FEASTED ON RATTLESLAKES. Reptile Served in Many Styles to Guests.

Hot Springs, Aug. 9.-Capt. A. L. Dalbey, a civil engineer, gave a banquet to his friends recently, at a banquet the principal delicacy was rattlesnake.

Capt. Dalbey a few days before the banquet caught a monster rattlesnake, and he fattened it for the feast.

The snake measured nearly eight feet in length, was twenty inches in circumference and had twenty-seven rattles.

His snakeship was fed on rabbits, chickens and birds and was in prime condition when killed. He was served up fried, broiled and stewed, and was pronounced delicious, the flavor being particularly delicate and the meat white and of fine grain.

New Imperial Service Order. London, Aug. 9.-A Gazette, extraordinary, announces that King Edward will create a new imperial service order for recognizing meritorious services of members of the administrative and clerical branches of civil services who will only be eligible to the number of 125 companions, of whom 250 will belong to the home and 175 to the colonial services.

THE GIRL WAS WILLING And A Lawyer Said To Go Ahead

A VETERAN'S GIRL BRIDE. OLD SOLDIER WEDS A GIRL OF EIGHTEEN SUMMERS.

Courtship Was Carried on by Slate and Opera Glass-Cops Not Warranted in Interfering.

New York, Aug. 9.-Frederick Seiler, seventy-eight years old, a veteran of the civil war, living at 406 First street, Hoboken, has married Miss Minnie Wolf, eighteen years old, of 92 Grand street, Hoboken.

Seiler owns about $20,000 worth of real estate and receives a pension of $32 a month from the government. Miss Wolf's father, who is a blacksmith, objected to the wedding.

Seiler's home is just around the corner from the Wolf residence and the rear windows of both houses are but a few feet apart.

Ever since Seiler's wife died six weeks ago, the old soldier has felt lonely, and has spent much time at the window of his flat in the rear of the second floor. It was in this way that a flirtation sprang up between him and the blacksmith's daughter.

The space between the two houses was too large to permit of ordinary conversation, so communication between the old man and the young woman was established by means of small slates and a pair of opera glasses.

Everything went along very smoothly until Wolf came up from his forge one day two weeks ago, and found his noontide meal uncooked. He called in two policemen and asked them to arrest Seiler.

The cops said they didn't feel warranted in taking a hand in the matter. The blacksmith broke the girl's slate and hid her opera glasses, thereby putting a temporary end to the courtship. Meantime Seiler saw a lawyer, who told him that if the girl was willing there were no legal objections to the union.

The two met by appointment and went to Carlstadt, N.J., where they were married by the Rev. F. N. Kohler, pastor of the First Presbyterian church in that place. They then returned to the Wolf home, and received the blacksmith's blessing. At night a crowd of small boys serenaded the couple with tin pans.

THE KING CROWNED. Ceremonies Carried Out—Rain Delayed Procession.

London, Aug. 9.-The king was crowned at 12:29 p.m. The news of the crowning was announced by an official outside the Abbey. It was reported by signal through London, and was received with cheers, which spread throughout the stands and crowds far up the streets, as the bells pealed joyfully.

The queen was crowned at 12:56 p.m. As their majesties were leaving the Abbey rain began to fall; and they returned and deferred their departure until the rain ceased. They left at 2:06 p.m.

Seventy seats in the Abbey were allotted to Canadians. Lord and Lady Strathcona sat in the transept among the titled spectators and Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Lady Laurier, with Sir Edmund Barton and Mr. Seddon, in places of honor. Hon. Messrs. Peterson and Fielding, Sir William Mulock and Sir Frederick Borden were in the choir stalls among the foreign ambassadors. Premier Rosa and the other provincial premiers were in the choir. Mrs. Paterson, Miss Paterson, Mr. Fielding's two daughters and other prominent Canadian ladies sat either in the choir or in the monument gallery.

Several British journalists will arrive in Canada next week. Some are on board the Tunisian and others on the Lake Champlain.

