A NEW STOCK IS BOOMED

BRISK OPERATION IN OGILVIE MILLING, PREFERRED.

But There Were Selling Orders and The Stock Went Down—Will Not Have Holidays.

Montreal, July 11.—When the stock market opened there was a brisk speculative demand for Ogilvie Milling, preferred, which resulted in a five point rise to 125 following a rise of five points yesterday. The strengthening tendency of the stock has been attracting attention for several days, resulting in an increasing number of buyers for a profit on the rise. When news of the advance became known a good number of selling orders were executed with the result that the price went down almost as rapidly as it went up and closed, at noon, at 121. The only other feature of the trading was the strength in Dominion Steel, which rose 1 1/2 to 55 1/2 on fair buying orders.

The proposition to close the stock exchange during the afternoon and on Saturdays during July and August was defeated on vote, to-day, 10-10. The board of directors will attempt, will it be said, to secure closing on Saturdays.

SAYS IT CREATES CRIME. Dillon Attacks British Administration In Ireland.

London, July 11.—The vote of the Irish yesterday furnished the nationalists with an opportunity for an attack on the British administration of Ireland and the operations of the Irish constabulary, which body of men, John Dillon (nationalist) declared, were maintained not to prevent crime, but to create it. Mr. Dillon specified instances where, he alleged, force was instrumental in obtaining the conviction and punishment of innocent persons and charged the government with winking at such practices in order to obtain justice for its policy of coercion.

T. P. O'Connor (nationalist) declared that, politically speaking, the real criminal was the attorney general for Ireland, Right Hon. J. Atkinson, because he practiced jury packing.

Sir Robert T. Reid (liberal) said he considered the action of the Irish police to be deplorable, adding that they were a discredit to the Irish executive. He further asserted that matters never would be remedied until self-government for Ireland put an end to jury packing.

This brought attorney general Atkinson to his feet with a hot retort that Sir Robert, who now professed such lofty and noble sentiments, had remained for three years a member of the administration and had indulged in jury packing to an extent unknown to the present government.

The chief secretary for Ireland, George Wyndham, admitted that there was much truth in what Mr. Dillon had said, in regard to jury packing. But the charges were not applicable to the whole police force.

After further debate Mr. Dillon's motion to reduce the estimate was defeated by 195 to 102 votes.

COMPLIED WITH JUDGMENT. And Filed All The Documents In The Case.

Quebec, July 11.—Judge Lafontaine, Montreal, the extradition commissioner of that city, who signed the warrants for Gaylor and Greene's arrest, that was followed by their sensational apprehension, has complied with the judgment rendered by Judge Caron's granting the defendant's motion for a writ of certiorari and has made his return. All the documents in the case are now in Quebec and were officially filed in court this morning when the case came up again for hearing.

Judge Caron granted the motion, made by Mr. MacMaster, that the last return of sheriff Langelier be amended so as to contain all the facts in the case. In so doing, Mr. Taschereau, one of the lawyers for the defence, filed a protest against two violent articles published lately by L'Evenement, which were injurious to the bar and some of the justices of the district of Quebec.

Hon. L. P. Pelletier, who was present, said that he was not the author of the supposed incriminating articles, but that as the manager of the paper, he was disposed to accept the responsibility of the matter.

CAN OLD TIMERS RECALL Families By The Name of Hill or McNeil?

Mayor Shaw is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. Jane Shaw (nee Hill) of No. 4205 Wentworth avenue, Chicago, asking him to look up information about her sister. The letter states that in 1854 she lived in Kingston with her parents. In that year her mother died of cholera while her father was absent sailing on the lakes. A family of five children were thus left helpless. The writer was aged two years at the time and was adopted by a family named Doran, a brother, named William, by a family named Miller and one sister by a family named McNeil or McNeil. Mr. McNeil kept a store called the "Chequer House" here. The rest of the family were adopted by other persons and soon became widely scattered. When about nine years old the writer remembers hearing people asking, with reference to her, if "that was one of the Hill children who had been there for," and recalls a fact that there was some talk of money having been left to the family, but she was too young to properly understand the conversation. Since leaving Kingston in 1854 the writer has not heard anything of her father, brothers or sisters, and she requests the mayor to kindly try and find some trace of them if possible. One sister was named Annie Hill and the other Lizzie Hill. She also asks the mayor to ascertain if there is any record in the public offices here of money having been left to the Hill family.
