INFORMING THE PREMIER

OF RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED AT TORONTO.

The Hong Kong Contingent Arrives at Montreal—The Coast Section of the Bislew Team Comes East, Accompanied by Fourteen Bluejackets.

Montreal, June 11.—Alexander McPee, president of the Montreal board of trade, accompanied by Robert Munro, treasurer, and George Hadrill, secretary, left for Ottawa this morning to join a Toronto trade delegation, which will lay before Sir Wilfrid Laurier the resolutions adopted at the recent conference of the boards of trade held at Toronto.

The Hong Kong coronation contingent received a much warmer reception in the streets to-day. The Indian members especially attracted much attention in their picturesque headgear and khaki. They are all six-footers and look like giants beside the English members of the contingent. They will be fittingly entertained during their stay in the city by the local militia.

The coast section of the Bislew team has arrived in the city. Fourteen bluejackets and one marine, from different vessels of the Pacific coast squadron, came across with the contingent from Victoria. Eight are men whose terms of service have expired, while the others are being invalided home. They left to-day for Halifax, where they will take passage for Glasgow on the SS. Siberian.

THE CITY PROBLEM.

The Centres of Population, and How to Better Them.

A problem which vitally confronts our present day civilization is the city problem. The present tendency of population in every more fully civilized country is to flock toward the cities. And so essentially is the tendency related to the great forces which underlie our civilization that we may look for its continuance. Dr. Josiah Strong has estimated that if the rate of migration city-ward of the past quarter of a century continues, by the year 1920, the cities of the United States will absorb a majority of the population of the whole nation. What is true in the case of the United States is true of Canada and of other countries as well. The date may differ, the fact remains the same. The supreme influence which the city is destined thus to exercise in the near future, makes the elevation of the character of city life a question of national importance. This will account for the fact that those who have given their attention and energies to the solution of those problems, are claimed in a sense by the world.

High Priest Hughes, for instance, the eminent Wesleyan minister of London, Eng., has impressed himself upon the public mind, not through his brilliance only, not even mainly, nor through his ecclesiastical prominence, but because his work has so vitally touched the very fountain head of the nation's future life. Fifteen years ago, he inaugurated what has been called the Westwood mission. He has served a long and faithful apprenticeship to the art of pattern-making, in which field he has few, if any, superiors. He was a skilled machinist and engineer, and his opinions on these matters were sought from persons in Canada and the distant States. He was the inventor of many labor-saving devices, and gained a wide reputation as the inventor of the Carroll propeller wheel, now in general use on the great lakes. For sixty years, with the exception of a very short period, he was identified with the Kingston foundry, part of the time as foreman, partner, and in various positions of trust and responsibility, and he ever gave satisfaction to his employers and associates. He was a general favorite with his workmen, among whom he counted some of his warmest friends. He was ever ready to give advice, and assist his fellow-workmen on troubled points in connection with their work. He had no liking for public life, though he was a member of the public school board when the municipality built the first school house in Kingston, and he continued to serve on the board for many years, bearing the respect and good-will of his colleagues.

Of a family of six only two are left to mourn the departure of an indulgent father; they are Mrs. E. C. Hiscock, Harrie street, and James A. Carroll, Brooklyn, N.Y. The aged partner of his life's joys and vicissitudes is also a mourner at the hier of a devoted husband. In politics he was a staunch reformer and in religion a Presbyterian, an attendant at St. Andrew's church, of which he was for years an elder. The late Mr. Carroll retained the respect and good-will of all classes of citizens. He was a loyal Kingstonian, one who took a deep interest in all measures tending towards the advancement of the city. He took a keen interest in athletic sports, and his genial face was to be seen at almost every football, hockey, and baseball match played here. He was a good citizen and his departure, even at such a ripe age, will be missed.

HE MUST SWING.

Unless Executive Clemency is Soon Afforded. Ottawa, June 11.—The supreme court this morning refused the application of T. C. Robinette, Toronto, for leave to appeal from the decision of the Ontario court of appeals in the case of Rice. Rice will now have to swing unless executive clemency is shown which is highly improbable.

A Very Sudden Death.

Black River Bridge, June 9.—Farmers are all through planting. William Van Dusen has finished painting the cheese factory. Manly Dewetta, South Bay, occupied the pulpit in the church here on Sunday. Rev. R. N. Adams being absent in Napanea at conference. Mr. Dewetta delivered a very fine and instructive discourse. William Mack is ill at his home here. Mr. and Mrs. George Ackerman, South Bay, spent Sunday at E. Grimmon's. Election passed off quietly in this section. This polling sub-division gave Currie nine majority.

He Was Taken to London and Remanded. London, June 11.—Col. Col. Lynch, accompanied by his wife, was brought to London. Subsequently Col. DEATH OF ROBERT CARROLL

HE HAD PASSED THE FOUR-SCORE MILESTONE.

One of Kingston's Oldest and Most Highly Respected Citizens—A Clever Artisan and Whole-Souled Man.

Resting peacefully, as though in calm slumber, the form of Robert Carroll, Kingston's octogenarian, rests gently on the bosom of death at the home of his son-in-law, E. C. Hiscock, Harrie street. The period marking dissolution came at an early hour this morning, when the spirit of one of nature's true noblemen took flight to its eternal reward. The late Robert Carroll was born in the county of Down, near Belfast, Ireland, in 1820. He had long passed the mile stone marking the three-score and ten miles of life's journey. Six months ago he celebrated the eighty-second anniversary of his birth, and received the congratulations of his many friends upon his vigor and alertness. He enjoyed perfect health up to ten days ago, when signs of a general breaking up began to appear. The brave spirit bore up strongly, however, but was unable to overcome the final struggle, and this morning took its flight to a brighter and better world. His faculties remained clear and sharp up to almost the last moment.

Sixty years ago the late Mr. Carroll settled in Kingston, coming here direct from his native heath, where he had served a long and faithful apprenticeship to the art of pattern-making, in which field he had few, if any, superiors. He was a skilled machinist and engineer, and his opinions on these matters were sought from persons in Canada and the distant States. He was the inventor of many labor-saving devices, and gained a wide reputation as the inventor of the Carroll propeller wheel, now in general use on the great lakes. For sixty years, with the exception of a very short period, he was identified with the Kingston foundry, part of the time as foreman, partner, and in various positions of trust and responsibility, and he ever gave satisfaction to his employers and associates. The St. Lawrence terminal steamship company has been organized at Montreal with a capital of $1,000,000. The high court of Canada, Canadian Order of Foresters, is in session at Owen Sound. About 250 delegates are in attendance. Samuel W. Pennypacker, Philadelphia, is the nominee for governor of the republican state convention for Pennsylvania. Norman D. Plass, Worthington, Mass., was elected to succeed George M. Herriek as president of Washington college, Topeka, Kas. The estimated expenditure of the British government for 1902-03 will amount to $762,175,000. The south wall of the Ball building, Patterson, N.J., which remained standing after the recent fire, fell this morning, burying eight men. All were injured, and several fatally. A mob broke into the jail at Salisbury, N.C., this morning, took out two negro boys, Harris and James Gillespie, charged with murdering a white girl, and hanged them.

Premier Rose has determined to leave for England on Friday and will sail from New York on Saturday. He will not learn of the result in the Lennox appeal until he reaches the old country.

According to the Westminster Gazette, the capital of the new British-Canadian steamship combine will be $50,000,000. It will build six twenty-five-knot liners and a dozen sixteen-knot freight boats. Canada will give $1,000,000 a year subsidy and great Britain $2,000,000.
