PRAYERS BENEFIT DEAD. Hell Is Not a Place of Literal

Montreal, July 23 .- Rev. Mr. Steen rector of Christ church cathedral, and whose religious views recently caused such a stir in Anglican circles, is once again the subject of discussion among the Protestants of Montreal. During the course of a sermon last Sunday, Mr. Steen expressed his conviction that the souls of the departed might be benefited by the prayers of those on the earth. He also expressed his belief that the condition of those who have reached the intermediate state must be changed by contrition and repentance, and that their final state may be greatly different from their present condition in the land of

AN EFFORT MADE TO HUSH UP MATTER.

The Lot Fell to That of a Young Medical Student Who Had the Chance of Four Methods for Ending His Existence. Berlin, July 23 .- An extraordinary story of student life in Heldelberg has just come to light, in spite of the efforts to hush it up. Six students met in the room of one of them on the afternoon of July 1st to settle some matter concerning a woman by means of an American duel. A black ball fell to the owner of the room, a young medical student, nineteen years of age, the son of a high official of Carlsrube. The other five decided should take his life between six and eight o'clock the same evening, signed a sort of death certificate, and left & years under the Cape Colhim alone, with the choice of four ony government, and has methods of putting an end to himself. The "condemnea" youth decided to open his veins and bleed to death. At eight o'clock the landlord, apparently suspecting something unusual, knocked at his lodger's door, who replied that he was too weak to suicide, but I wish to prove that and to his horror the landlord found the floor covered with blood, which had flowed from the incisions which the youth had made in his arms and Two physicians were at once sent for, and while the landlord was keeping watch over the would-be suicide, one of his five comrades appeared to

The staff is apparently not large enough to cope with the work if the holiday allowance is made and the men have been asked to take their vacation in winter much to their displeasure. A fact worth knowing is that the mail of ten years ago had the same number of men to handle it as that of to-day, yet the city has increased its population forty-two per cent. or nearly 20, 000 inhabitants since then. The staff thinks that the demand for an increase are doing well. of help, therefore, is but reasonable, and should be granted so that those who toil for one solid year can enjoy a brief holiday during the summer.

To Ascertain if Operations Are

Lawful. Montreal, July 23 .- The police have made a raid on the colonization company of Canada, a concern which recently got a charter from the dominion government, as it is suspected of being a gambling concern. The police waited until the drawing was well under way before executing the warrant. All the paraphernalia was seized. The company was ostensibly organized to conduct a colonization scheme, the charter permitting drawing for shares. The president of the concern states the raid was expected and that they welcome a test case to determine whether the operations are lawful.

ABOLISH DEATH PENALTY. Threatens to Forsake Capital

Punishment. Paris, July 23 .- The guillotine seems to be doomed. A war of words now waging in the senate threatens to extirpate capital punishment, and with it France's grim and blood-stained instrument of public vengeance. The crisis was brought on by the case of a man named Bidaux, condemned by the courts to death. Formerly the place of execution was La Roquette, near Pere la Chaise, but that has been voted too public, for it is conceded that such exhibitions have no salutary effect upon the morals of the people. The prisoner is confined in La Sante, and it was suggested that the execution take place within the prison walls, but La Sante is by no means anxious for the distinction. Hence the matter was referred to the senate and the chamber of deputies. Several senators have demanded to W. L. Woods, the much-sought-after know why there should be capital punishment at all, if it must be so carefully concealed. The argument for and against has grown so strong that the decapitation of Bidaux promises to be indefinitely postponed.
