SUTHERLAND AND METCALFE

SEND TIDINGS FROM THE SEAT OF WAR.

Reference to the Famous Drive Which Terminated at Hart River—"Colt" Metcalfe Making $2,000 a Year And Will Remain.

The following letter from Trooper Sutherland is made up of extracts from four letters received by members of his family and friends. They bear different dates and at different places. The conditions under which the writing was done is peculiar. In one case a stair rail served as a writing desk. Another letter was written in what he describes thus: "I am writing this in the front of a first class compartment, the government gives the South African Canadian soldier, viz. the front end of a first car, so you can see by the writing that I did not have a fountain pen, and a roll top desk."

Trooper Sutherland again refers in glowing terms to the quality of the South African fruit. In the arrival of the Mandatara at Durban the natives brought fruit out to the ship. The soldiers lowered the money in pairs, and hauled up the fruit. The following is the text of the letter dated:

"Klerksdorp, March 19, 1902—Dear Jack, Myself and two comrades, Jones and Irish, each money order for £4 for three pairs of boots as per instructions on accompanying slip, and 'them' in care of Lieut. E. F. Clarkson, 'B' Squadron, 2nd Troop, 2nd C.M.R. We are now in camp three miles from the above town and expect to move to-morrow to join Kitchener's big drive of seventy-five miles with seventy thousand troops. If this move proves a success the war will be about over as there are only about 15,000 Boers in the field."

"I am writing this in a bungalow made up of three blankets together, the frame work being three rifles arranged on the pile arms principle, to give the structure some solidity it is nailed to the earth with three butcher-knife looking bayonets. Wouldn't our happy home be quickly broken up in case of an alarm? These would be, as seen by the 'bonnie bairn' in the song 'little duffers pulling it a-doan.'"

"We are all in excellent health. If dirt will keep out sickness we have nothing to fear for the remainder of the campaign. We are long enough in the field to have formed a companionship that sticks closer than a Boer's hand. There are times when we do not like to call a spade a spade, but reference is here made to one of Egypt's plagues. It will be seen that we are thriving on bully beef and hard tack. My arms and face are now nearly as black as a Kaffir's. I am writing this in evening dress with shirt sleeves rolled up, and a red handkerchief tied neatly around my neck."

"Save us from our friends," is an old and in a recent experience a true saying. Providence did the saving. While out scouting with a small party we were fired on from a block house at 1,500 yards. One of our men was wounded in the leg. We sought cover and gave the usual signals. When the firing ceased:

"There are 16,000 men ready to move from this place. Fully 30,000 have left this port within the last ten days, and still they are coming and getting ready to move with the big drive already mentioned. It is amusing to watch some of the natives, and to see their little covering, and others are perfectly nude. I cannot understand how they can live where it is scorching by day and freezing by night. Scouting is very trying work in this hilly country, when you have to pull your horse up the almost perpendicular fall of a hill or mountain. Camp war critics predict the war will continue for four months longer. This opinion is based on the recent achievement of the Boers. I saw Dan Ely who was in charge of an hospital conveyance. I have also seen Wil Guy, of the same department."

"If I am much longer in this country, I will forget all about lecture currency, having become accustomed to pounds, shillings, pence, Krugger's crowns and bobs. I send you a printed poem on Kruger, composed by the divisional poet who spent much of his time with the main and quarter guards. He may enter parliament when he returns to England."

"The big drive, which is referred to, is no doubt the one which terminated at Hart River, where Lieut. Carruthers and the Canadians made such a gallant name for themselves." (Editor).

From Capt. F. Metcalfe.

Yesterday's mail brought word from Capt. Fred Metcalfe, V.S., who is with "Col. B's" in the Transvaal. "Col. B's" says he has in the neighborhood of 600 horses to minister to, and it keeps him pretty busy bustling about. He has two very fine horses for his own use. Fred is getting a salary of $2,000 a year clear, and thinks he will stay out in Africa when the war closes.

Petitioning For His Release.

