London, Aug. 13 .- The Steamer Saxon on which Gens. Botha, Delarcy and Dewet are coming to England, from Cape Town, arrived at Maderia yesterday. Gens. Botha and Delarey. went ashore sight-seeing. They asked many questions regarding what they saw. Gen. Dewet remained on board the steamer, continuing his work on the book he is writing, detailing his experiences during the war.

A despatch from The Hague, on the occasion of the arrival of the Boen generals at Maderia, denies that they are merely visiting Europe to collect money for Boer widows and orphans. It is stated that their main object is to discuss the status of the late republics with British statesmen. The party is expected to arrive at Southampton on Saturday morning.