At a meeting in Durham of the owners and miners' conciliation board a reduction of two and one-half per cent. in wages was agreed to.

The German imperial yacht, Hohenzollern, with Emperor William and Queen, sailed from Revel, Russia, for Wisby, Sweden, on Friday afternoon.

J. Israel Tarte, minister of public works, returned to Ottawa on Friday from his tour of inspection of the great lakes and the possibilities of transportation by the Georgian Bay canal route.

Germany is willing to withdraw her garrison at Shanghai when the preservation of order at that place and on the Yang Tse Kiang has been assured, provided other powers withdraw their troops at the same time.

The mayor of Liverpool, on Friday, presented to Capt. Freeman, of the British steamship Rodman, a medal awarded to that officer by the Mercantile Marine Association for gallant conduct in taking his ship out of St. Pierre roadstead at the time of the eruption of Mont Pelee.

BRYAN COULDN'T SAY NO. Doesn't See How He Can Refuse.

Mason City, Ia., Aug. 9.-William Jennings Bryan addressed an audience of over 2,000 at Clear Lake assembly. Prior to his speech, Mr. Bryan, when asked if his position had been correctly reported relative to his refusal to again become a candidate for president, said he was not a candidate in the party seeking to gain the right to fight, but if the party should decide that he was the proper man to again head the ticket he could not honorably say "No." He believed the money question was still the prominent issue, and the conduct of the Republican administration with the Philippine question and the trust problems were sufficient issues to make the campaign upon.

Indian Relics Unearthed. Ottawa, Aug. 9.-Alfred Sturton of Spencerville, has brought to the Dominion museum for inspection, an interesting collection of Indian relics found eighteen inches below the surface on the farm of Charles Spencer, one and a half miles from Spencerville. The assortment included several specimens of pottery, bones, evidently used for needles, and also human bones. The most interesting were the tops of two skulls which evidently were the prize of a handy wielder of the scalping knife. Each had eight small holes bored into it, and were otherwise marked. The relics evidently belonged to members of the Iroquois tribe, which roamed the St. Lawrence frontier in the days of the French regime.

Remembered His First Wife's. Sharon, Pa., Aug. 9.-After a separation of thirty-six years, Captain William W. Smith, aged sixty-five years, was remarried yesterday to his first wife, who is a few years his junior. Back in the early sixties Mr. Smith wooed and won one of Illinois' fairest daughters. A quarrel arose and he left home in 1869, coming east. Ten years ago he married Orta J. Sawyer and she died only two years ago. Then his thoughts turned to his first love. A reconciliation took place.

Mighty Big Gifts. London, Aug. 9.-Announcement is made that Lucas Booth, the Australian who presented $50,000 to the king for the hospital fund, has given the queen a similar sum, which her majesty desired to devote to the work of the association, and that the queen's appeal in January has brought in $1,500,000, making the total of public subscriptions to the association during and since the war, $6,500,000.

ARE OUT OF THE WORLD. First Visitor At Town In Siberia

WHAT THE EXPLORER FOUND. THE INHABITANTS DO NOT LIVE, ONLY EXIST.

The Town is Just on the Edge of the Arctic Circle—De Windt Was the First Outsider Seen in Over Thirty Years.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 9.-Henry De Windt, the explorer, told today of an isolated village he visited in the northern part of Siberia, where the inhabitants do not live, only exist. Sredni Kalynsk is the name of the place.

"This town, says De Windt, 'is the farthest north of any village in the Arctic circle. It is four months from St. Petersburg. Something of its location may be guessed when I tell you that until we arrived there Sredni Kalynsk had not been visited by any one from the outside world for thirty years.'

"Think of it? Thirty years, nearly half a life-time, shut in with no knowledge of the outside world, no newspapers, nothing. The people welcomed us with open arms, for we brought them news.

"Life with them is simply existence. It is too cold to do anything but to try to keep warm. They have no industries, no pursuits, except, of course, that they have to obtain food for themselves."

