A Lady Who Cures Her Husband of His Drinking Habits Writes of Her Struggle to Save Her Home.

A PATHETIC LETTER.

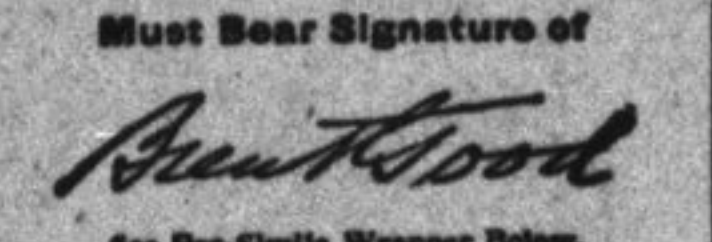

"I had for a long time been thinking of trying the Tasteless Samaritan Prescription on my husband for his drinking habits, but I was afraid he would discover that I was giving him medicine, and the thought unnerved me. I hesitated for nearly a week, but one day when he came home very much intoxicated and his work nearly all spent, I threw off all fear and determined to make an effort to save our home from the ruin I saw coming at us."

ASSETS OF ONTARIO.

J. W. Johnson, of Belleville, one of the principals of the business college there, is helping Mr. Whitney in this campaign, and he has been labouring to show that Ontario has not a cash surplus of over two millions. He anticipates the falling due of all the railway annuities, which have been issued by the province, charges them up against the cash surplus, and so, of course, practically wipes it out.

MR. WHITNEY WOOL GATHERING.

The Intelligencer has been good enough to undertake an explanation of Mr. Whitney's educational policy.

The Intelligencer answers that Mr. Whitney going to abolish the school book-keeping. How? What is he going to do? Have the school books written by government experts, published by the government press, and issued as nearly as may be at cost? He has not said so. He has not put himself on record to this effect by any resolution in the legislature, and that is where he should get in his work.

Then we are told the three R's will be made the feature of the public school cause. It is made that now. How far Mr. Whitney would change the curriculum he does not know.

Finally, it is said by the Intelligencer, that Mr. Whitney desires to put education "under the control of a board of competent and reliable men."

The opposition is going to pieces in the province. It is passing out of sight.

The Ross government is growing in public favor. Its success at the polls, all over Ontario, is now very apparent.

Whitney is posing as a great friend of the farmers. What has he done for them? Can he point to any act or motion which was advanced in their interest?

Ald. Sears has discovered that the waterworks committee does not want a new boiler. What are the engineer and superintendent of the department talking about, then?

The attorney-general's department has given the opinion that a woman cannot be a legal candidate for election to the Ontario legislature.

The Brantford Courier says the tory circular to election crooks was not issued by the party. Doc. Montague knew nothing about the queen's proclamation to the Indians, commanding them to vote for him.

Mr. Rowell, of Toronto, outside of Mr. Ross, has made the ablest speech of the campaign, and in Mr. Davis's constituency. If Mr. Whitney could put as much information and fact in to an address he would have reason to expect promotion by the people.

THE COUNCIL WON'T ACT.

The conservative aldermen of the city council have no particular reason to air their inconsistencies in public, but as their organ persists in averting them the Whig can have no objection. The occasion for its new outbreak was the statement of Ald. Craig, in defence of the position which he took on the water works boiler question.

Before the meeting of the council, two weeks ago, Ald. Craig discussed the manufacture of a new boiler with a local firm. He did it in a non-political light. He was simply anxious to get the work done in Kingston and suggested that some reduction be made in the tender price.

Mark the result. Ald. Craig, and those who were in accord with him, moved that the amended tender be accepted and the contract awarded.

The conservatives, to a man, voted the motion down. It went to the water works committee for consideration.

That was two weeks ago. On Monday night Selby & Youden withdrew their tender of $1,100 for the boiler, and substituted a new one which called for $1,150.
