WOMEN CAN'T RUN HOTELS. Their "Cheese-Faring Economy" Spells All.

London, July 26.—Discussion of silly season topics has developed a curious indictment of woman's capacity in a field where it is expected that she cannot keep a hotel. Several complaints that in England, at all events a hotel managed by a woman is invariably unprofitable. This explanation is given by one writer: "It is absurd, short-sighted, cheese-faring economy which is one of the defects of woman's quality. I have just come from lunch in a leading hotel which is managed by a woman. Although the markets are glutted with fresh vegetables, we had preserved peas with our cutlets. That explains it. A woman will spare no personal trouble or thought, or effort to make her guests comfortable, but she can never resist the temptation to save a half-penny by buying inferior provisions. For the sake of a halfpenny she will spoil a dinner that costs a guinea. Wherever I find a woman manager in charge of a hotel I over-hear I yet snowy linen, excellent over-luxury attention, but cheap meat and poor butter, doubtful eggs, vile tea, imitation coffee, inferior mineral water, and extortionate charges.

"There may be one well-woman-run hotel in England, but in a wandering experience of forty years I never found but one, and in that case, although there was a woman manager, the 'boots' was the real proprietor."

POWER WITHOUT WIRES

Nikola Tesla Has Been Thinking Hard.

AND FOR LAST THREE YEARS HE OUTLINES HIS LATEST INVENTION.

For Moving Ships and Railroad Trains—An Extension of the Plan to Send Wireless Telegraph Messages—Building Necessary Works.

New York, July 26.—After working for more than three years on the transmission of electrical energy without wires Nikola Tesla announces that he has completed an invention by which it will be possible not only to send wireless messages for thousands of miles without wires, but that he will be enabled to send ocean liners to Europe and have railroads carry passengers 100 miles an hour by drawing their power from the air.

Mr. Tesla has completed a large power house at Wardenclyffe, on Long Island, and is building other works throughout the country and one in Scotland, between which he says he intends to send electric currents of sufficient voltage to enable steamships and railroads to draw all their power. The power house at Wardenclyffe occupies nearly three acres of ground and is fenced in so that no one can get a view of it except those working within the inclosure.

"I expect to make a complete announcement of my plans shortly," Mr. Tesla said, "and when I do many people will be surprised. I have been taking out patents on my inventions on the transmission of electrical energy without wires for the last three years."

"By means of the current which will be sent between the different stations I will be able to draw power for almost any purpose. That I will be enabled to get force with which to operate railroads and steamships from currents passing through the air between power houses is an assured fact. All my experiments so far have proved successful and I am now devoting all my time toward getting things on a working basis."

"The whole idea in a nutshell is simply an extension of the plan to send wireless telegraph messages." About 200 men are working on the Tesla plant at Wardenclyffe. The house is a large round iron structure and looks like the ordinary gas plant. There are several poles about sixty feet in height rising from the top of the house and from these the power will be sent.

Mr. Tesla asserted that there was a similar power house in Scotland and that this one was almost entirely completed. Other houses are being built near Chicago and San Francisco.

LIVED A DUAL LIFE

Divided Her Time Between Two Homes.

Winsted, Conn., July 26.—Mrs. Susan Brady, young and attractive, is said to be one of the cleverest bigamists this state ever produced. Neither of her two husbands desires to prosecute her even should her whereabouts become known.

Frederick Brady, Norfolk, Conn., is husband No. 1 and Samuel K. Edwards, of Springfield, Mass., is husband No. 2. In 1892 Mrs. Brady was married to Brady at Millerton, N.Y. One child was born to them. Mrs. Brady, while visiting in Springfield, was joined in wedlock to Edwards.

Mrs. Brady, or Edwards, divided her time between her home in Springfield and the one in Norfolk up to within a month ago, when Edwards learned that his wife had a husband and son living in Norfolk. He went to her with the story, but she did not deny it. Brady recently heard that his wife had another husband living in Springfield, and when he asked her if the report was true she said it was. Brady will sue for a divorce.

The fair bigamist, before taking her departure, told a friend she might have to serve a year or two in prison, but she would not mind that.

Furious Wind Storm.

Vancouver, B.C., July 26.—Three men were drowned and a dozen more are missing as the result of a furious wind storm here, yesterday. The havoc was wrought among the fishing fleet. The full extent of the disaster cannot be learned until the occupants of all vessels are heard from. Many houses were destroyed by the high wind, which assumed the proportions of a tornado in some sections.

New Chinese Minister Coming.

London, July 26.—Prince Chen, who came to London as the special representative of China at the coronation, sailed for New York on the steamship Philadelphia to-day. He is accompanied by his suite, which includes Sir Liang Cheng, the new minister to the United States, who probably will not return to China before assuming his official duties at Washington.

Signed New Players.

Montreal, July 26.—Capt. Dooley, of the Montreal baseball club, has signed two new players. They are Clarence Foster, an outfielder of the Providence club, and C. D. Lovell, an infielder belonging to a New York team. Dooley has also signed a new pitcher whose name has not yet been announced.

