PONIES ARE STILL WINNING.

"JERRY" HUNT IN THE HOME RUN BUSINESS.

The Antwerp Dutchmen Defeated by 7 to 4—How the League Now Stands—Ottawa College Rugby Team Will be Strong.

The inauguration of peanut and popcorn peddling at the Lake Ontario Park ball-grounds did not flood the Pones yesterday. They defeated the Antwerp Dutchmen, 7 to 4, making four straight wins.

The pitchers did effective work, but Ambrose had somewhat better support than Pierce, who, though he looked like an overgrown schoolboy, had the key hand motions, can catch fine balls. Pones seemed to have lost their batting eye. Hunt and Quigley being the only ones who were able to hammer the ball, each of them making two hits.

Had Ambrose not given Callaghan his base on balls Antwerp would not have scored in the first innings, as he did on Dorgan's two-bagger. A pretty play was the cutting off of the latter at the plate by Islin, Elliott having enticed that player home by throwing to second. "Chaucer" did the same thing in the third innings, but unfortunately Islin muffed the throw, and sent the ball home a second too late to cut off a run.

The feature of the second innings was Hunt's catch of Hardy's foul fly far beyond first base. "Jerry" also caught Williams' short pop, and turned a somersault to show the ladies that he was not as old and infirm as some people think.

Pones' second innings resulted in several bad fumbles by the visitors, and three runs were scored instead of five, which should have been forthcoming, had Elliott not run Daley off third base. The latter was twice hit on the head in running the bases, and when he arrived at third, he was really "dopy," and didn't know where the plate was.

Elliott and Ambrose had a cranky spell in the third, which put the Pones in a stampee. An error, and a couple of hits scored three runs. But that ended Antwerp's run-making. Pones settled down, and it was all up with Nick Timmerman's brotchen.

With two out and Hunt and Elliott on bases in the sixth Dorgan dropped Ambrose's fly to left field, and two runs was the result. Quigley did some splendid work in the next two innings. In the seventh he cut Dorgan off at home, and Buckley at second. Then in the eighth "Patt" threw two out at first, and caught a short fly, receiving the plaudits of the ladies who spanked their fly-white hands. The prettiest catch of the day was in the eighth by Callaghan who gathered in a sky-scraper of Elliott's bat, after a long run from centre to right field.

Before the match concluded "Jerry" Hunt decided to once more become a hero. So he just clubbed the ball far over the left fielder's head, and began to steam around the diamond bags like a freight train. At third base he was going so fast that he couldn't stop, and he beat the throw in by several feet, making his second home run in one week. The proceedings ended with the Pones invincible.

Pones' lineup: L.F., Filson, c.f., Burke, 3b., Islin, 2b., Daley, c.f., Elliott, c.; Hunt, lb.; Quigley, ss.; Ambrose, p.

St. Lawrence League. Antwerp claims that Gananoque forfeited a match by not appearing on the former's grounds last Friday. It is that case the league standing now is:

Won. Lost. P.P. Gananoque 10 6 625 Gouverneur 7 7 611 Pones 2 8 388 Canton 10 11 458 Antwerp 6 12 333

Sporting Field Echoes. Lajorie has a batting average of .371. He can pound the little old ball.

Pones are moving towards the St. Lawrence International league pennant. Few baseball teams make twelve straight wins. That is Providence's present record.

Islin and Ambrose, of the Pones, constituted the battery for the Brockton baseball team against Belleville this afternoon.

If Antwerp defeats Gananoque today, Gouverneur will lead the league, with Pones and Gananoque equal in second place.

St. Louis and Brooklyn baseball teams played a tie match on Sunday at St. Louis. After ten innings the match was called.

WHAT MR. GLIDDEN SAYS

CONCERNING THE PROTEST OF THE HOTEL MEN.

Holds That They Have no Ground for Complaint—The Regulations Are Not at All Harsh.

Kingston, Aug. 18.—(To the Editor of your issue of Saturday last, you state that the hotel men through out the city are protesting against the "latest order" of the license commissioner (inspector is meant, I suppose), which, in part, is an error, the order (rule) having been passed over three years ago, and been in existence since the very first order, being that contained in my circular of July 18th last, referring to the license laws, rules and regulations, and requiring their observance, a copy of which I present you, and which, I submit, is quite reasonable, and was issued as a final warning of what might be expected if the rules which had been so long, persistently, and too generally ignored, were not hereafter properly observed. The quiet, calm and peaceable methods adopted in the past having failed to secure the necessary and required results.

Now what is there to protest against? Nothing unnecessary is asked, or demanded by the rules. No one willing to obey the law would surely object to putting clear, plain and transparent glass in the upper half of his bar-room doors and other necessary places, or to remove all obstructions to the admission of light and observation from his windows, wherever required, so as to take the place of a full and uninterrupted view to the public, policeman and inspector, of all parts of his bar and adjoining rooms, so that his business and goods, may thereby be seen and advertised, the very ends he should covet, if all be right and properly conducted, even in prohibited hours, as other business men do. To less than this, in my opinion, to this, is nothing less or more than an admission that he is either ashamed of his business, or that he wishes to do something under cover of the blinds, the removal of which is asked for in prohibited hours only, and, the putting in of glass, which might expose transactions which could not otherwise be seen, and which he would like to keep in ambush. These and other aids are quite necessary, in order to assist us to get at many infractions of the law, which could not otherwise be proved, as most of those available as witnesses, are so disposed, as to be useless to summon them to establish a charge, so we have to get at the work the best and most effective way we can.

Now a final word as to the exaggerations with which your reporters are plying by some discontents in this matter of making necessary changes in certain doors and windows. No one is asked or required to cut a single swinging door or alter it in the least, whether inside or outside of the hotel. Those simply have to be turned back on their hinges where they cover up glass in doors, which stand on the other side of them, or when they are placed in a passage where their presence tends to interfere with a proper view of the bar-room, in which case they may be turned back and there fastened, so that the entire space they occupy when closed may be open and suitably clear. Now as to the required glass in the doors. No one can deny that this is necessary, especially in the doors of bar-rooms located in the back part of the houses, or in the rear part of bars of a two-story structure, where, as is said to be taken, out to the other parts of the house to people where, and at a time when, it should not be, a clear view right through from the street is required. As to the curtains, blinds, and so on, I have to say that it is an easy matter to regulate these, and so far as these are concerned, no place where they are taken at all, comply with rule 12 of the regulations will be interfered with. But where this is done by those who tell you they keep open so that their entrance bars may be viewed from the outside? I know of several places where this may barely be claimed to be done in the past, but even in some of these a view has to be taken at only clear of everything, so that the view to the public should be as easy as it is in the different business stores of the city, so that the strained peeping glass should not be needed. That will not do. The light and observation should not be interrupted by anything, not even posters, and the receipts are given in the way. Hoping these facts may prove satisfactory.—W. GLIDDEN.