A petition is being circulated in the city for the release, on parole, of "Bill" Hammet, a well-known above-board, who is doing time in the Kingston penitentiary. In his palmy days Hammet was married at Donaldson's Mills. Time went on and he tired of his partner, and left her. Later he went east, and under the name of Henderson, took another helpmate. But this one only helped him to meet justice face to face. The law of this country says a man shall have his one wife, and "Bill's" disregard for the law got him into trouble. Two years ago he was sentenced to serve five years in the penitentiary for bigamy. Nearly half his time has expired, and he and his friends think that his good behavior should entitle him to release on parole. The petition is being largely signed, and Hammet may perhaps regain his liberty.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Movements of the People—What They Are Saying And Doing.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Edmund Starr, of Montreal, are the guests of D. E. Starr, Mack street.

Chief Elmer, of the fire department, is gradually regaining health, but is not yet able to return to his post of duty. He was out for a walk to-day. On Tuesday, 22nd inst., the basket containing the remains of the late Mrs. D. J. Campbell were interred in a white marble burial vault in St. John's cemetery, Bath.

Robert Montgomery, wife and son, Chicago, the guests of his parents, 11 Montgomery, Princess street, left to-day for London, Eng. They will see the coronation ceremonies. In St. Andrew's hall on Tuesday evening, a farewell will be given Dr. S. O. Eshoo, the Persian who graduated a few weeks ago from Queen's medical college. Dr. Eshoo leaves shortly for his native land.

Received Glasgow Diploma.

A. W. Chisholm, the well-known Kingston mine owner, to-day received a diploma for his admirable exhibit of the Manhattan at Durban, the Glasgow international exhibition. The diploma is a rich piece of work. Mr. Chisholm has probably done more than any other man in opening up these northern counties, and it is pleasing to know that his ventures have proved successful and that the minerals are of the richest.

The Closing Events.

The program for the closing exercises at Queen's university has been arranged. Rev. Prof. Clark, Toronto, will preach the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday next. The annual meeting of the school of mining and science lecture by Prof. Gill, on "Wireless Telegraphy," occurs Monday; students' day and unveiling of portrait of late Dr. Mowat on Tuesday; facing corner stones of engineering building and building for mineralogy, geology and physics, by Sir Stanford Fleming and Hon. R. Harcourt, addresses by Mr. Harcourt and Dr. Douglas, and convocation on Wednesday.

Consider It Unfair.

Since April 1st, the employees of carpenter-contractors have been quitting work on Saturday afternoons at four o'clock, an hour earlier than on other days, and receiving nine hours' pay. This was the result of a former meeting of the carpenters' union. The contractor says that the men should be asked to give nine hours pay for eight hours work, and will ask the union to adjust the matter, by requiring only eight hours pay to be given on Saturdays.

Nurse's Good Words.

"I am a professional nurse," writes Mrs. Elmer, Halifax, N.S. "I was a great sufferer from rheumatism—almost constant association with best physicians. I had every chance of a cure if I were in their power—but they failed. South American Rheumatic Cure was recommended to-day my six years of pain seem as a dream. Two bottles cured me. Major Merritt's Injuries.

A letter written by Lieut. Bruce Carruthers from Kitchener's Kop, on March 29, describes the injury which Maj. Merritt received as being very slight. The major collided with a male train and fractured some of the small bones in his foot. At the time of writing Lieut. Carruthers said he hoped to see him all right in a day or two.

MARINE NOTES.

Getting Ready For Opening Of Navigation.

The steamer Alexandria will make her first trip down on Monday. The tug Alert cleared for Cape Vincent after receiving repairs in Davis' Richardson's elevator; Steamship Club from Wellington; sloop Minnie from Wolfe Island.

M. T. company's elevator; S.S. Bandstand with concrete bridge; and Selkirk repaired for Fort William.

The schooner Dawn arrived here to-day, and was towed by the steamer Harcourt to Davis' dry-dock where repairs will be made.

Schooner Sprang Aboard.

The schooner Eliza White, Fairhaven to Kingston, with coal for the Rathbun company, was caught in Wednesday's gale, and had to run down the United States channel, and come up the river. Yesterday it was discovered that she was in danger. The Capt. Hagan was forced to run his vessel ashore at Braky's bay, twelve miles from the city.

The 53rd Anniversary.

