THE 14TH REGIMENT MAY GO TO MONTREAL

For the Coronation Review-The ple Are Doing and What They Men Must Turn Out to Parades Better-Excluding All But

Ladies From Galleries. Lieut. Col. Skinner, commanding the 14th P.W.O. rifles, has received an invitation to take his regiment to Montreal to join in the Canadian military review on coronation day. The invitation will be accepted if the regiment becomes sufficiently efficient by that

So far this season the parades have been very small, and unless all ranks take a very much greater interest, in their work during the next three weeks the regiment will not go. It, therefore, behooves the 14th men to gather in strength, attend the drills punctually and regularly, and maintain the good name of the old regiment. No non-commissioned officer or man will be allowed to take part in the trip, who does not attend every parade, from now to the 26th. With such an excellent band, there is no reason why the 14th should not do as well at the coronation review in Montreal as it did at the royal demonstration in To-
