Nerves Must be Restored and Filled With Vitalizing Nerve Force.

You know that certain drugs, such as pepsin and bismuth, bring about artificial digestion, and if you have dyspepsia or indigestion it is possible that, like hosts of others, you have taken these into the stomach hoping that they will take the place of gastric juice and other digestive fluids, digest the food and by resting the stomach effect a cure.

Did you ever hear of a bodily organ being strengthened by inactivity? It is to the organ that is exercised that the new, rich blood is conveyed in order to restore the tissues wasted by the functions of that organ, and so the stomach that is given rest does not get stronger, but the gastric juice gradually ceases to flow and you are finally compelled to resort to the continual use of artificial digestants.

Instead of the temporary aids you seek permanent cure you must treat the nerves, because, as you will understand by a study of the accompanying cut, it is the nerves that control the glands of the stomach; and only when the supply of nerve force is liberal is digestion rightly performed and the body properly nourished.

DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD

Is no experiment. We recommend it for nervous dyspepsia, because it has actually cured this ailment in scores and hundreds of cases. Here are some earnest letters from people you may know. Ask them what they think of this great food cure:

INDIGESTION. Mrs. S. L. Hipson, school teacher, 136 Division St., Kingston, Ont., states: "For some time I have been troubled with indigestion and nervous dyspepsia accompanied with very severe attacks of headache. I procured a box of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and can say that I am more than pleased with the results accomplished by this remedy. It is now some time since I have had a headache at all and my digestion has gradually become normal. I can fully recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as an excellent medicine."

DYSPEPSIA. Mrs. John Liston, 43 Ordnance street, Kingston, Ont., states: "I have been troubled a great deal with indigestion and nervous dyspepsia and subject to severe attacks of headache. Hearing Dr. Chase's Nerve Food highly recommended I began a treatment with this remedy. I can say now that my nerves are stronger, the headaches gone and my digestion very much improved. I can speak very highly of this medicine for the above ailments because it has proven wonderfully beneficial in my case."

INDIGESTION. Mrs. Thomas Hall, 3 Sixth street, Kingston, Ont., and whose husband is employed in the Locomotive Works, states: "I have suffered a great deal with dyspepsia. These spells came on me quite frequently, and I think the trouble arose from indigestion. After a course of treatment with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I have been entirely free from this distressing symptom and I feel better and stronger than I have for years. I can heartily recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as it has undoubtedly been a great boon to me."

This treatment will prove equally effective in your case, because it actually contains the most powerful restoratives known to the medical profession. It cures by building up the system and instilling new vital nerve force into the wasted and depleted nerve cells. 50 cents a box; 6 boxes for $2.50; at all dealers, or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Late D. H. Murray. D. H. Murray, superintendent of the orchards of the Grosville Citrus Association, who died in his home at Thermo, California, had been ill for a long time. His ailment was cancer of the stomach, and while every effort was made to check the disease it was without avail. Last summer he made a trip to Scotland, hoping the sea voyage would prove beneficial. At that time the seriousness of his trouble was not known and he was treated for malaria and ordinary stomach weakness. After his return the true disease was discovered and from that time the case was considered practically hopeless. Already weakened he declined rapidly.

A Good Thing. German Syrup is the special prescription of Dr. A. Boecher, a celebrated German physician, and is acknowledged to be one of the most fortunate discoveries in medicine. It quickly cures coughs, colds and all lung troubles of the severest nature, removing, as it does, the cause of the affection and leaving the parts in a strong and healthy condition. It is not an experimental medicine, but has stood the test of years, giving satisfaction in every case, which its rapidly increasing sale every season confirms. Two million bottles sold annually. Boecher's German Syrup was introduced in the United States in 1898, and is now sold in every town and village in the civilized world. Three doses will relieve any ordinary cough. Price 75c. For sale at Wad's drug store.

Colonial Troops At Coronation. London, April 21.—Colonial troops to the number of 2,500 will visit London for the coronation, including Australia, Canadian, Cypriot, Greek, Malaya, Maltese, and South African. Their accommodation is a matter of some concern to the authorities, as the barracks in London are insufficient for the number of home troops who will be drafted into the metropolitan. Negotiations have been entered into with the idea of utilizing the grounds of the Alexandra Palace, at Wood Hill as a camping ground.