The eighty-third anniversary of the independence of the independent order of Oddfellows will be celebrated Saturday. The order was organized April 26th, 1819, in Baltimore, Md. Thomas Wilkey being its founder. The first lodge was Washington Lodge, No. 1, of Baltimore. Mr. Wilkey and four others were the first members of this lodge. Mr. Wilkey was afterward grand sire of the order, being the chief executive officer of this order throughout the world. Since the founding of the order, 2,440,194 members have been initiated into its mysteries. During this period of time it has expended for relief of the sick and distressed, burial of the dead, and the obsequies of orphans, a sum aggregating $88,552,040. The present membership is about 1,250,000, and the order annually expends about $1,000,000 for the relief of its members. There are about 2,000 lodges, 600 new lodges having been established during the present year. This order has a great future before it in the twentieth century.

SPORT IN GENERAL.

Notes About the Various Sporting Fields.

English purses are too small to attract American pugilists. Pittsburgh still leads the National baseball league with five straight wins.

Almonte has re-organized its tennis club, and will enter a league with other Ottawa valley clubs. It does not look as though Canada's national summer game, lacrosse, would ever die out. Already ninety teams are entered in the big leagues.

Everything looks good for the Argonauts' hockey trip as the amount of finances the crew has been nearly all subscribed. The crew is practicing steadily.

Toronto Mail-Enterprise: England offers a refuge for the football players recently professionalized by the O.F.E.U., that is, if they can play the association game, which at its inception was the amateur's game, but his services are no longer required.

Beautiful Drayman, the three-year-old filly of the Scotch stable, candidate for the king's plate, broke a leg at the Woodbine track on Thursday and had to be killed. She was a half sister to John Hoskin, last year's champion.

It seems almost certain that "Chauncer" Elliott will be a fixture on the Toronto team. He has shown up remarkably well behind the plate and at the bat. The only point where he was a little off color was in his low throw to second, but a little practice will easily remedy that. The best catchers in the big leagues are not always perfect in base throwing.

Lacrosse Again Revived.

A meeting of those interested in lacrosse was held in the Whig hall last evening. D. F. Armstrong presided, and there was a good attendance. A number of the old time handlers of the stick being present. It was decided to send away for a catalogue of sticks and other requisites, and to get them in shape for Victoria day, May 24th. A general meeting to which all lovers of Canada's national game are invited, will be held on Monday evening next, when officers will be elected and other important business done. Brockville, Gananoque, Tweed and other towns will be communicators with in the hope of forming a league.

TO DETECT POISONS.

The Body Tries To Sweat Them Out.

At a convention of medical men in St. Louis the effects of coffee drinking were carefully considered. It was unanimously agreed that while coffee does not seem to injure some persons, to others it is a rank poison. The effect on different persons is, of course, very different. In some the heart is affected, in others the kidneys, again the stomach or bowels, or the eyes, and in nervous cases the prostration is spread over the whole body.

As an illustration, a man in Hinton, W. Va., experienced well defined symptoms of poisoning from coffee. He says: "I used coffee a great many years with no apparent ill effects, but about nine years ago I began being sick. I became dull, lost my ambition, had dizziness, my eyesight was very bad and kept getting worse and at times I could hardly navigate at all. I felt I was going to fall every minute, and finally became so bad I would have to sit down and rest three or four times in a distance of two or three hundred rods. I went from one physician to another and faithfully took their prescriptions but the case was so complex that they could not successfully diagnose it. I finally went to New York City to the Vanderbilt clinic for treatment. There my case was diagnosed as neurasthenia. Every morning about nine, I would have a kind of spasm. The perspiration would break out all over the palms of my hands, and my hair would be stringing wet, every nerve in the body would be affected, and my heart would jump and beat at a fearful rate. This condition would generally last for about two hours. What I suffered no one can understand."

It finally came to me that those terrible sweats and spasms were just the same as in cases where people are poisoned and nature tries to drive off the poison through the pores. So I concluded that something I was taking must act like a poison and I decided it was coffee. I left it off one morning and had a hearty breakfast all day, a sure sign that I was being held up by a drug, so that evening I bought some Postum and the next morning had it for breakfast in place of coffee. I was surprised for I could hardly tell it from coffee. That day I was only a little sick about the usual time, and from the next day until now, something over thirteen months, I have never felt even the remotest return of the spasms. That is, I am steadily getting stronger, my weight has increased from 130 pounds to 147 pounds and I am a well man. The seven years of suffering from coffee poisoning will always remain with me as a horrible, night-mare, but I am now in Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

BOARD OF WORKS MEETS

CONTRACTS AWARDED FOR WALKS AND CROSSINGS.