The Liverpool Journal of Commerce says that a new line from London to South Africa, in addition to the present service from Middlesbrough, Glasgow and Liverpool, will be announced by Hamilton & Co., at an early date.

HAS MORE FACTS.

Touching Offer of C.P.R. for Fast Service.

London, July 26.—The Times says it has authority to add the following particulars of the offer of the Canadian Pacific to establish a fast Atlantic service: The amount of the subsidy must depend upon the speed of the passenger steamers which will be finally decided by the Canadian and imperial governments for a twenty-knot service. As at present suggested the passenger steamers which will be finally decided by the Canadian and imperial governments for a twenty-knot service will require a greatly increased subsidy, and a twenty-three-knot service would probably not be possible without a subsidy of £400,000 a year. The prospect of such a large arrangement of the Canadian ministers are still in London, are considered to be bright. It is regarded as essential, both by the Canadian government and the Canadian Pacific railway, that a fast passenger service of four steamers should be combined with a fast freight service of from ten to twelve steamers in order that the Morgan combination may be successfully fought. The Canadian Pacific railway is prepared to accept the arrangement. The passenger steamers, if built, will be designed to suit many requirements. They will be available as armed cruisers in case of war, and will be readily converted into troopships. Storage accommodation will be provided for a large number of emigrants. It was not found possible to avoid Quebec as a summer port, although Montreal was successfully ruled out. In many respects it would have been better to have got rid altogether of the dangerous St. Lawrence passage, but public sentiment in Canada was too strong. Halifax will be the winter port.

Says It's A Feeler.

New York, July 26.—The Tribune's London cable says: Lord Strathcona and the Canadian ministers neither confirm nor deny the reports, telegraphed from Montreal and Halifax, that the Canadian Pacific railway has accepted the offer of the Atlantic passenger service and a greatly improved cargo service, with complete appliances for cold storage. It is probable, however, that an offer of some kind has been made for the purpose of assisting Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir William Mulock and Hon. Mr. Fielding in their negotiations with the board of trade and their conference with the premiers of New Zealand and Australia.

The announcement serves as a feeler for drawing out the comments of the English press on the systematized plan for fighting the Morgan combination, and the earliest responses, which have been favorable. Many papers say that there is a strong public sentiment in favor of defending British maritime interests.

DESPERADO TAKEN.

Halifax, N.S., July 26.—A desperado, who for several years has been defying the authorities of Nova Scotia, has been captured in the streets of Bridgetown, on the Bay of Fundy. Frank Sabean, burglar and highway robber, was known to the police of Annapolis county and the United States, and all the attempts of the police to take and hold him have failed. He found refuge and security in the mountains of Annapolis.

Saban was captured by Power, Halifax, with a posse, went over the mountain in the early evening and watched all night for Sabean, but saw no trace of him until grey day dawned, when he was discovered. The fair bigamist, before taking her departure, told a friend she might have to serve a year or two in prison, but she would not mind that.

WILLING TO Aid Whenever Required.

London, July 26.—At the colonial conference yesterday, premier Seddon strongly favored colonial participation in a defence scheme, but Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Edmund Barton made it very clearly understood that they were not prepared to ask the parliament to sanction any military expenditure beyond what is necessary for their own defence. They did not ask the imperial government to assist them in their defence, and they proposed that by legislative force of compulsion, they should assist in imperial defence, but they were quite ready to render voluntary assistance in any future war the same assistance rendered in previous years in the Sudan and in South Africa.

The Bristol docks committee has recommended the formation of an English tobacco company.

The Imperial tobacco company has decided to invest its tobacco direct to Bristol, instead of through a Liverpool agency.

JEFFRIES THE WINNER.

Fitzsimmons Experienced Some Hard Luck.

San Francisco, July 26.—After fighting a battle of eight rounds Robert Fitzsimmons was knocked to the floor by James J. Jeffries and counted out after he had so badly punished the champion that it was a foregone conclusion among the spectators that the minimum must win.

Bleeding from the number of gashes in the face, apparently weakening, and clearly unable to cope with Fitzsimmons' superior skill, Jeffries delivered two lucky punches as Fitzsimmons paused in his fighting to speak to him and turned the tide of the battle. Jeffries delivered two lucky punches as Fitzsimmons paused in his fighting to speak to him and turned the tide of the battle. Jeffries delivered two lucky punches as Fitzsimmons paused in his fighting to speak to him and turned the tide of the battle.

"I will never fight again," said the battle-scarred veteran of the ring, when he had sufficiently recovered to talk.

"You are the most dangerous man alive," said Jeffries in return, "and I consider myself lucky to have won when I did."

Fitzsimmons had been fighting at a furious gait, cool and deliberate, and chopping the champion to pieces with the terrific rights and lefts that have made him famous. It was the draught-horse and the racer from the tap of the gong. When the men came together Fitzsimmons appeared rather worried, but upon the opening of the first round he assumed an air of absolute confidence and fought with the deliberation of the general that he is.

As early as the second round Fitzsimmons had Jeffries bleeding profusely from the mouth and nose. Again and again he landed on his bulky opponent, getting away in such a clever manner that it brought down the house with cheers. It seemed indeed that Jeffries could scarcely weather the gale.