CABINET CHANGES. Earl of Dudley Made Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland.

New York, Aug. 9.-The Tribune's London cable says: The cabinet reconstruction exhibits new surprises. Austin Chamberlain succeeds the Marquis of Londonderry as postmaster-general, whereas he had been marked out by the press for the board of trade, where his father first made a reputation, as a cabinet minister. Mr. Chamberlain has been aided by his father's influence, but is a man of marked executive ability. Lord Londonderry has not been as good a postmaster-general as the Duke of Norfolk was, and the change in the department head, will be highly advantageous. The retirement of Lord James Hereford would have occurred long ago if he had not been a great favorite in society. Sir William Hood-Warrend, late chief government whip succeeds him, but is not given a seat in the cabinet. The Earl of Dudley succeeds the Earl of Cadogan, as lord-lieutenant of Ireland, but without a seat in the cabinet, which is given to the chief secretary for Ireland, George Wyndham. The lord-lieutenancy is reduced to a mere ornamental instead of a political position. The appointment of the Earl of Dudley will disappoint the Irish people, who were led to expect a member of royalty, in the person of the Duke of Comyngham. Lord Londonderry is appointed president of the council of education, ousting the Duke of Devonshire, for whom no provision is announced, while Sir William Anson displaces the Duke of Devonshire's lieutenant, Sir John E. Gorst, as vice-president of the board of education. It is believed that Premier Balfour intends handing over to the Duke of Devonshire the office of lord privy seal.

The Right Hon. C. T. Ritchie, as confidentially predicted, becomes chancellor of the exchequer, the Right Hon. Akers-Douglas, commissioner of works, succeeding him at the home office. Lord Windsor takes Akers-Douglas' place, but, unlike him, without a seat in cabinet. William Hayes Fisher, a junior of the lord treasury, whose appointment consists in having crossed the floor of the house one night and engaging in disputes with a member of the opposition, is appointed in Austin Chamberlain's place in the treasury.

The Earl of Hardwicke as under secretary of state for war, displaces Lord Raglan. Earl Percy, succeeding the Earl of Hardwicke as under secretary of state for India, Hon. Thomas Cochrane, the colonial secretary's private secretary, ousts the Right Hon. Jesse Collings, of three acres and cow fame, as under secretary of the home department.

The remaining appointments include Sir Alexander Ackland-Hartley, as parliamentary secretary; Henry Foster, as lord commissioner of treasury; and Andrew Bonar Law, a native of New Brunswick, as parliamentary secretary of board of trade.

Opinion of The Cabinet. London, Aug. 9.-Prime minister Balfour's ministerial changes have been completed with the result that the cabinet now has eighteen instead of twenty members. The Morning Post thinks that the cabinet changes are personal, rather than of political interest, though in the minor appointments the ministry is distinctly strengthened.

Garnault Is Annoyed. Paris, Aug. 9.-Dr. Garnault is indignant over Prof. Koch's interview regarding his experiments of inoculation with bovine tuberculous bacilli. He says he will prove that Prof. Koch is wrong, even if it costs him his life. He will publish a scientific refutation of Prof. Koch's statement in the Vienna Neue Frei Presse.

We Want To See You. About that "Albion" Russell Gord or "Black Lustre" coat, 25 to 40 chest measure. Prices run $1.25 to $2.50 for a very fine coat. The H. D. Bibby Co.

POISON CARRIED BY WIND. Peculiar Case of Ivy Poison in New York State.

New York, Aug. 9.-The wife of George F. Lyon, jury clerk of the supreme court and a well known political writer, is in a critical condition in the Vasar Hospital, Poughkeepsie, suffering from ivy poisoning.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyon have been spending the summer in the vicinity of Millbrook, which is about twenty miles from Poughkeepsie. Lyon has a fine bay stallion, and a runabout, and he and his wife have done a great deal of driving.