Silas Grimshaw Was the Successful Tenderer—Claims For Damages Referred to the City Solicitor For His Opinion—Accounts Passed.

"Let's proceed to business," said chairman McLeod at yesterday afternoon's meeting of the civic board of works.

"There is not a quorum, Mr. Chairman," Ald. Craig pointed out. Mr. Walker was present, but Ald. McFarlane, McCannan and Dunlop were absent from their places.

"Well, we can put in a minority report," suggested the chairman. Then the committee proceeded to business. The customary hand of accounts was considered and passed. The pay roll amounted to $929.56.

At this juncture Ald. McFarlane joined the happy circle, of which Ald. Craig is the only liberal member. The city engineer reported on a complaint from the board of health of the refuse dumped into the harbor at the foot of Queen street. It was the gas works sewer, which dumped the tar and oil into the slip. The city solicitor will be asked to tell the city what means can be taken to prevent the nuisance.

Some time ago Charles Atwood put in a claim for damages to his property on Victoria street, caused by the street drains. The city solicitor asked to report on the matter, stated that the land had sustained a damage, suggested a cash settlement, and advised the damage be appraised. Accordingly, the chairman of the ward and the engineer will look into the matter and report at the next meeting.

A similar claim of $78 for flooding was made by Thomas Mills, banker, relative to his property on Alfred street. The solicitor will look into the matter.

At this juncture Ald. McCannan made his appearance on the scene. A few minutes before Ald. Harkness had come in.

Lucrinda M. Gildersleeve's application, asking the city to adopt, as a common sewer, a sewer on Sydenham street between Princess and Queen streets, and for permission to enter the same, was taken up.

In connection with this, Thomas Mills, latter, wrote, objecting to such a course. He and Mr. Kent had built the sewer, without any help from the city, and he would demand it as private property. The city solicitor will also be asked to report on this question.

The petition of James McCullagh and others, asking for a parcel post box at the corner of Montreal and Bay streets, was endorsed and forwarded to the post office inspector.

Ivo Cobet's request for twenty-four planks to make a walk at the rear of his property on Alfred street, was referred to the engineer and the chairman of the ward.

The tenders for walks and street crossings were then opened. Only two men tendered for this work, viz. C. Keller and Silas Grimshaw. The former's tender for crossings was not accompanied by the necessary $50 cheque, and so could not be considered. His prices, anyway, were much higher than Mr. Grimshaw's. The latter was accordingly awarded the contract.

The tenders for the walks showed a difference in cost of about $5, in favor of Mr. Grimshaw, and he was therefore awarded the contract. The prices are considerably in advance of last year's, lumber and labor having "gone up."

The drivers of the watering carts will be asked to keep them under cover on Sundays and other occasions on which they are not used. This protection is necessary for the welfare of the carts.

THE CITY SHAMBLES

Must Be Repaired Or Torn Down—Which Will It Be?

The city shambles at the south side of the north wing of the city buildings are in a dilapidated condition. The roof is full of holes and the supports are weak. The engineer suggests that the property committee either repair the structure or remove it altogether. The committee has looked at the shambles over, but has not arrived at a decision. There was some talk of replacing them by a grass plot, but some one suggested that people attending the market would trample all over the spot.

The Whig suggested a few days ago that these unsightly shambles, which have outlived their usefulness (not their beauty, because there was none of that to lose), should be removed and their places given up to the growing of grass, vines and flowers. It is to be sincerely desired that, instead of throwing money away to repair them, the committee should tear them down. The aldermen should have an eye for the beautiful, and certainly they have. They desire to see Kingston made one of the most beautiful of cities, as she could easily be. Here is an opportunity for them to act. Will they do so? If the spot were filled in with certain and planted with flowers and clinging vines that would hide the dead walls behind, they would not be destroyed. Few people will destroy flowers, no matter how destructive they are in other matters. The police surely could keep an eye on their own door-yard.

There is a chance now for the city, at a small expense, to make an ugly spot appear beautiful, not alone to the citizens, but to the hundreds of summer visitors who will soon be here. It will be a pity, indeed, if the opportunity is not taken advantage of.