In the eighth round the end came, and under a series of hot exchanges Fitzsimmons paused with his guard down and spoke to the champion. The latter's reply consisted of the two terrific blows that brought back to him the besting championship and forever removed the veteran Fitzsimmons from the list of arena. Fitzsimmons took his defeat with amazing good cheer. He walked to the center of the ring and, raising his hand, addressed the multitude, saying:

"The best man has won. Had I beaten Jeffries to-night I would have received him the championship and retired forever. "I retire now, the same as, but without having accomplished my ambition. "I am satisfied."

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

Struck a Reef and Went Down in Five Minutes.

Cheboygan, Mich., July 26.—The steamer Henry J. Johnson was sent to the bottom of Lake Huron on Thursday, by the steamer Fred Pabst. The Johnson went down five minutes after the crash, all the crew succeeded in getting into the life-boats, which were lowered and cleared of the sinking ship before she foundered.

After being adrift several hours, the crew was picked up by the tug Parker, and brought here. The Pabst was apparently uninjured and proceeded on her way.

The Johnson was bound down Lake Huron with a cargo of iron ore from Escanaba to Cleveland. The Pabst was coming up the lake bound for Lake Michigan with coal. There was a dense fog overhanging the water. The Pabst struck the Johnson ten feet aft of the bow. It was seen at once that the Johnson was doomed, but she quickly did not go down that the crew had no time to save any of their personal effects. The lifeboats were scarcely clear of the ship before the steamer went down in 25 fathoms. Both vessel and cargo are total losses.

GATHERED CLOTHING.

For a Girl Who Lost Her's in a Car.

Kansas City, Mo., July 26.—Eva Beck, a pretty girl, eighteen years old, of Van Buren, Ark., wanted to go to Kansas City, and she did not have the money to pay railroad fare. Hence she embarked in a box car and successfully made the trip of 600 miles. All went well until within a hundred miles of Kansas City, when Miss Beck and a girl who accompanied her on the box car tour found the car so warm that they removed their clothing and lay down to sleep.

When Miss Beck awoke she found her friends gone and also her own clothing. When the freight train came to a standstill in the Kansas City yards railroad men were amazed to see a bare feminine arm protruding from the car door and to hear a woman's voice calling them. Unmolested behind the door she related her story and the railroad men hastily collected as many feminine garments as they could, rescuing the girl from her embarrassing plight. She is now in charge of the police matron.

ROBBERS IN KHAKI.

Routing Colonials' Tents at Alexandria Palace.

London, July 26.—More free than welcome have been some of the visitors to the camp of the colonials at the Alexandria palace, and many tents have been robbed. The Portmanteaus have been mysteriously cut open, and the contents—principally presents brought by the men for friends at home—stolen.

One of the Australians told a press representative that he believed the thefts had been committed by men in khaki. "But not by soldiers," he was careful to add.

"Anyone can get a khaki suit, and that is a passport to the camp at any time, for the sentries can't know the uniform of every regiment quartered here."

"Once inside the line in a khaki dress the test is easy, especially at meal times, when the camp is practically deserted. It is then only a matter of walking from tent to tent and helping yourself."

MANY PILGRIMS IN QUEBEC.

They Will Attend Celebration of St. Anne.

Quebec, July 26.—Many pilgrimages are arriving from all over the country to attend the celebration of St. Anne at the shrine of St. Anne de Beauport. It is expected that at least 5,000 pilgrims will be present, and many miracles are usually reported on this day. Already about 3,000 pilgrims are here. As usual, the large statue of the saint will be crowned for the occasion, and the church will be magnificently illuminated. A miracle is just reported from the shrine. A young girl from Kingston, who was crippled in both legs, having thrown down her crutches, walked out of the church amidst great excitement.

Caught The Robber.

Fortville, Ind., July 26.—While assistant cashier Pettigo was in the Fortville bank alone, a well-dressed man came in, pointed a revolver at Pettigo and fled. The ball went wild. The man then demanded that Pettigo give him $2,500 or be killed. The shot attracted the attention of people outside the bank and the robber ran. He escaped to the woods half a mile away where a posse of twenty-five men captured him, after filling him full of shot. He fired his pistol repeatedly, but hit nobody. The man refused to give his name. He is not seriously wounded.

Mother To Son's Rescue.

Cleveland, O., July 26.—The mother of Dr. Russell Wilson, the young physician of Milan, O., will leave for Bluefield, Nicaragua, to-day to make a plan for her son's life. Dr. Wilson is under arrest in Bluefield, charged with being a member of a filibustering expedition against the Nicaraguan government. Dr. Wilson is to be court-martialed, and it is feared will be sentenced to death.

Senator Hanna is interested in the case and has telegraphed the Nicaraguan minister at Washington to grant Mrs. Wilson all the protection possible on the trip.

In the house of enormous Irish matters came up again. A motion of John J. Clancy, Irish nationalist, to the effect that the organization of Irishmen in America is a proceeding against, was defeated by 168 to 117 votes.
