Opiter per Orhem Dicar.' NORTH RENFREW RE-OPENED. The chief conservative organ thinks the law does not apply to the case of Mr. Munro, in North Renfrew, and that he cannot be now declared the member-elect. Why not ? What is prevent the returning officer to clare, at the time specified, that in the election, which took place on a certain day, the late Mr. Munro was given a certain vote and became member-elect? Having done this any two of the other members of the legislature can demand the issue of writ and a new election forthwith. The Mail affects to believe that liberal cannot be found of the peculiar stand ng and merit of Mr. Munro and so the conservatives will be to carry their candidate. When good men go the feeling, is, sometimes, that they cannot be replaced, and man of Mr. Munro's virtue may not be easily selected. But his successor is to be found somewhere in the riding and he will be a liberal. The party in will and whom they please, when they are united upon him and put into the campaign the life and vim which tharacterized their action in the late clec

ABUSE DOES NOT PAY. According to the Winnipeg Free Press, an impartial enough and independent critic, Mr. Whitney his political friends in Ontario no small measure of thanks to the chief conservative organ, the Toronto Mail and Empire, for the result of the Ontario elections.

That paper from the beginning of the campaign," says our contemporary 'poured out an unceasing stream reckless and unscrupulous slander and detractions against Mr. Ross and his colleagues. Such tactics, if encouraged and persisted in, would drive th best men out of public life; but the Canadian people are too fair-minded to encourage them. Some perverse idiosyncrasy of the Mail and Empire's prevented it from fighting with weapons of truthfulness and fairness and condemned it to go down in honourable defeat."

Bad as the Mail was, however, wa decent when compared with some other nameless papers. These did not undertake to discuss the issues of th day, and did not, therefore, undertake to reflect public opinion. They made a huge mistake in abandoning an edueational policy for a personal abusive one, and they will not repeat it if they follow the usual course

The people in the recent political campaign took no stock in personali ties and abuse, and when it was dulged in defeat and collapse lowed. The local conservative cand date will recall the warning of th Whig at the outset of the campaign He will have reason to lament that he was not able to have it respected.

A REAL GOOD DEAL. Events, which is familiar with lacts, corrects the Montreal Gazette which insinuates that the government lands, in March, while some clever gentlemen have been operating in the Crow's Nest Pass for the last three years. The Gazette has it that the government is a second choice. "The Crow's Nest coal company," says Events, "never made any selection first or second. They were in possession of these coal lands and had made a bargain with the C.P.R. and when the dominion government were asked to aid the building of the Crow's Nest Pass railway they stipulated that 50, 600 acres of these coal lands should be given to the public. Under the bargain the C.P.R. had the right the government had the right select first.
