THE CURING OF CHEESE. Prof. Robertson on the Benefit of the Stations.

Ottawa, July 25.—Prof. Robertson, having made an examination of the stations at the government illustration station for the curing of cheese at Brockville and Cowansville, Que., states it is evident that the cheese made in the month of July and cured at a low temperature has all the characteristics of fine September cheese. Comparing the cheese cured at a low temperature with cheese from the same factories and of the same lots cured in the fluctuating temperature of the ordinary atmosphere, the cooled cheese was found to have finer and richer texture as well as a milder and more agreeable flavor.

As Evidence. An Irish soldier on sentry duty had orders to allow no one smoking to pass him.

An officer with a lighted cigar approached and Pat boldly challenged him, and ordered him to put it out at once. The officer, with a gesture of disgust, threw it away, but no sooner was his back turned, than Pat picked it up and quietly retired to his sentry box.

Band Concert To-night. In honor of the gallant Kingston soldiers, who have just returned from the South African campaign, the 47th regimental band will give a free, open-air concert in Macdonald park this evening.

'T WAS A STIRRING WELCOME. GIVEN TO RETURNING SOUTH AFRICAN SOLDIERS.

Swords of Honor Given the Officers—Addresses by Surgeon Lieut.-Col. Duff and Lieut. Bruce Carruthers.

All the world love a lover, but worships a hero! The truth of this adage was fully demonstrated at one o'clock, when citizens turned out in large numbers to extend a hearty welcome to returning South African heroes. The best in the land is none too good for gallant lads who go forth to battle for home and empire, and these heroes are deserving of the kindest consideration at the hands of the stay-at-homes.

The Heroes Speak. "The Maple Leaf Forever" sounded forth from the band, and it only required somebody to start the song to have it sung through.

"The Maple Leaf Forever" sounded forth from the band, and it only required somebody to start the song to have it sung through. Applause greeted Capt. W. Bruce Carruthers, whose sword in hand, he stepped forward to reply. Capt. Carruthers looked sturdy and sinewy, thinner than usual on account of hard campaigning, but handsome withal, his sharp cut features being somewhat softened by the color of the leather leggings and boots he wore.

The half will never be told of the deeds of self-sacrifice and heroism performed by these brave soldiers on the field of battle. Remarkable incidents of valor will come to the surface, but there are countless deeds which merit the distinction of Victoria cross that never come to light. Were all these known, there would be many Canadian veterans to-day proudly wearing the coveted decoration, which tells in silent language of brave deeds performed in the face of great danger.

Among the platters were Col. Montzambert, D.O.C., Col. Drury, C.B., Col. H. R. Smith, Hon. William Hart, mayor Shaw and members of the city council, city solicitor McIntyre, city clerk Shannon, Col. John McEwen and Hon. J. G. A. were drawn up in single line for the purpose of keeping the platform clear of the crowds, which surged to and fro in an effort to get near the home-coming of the 47th regiment.

The crowd refused to be kept in bounds, and made a frantic rush for the front of the platform, and soon Capt. Bruce Carruthers and his comrades were surrounded by an enthusiastic throng, eager to grasp their hands; as many as six citizens clasped Capt. Carruthers' hands at once, so anxious were they to bid him welcome. His comrades were shown just as much attention, everybody being glad to see the Kingston boys return safe and sound. Ceremony was discontinued; it was case of the stronger getting nearest the heroes, the weaker being thrust back. This sort of struggle continued for some minutes, after which mayor Shaw, with the assistance of the city clerk, succeeded in having a procession formed, and a start was made for the city buildings.

Address To The Heroes. To Lieut. Bruce Carruthers, Surgeon Lieut.-Col. H. R. Duff, non-commissioned officers and men of the 3rd Canadian mounted rifles: We, the members of the corporation of the city of Kingston, desire to congratulate you on your safe return from the seat of war in South Africa.

Proud Of Bruce. Before closing his speech, Col. Duff made kindly reference to the gallant fight made by Capt. W. Bruce Carruthers at Hart's River.

Before closing his speech, Col. Duff made kindly reference to the gallant fight made by Capt. W. Bruce Carruthers at Hart's River. The speaker was the first one to go out to the succor of the wounded and he was in a position to know that if any man deserved special mention, that man was Bruce Carruthers, and if anyone disputed this claim, the speaker would like to challenge him. "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" was rendered by the band, after which cheers were given for Capt. Carruthers, Col. Duff and the returning non-commissioned officers and men.

Strung Up For Murder of Chief of Police. Philippe, W. Va., July 25.—Two negroes, whose names are unknown, were lynched at Wm. Wood, near here, last night by an angry mob, numbering several hundred. Both whites and negroes are enraged and in arms.

Come Unto Me And Rest. Halifax, Canada.—The popular cant about the supremacy of the devil during the heated period when the clergy take their vacations is being more and more disproved each year, says the Boston Transcript. Not only do the summer meetings of various denominations quicken the spiritual life and establish that tolerance which makes for culture, but the growing custom of business men to leave their sterna and unrelenting strife for wealth and power and go out with wife and children to the shadows of forest and the cool, clean touch of great water is of itself an uplift to the world.

Corea's Independence. St. Petersburg, July 25.—A special despatch from Seoul, Corea, announces the conclusion of an important agreement between the British and Japanese ministers to Corea on one hand, and the Japanese councillor, Kato, special adviser of the Korean emperor, on the other, by which Great Britain and Japan mutually guarantee Corea's independence, and pledge her their support and assistance in all important questions affecting her internal and foreign policy.

A Double Lynching. St. Petersburg, July 25.—Two negroes, whose names are unknown, were lynched at Wm. Wood, near here, last night by an angry mob, numbering several hundred. Both whites and negroes are enraged and in arms.
