VICTORIA DAY WAS BRIL-LIANT-FINE GATHERING.

Visitors Were Numerous and the City Quite Gay-A Fine Farade and Events in the Fair Grounds.

A great day, a great crowd, a great success. In those few words might be summed up the result of the Victoria day celebration, observed on Monday. The weather clerk seemed to have thought it time for a change, and so he gave us a brilliant day. As of old, the people flocked into the city in thousands, and entered heartily into the spirit of the celebration. Seldom if ever, has a larged crowd been seen upon the exhibition grounds than that of Monday afternoon. The visitors were made welcome, and given the freedom of the city. Bidding Them Good-Bye.

The majority of the city's inhabit ents flocked to the wharves and railway stations last evening to bid the visitors good-bye. The foot of Brock street was filled with people, many of them glad-hearted and gay.