A few days ago they spent a day at Upton Lake, and it was there, it is believed that Mrs. Lyon was poisoned. She is positive that she did not come in contact with any of the poison leaves, and the physicians in the hospital say that the poison may have been communicated by the wind.

Mrs. Lyon's face swelled to twice its natural size and became a reddish purple in color. The flesh about the eyes was so swollen that she could scarcely see. Her body was covered with blisters.

In spite of her condition Mr. Lyon took her from a sick bed, bundled her up in blankets and drove her to Poughkeepsie. He covered her with blankets more than two hours. The doctor pronounced the case one of the worst of its kind they have ever seen.

MUST BE DEVELOPED. The St. Lawrence Route is Key to Situation.

Toronto, Aug. 9.-Louis Coste, formerly chief engineer of the department of public works, who accompanied Tarte on his recent trip around the lakes, and who Mr. Tarte announced in a speech at Collingwood, would be the head of the new department of transportation on the great lakes, is in the city. Mr. Coste says he is a firm believer in the policy Mr. Tarte has inaugurated to make Chicago and Duluth tributary to the Georgian Bay. The key to the situation, Mr. Coste considers, is in the St. Lawrence route which he says must be developed from Montreal to the sea. On the Georgian Bay and the harbors must be made deep enough to admit the largest vessels which can go through the "Soo" canal. There is no use in constructing canals to connect one bay with another, and then harbors so shallow that ships cannot get into them. The transportation facilities at the ports and the railway service must be also put on the best possible basis.

WON BY PETERBOROUGH. Captures Banner For Largest Increase in Membership.

Peterboro, Aug. 9.-Temperance people were delighted yesterday to receive information through a despatch from Dubuque, Iowa, where the convention of Roman Catholic Total Abstinence societies is in session, stating that the Total Abstinence society of Peterboro had won the banner given to the society making the largest increase in membership during the year.

Dr. O'Brien, of the cathedral, and spiritual adviser of the local society, has worked enthusiastically in its interests, and to him is due largely the increase of membership last year of 1,375. The society is doing a great work here, and especially among the young men.

WILL SOON BE FLOWING. The Great Waterway is Nearing Completion.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Aug. 9.-After working continuously since September, 1898, the contractors constructing the big water power canal, have completed the task and within a short time water from Lake Superior will be flowing through the five mile long gateway, which is to develop 100,000 horse power. The canal is five miles long and twenty-five feet deep. A three foot sluice way will be used in admitting the water, it being desired that the canal be filled slowly.

A CURIOUS STORY. About Colonial Officers in British Regiments.

London, Aug. 9.-Because colonial garrisons are sent to British regiments on account of distinguished service in the field are looked upon as outsiders, even in corps whose officers are drawn from the ranks of the middle classes and lower. Lord Roberts has recently issued a special memorandum pleading for better treatment for colonial garrisons.

Appeals From One-Cent Fine. Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 9.-Fred Herriek, a millionaire lumberman, has appealed from a one-cent fine imposed in the police court on a charge of refusing to pay a licensed restaurant bill. Herriek went into the Morris hotel cafe and ordered a lunch with cold slaw. The slaw was brought in with dressing and he refused to pay fifteen cents for it.

He was arrested and locked up. The police judge fined him one cent and Herriek says he will appeal to the supreme court if necessary. Herriek owns lumber lands in Alabama and Florida and lives in Wisconsin.

Toronto Faces A Salt Famine. Toronto, Aug. 9.-A salt famine threatens Toronto, and so far as salt jollies can discern there is not immediate prospect of relief. The extraordinary demand for this article in the Canadian northwest, is alleged to be the cause for the scarcity in this section; at least, this is the reason assigned by jobbers of salt in Toronto.

Off On Their Tours. London, Aug. 9.-Sir Edmund Barton will sail for New York soon after the coronation and after visiting Washington will meet Sir William Mulock at Ottawa. Mr. Seddon may also join them there. Sir Wilfrid Laurier will start on Wednesday, with Sir Gilbert Parker, for the Channel Islands and Paris.
