Eighty Thousand Conc; Thousands To Go.

GEN. BOTHA IS THE LEADER

IN SUCCESSION TO KRUGER, RESIGNED.

Kruger Will Spend the Winter in the South of France—Reitz Will Only Return to South Africa With Rifle in Hand.

London, Aug. 26.—Over 80,000 men of the British army have left South Africa for their homes since June 6th, embarkations having begun five days after the declaration of peace on the first of the month. Arrangements have been made for the return of 37,000 more before September 17th, the sailings of this batch having begun on August 2nd.

A despatch from Brussels, to the Daily Telegraph, says that, as a result of the conferences at Utrecht between Mr. Kruger and the generals and delegates from South Africa, the former has resigned the chief leadership of the Boer people. General Louis Botha has been designated to lead the party in South Africa. It is not confirmed but it is known that Mr. Kruger has arranged to spend the winter in the South of France.

Reitz Is Excited.

Paris, Aug. 26.—Reitz, former secretary of state in the Transvaal government, has handed to Col. J. McBride, who served as an officer in the Boer army during the war, a Transvaal flag wrapped in a parcel on the outside of which the former minister had written the following lines: "Though many a sigh and tear it cost, 'Tis better to have fought at all, Than never to have fought at all."

Mr. Reitz at the same time, told his friend that he would never return to South Africa unless he did so with a rifle in his hand. He characterized as "damnable" Lord Milner's treatment of people confined in the concentration camps.

A DISASTROUS FIRE.

Did Much Damage to Rossland Business Blocks.

Rossland, B.C., Aug. 26.—A large part of the business portion of the city of Rossland was burned down yesterday afternoon. The loss included twenty-five brick and stone buildings in the heart of the city. The fire could not be got under control owing to the inefficient fire apparatus and slack water supply. The loss will amount to $75,000.

The fire broke out at three o'clock in the establishment of P. Burns & Co., butchers, on Spokane street, situated in the centre of a solid block of wooden buildings, and the strong breeze prevailing speedily spread the flames to the north and south, despite the torrents of water thrown by the firemen. In twenty minutes from the first outbreak the fire had spread north into the Anacoda saloon west to the M. & M. Saloon, and south to the Coeur d'Alene saloon, while Thompson's restaurant immediately adjoining the Burns block was involved with the Burns place in the first outbreak. It then jumped First avenue, to the large three storey buildings used as stores and these were totally wiped out within an hour of the outbreak.

The fire was spreading east rapidly when the wind changed and the flames jumped Spokane street and wiped out half a dozen business houses on that side together with all the residences in the block.

VISITED ISLE OF MAN.

The People Were Delighted to See Royalty.

London, Aug. 26.—The voyage of King Edward around Great Britain brought him to the Isle of Man, yesterday, and he landed there with Queen Alexandra and Princess Victoria. The party took carriages to view the historic sites and the Welsh dignitaries joined in the procession. Hall Caine, who happened to be stopping at his residence on the island, acted as guide. When they came to the interesting ruins he explained to the king the old ceremonies which occurred there. There were many holiday-makers on the island and they displayed great enthusiasm. When the royal party re-embarked on the yacht they were cheered till they were beyond ear-shot.

King Edward's state crown, placed on his head by the Archbishop of Canterbury, in Westminster Abbey, is now in the hands of the well-known character familiar on the streets and in public places in Washington, who says that he, and not Ella Wheeler Wilcox, wrote "Laugh and the World Laughs with you; Weep, and you weep Alone," and recently he has discredited the authorship of "Solitude," by saying that it appeared in newspapers thirty or forty years ago, while the reputed author claims to have written it in 1883.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox in her letter offers to give $5,000 to charity if Joyce will prove his claim. "If he cannot prove it," she concludes, "let him forever after hold his peace."

CHALLENGE TO COL. JOYCE.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox Offers Wager of $5,000.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Ella Wheeler Wilcox has written a letter to the Washington Post challenging John A. Joyce of this city to prove that her poem, "Solitude," appeared in any newspaper or periodical or was published in any form prior to February, 1883. "Col. Joyce is the well-known character familiar on the streets and in public places in Washington, who says that he, and not Ella Wheeler Wilcox, wrote "Laugh and the World Laughs with you; Weep, and you weep Alone," and recently he has discredited the authorship of "Solitude," by saying that it appeared in newspapers thirty or forty years ago, while the reputed author claims to have written it in 1883.

Graham Will Attempt Feat on Sunday.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., Aug. 26.—Carroll D. Graham, the Philadelphia cooper who on July 11th, 1886, started the world by making a successful trip through the Whirlpool rapids of Niagara in a barrel and who has several times since accomplished daring feats at the same place, says that on Sunday, Aug. 31st, he will try to do what Capt. Webb failed to do on July 21th, 1888, and that is, to swim the Whirlpool rapids of Niagara between the bridges and the whirlpool. Graham's friend will try to coax him to be satisfied with swimming from the whirlpool to Lewiston, a feat performed successfully on September 7th last, the day his companion in adventure, Maude Willard, lost her life in Graham's barrel in the maelstrom of Niagara.

SOUTH AFRICAN SERVICE.

Hope That More Ships Will Be Required.

Montreal, Aug. 26.—A letter has been received from Sir William Mullock, by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, in which the postmaster-general says respecting the new Canadian South African steamship service: "I presume the companies forming the syndicate will put themselves in immediate touch with the business men of Canada. The contract contains a provision that the contractors will supply additional ships if business warrants it, and I trust that results will fully justify their action in establishing a line. No doubt your organization can do much to promote its success and permanency."

Judge McTavish Will Begin September 4th to Look for Monopoly—The Latest News From the Capital.

Ottawa, Aug. 26.—Nothing is known here officially in regard to the British government having withdrawn its objections to the Bond-Blaine treaty. If the cable reports are correct, the Imperial authorities have taken the ground that Newfoundland, as a self-governing colony, was perfectly within its rights in making the treaty, and no legitimate excuse exists for withholding assent.

The royal commission appointed to enquire into the tobacco trade will open its sittings in Ottawa on September 4th. Judge McTavish is the commissioner. Notices have been sent out to all the manufacturers of tobacco in Canada.

A NATIONAL STATUTE.

So That Supervision Of Trust Could Be Real.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 26.—At the reception Monday to President Roosevelt the chief magistrate made a telling speech.

With a few formal remarks Governor Crane introduced the president, who made a forty-minute discourse on the question of suppressing illegal combinations. He said:

"I want laws to enable us to deal with it no matter what shape it takes. I get to see the government able to get at it definitely, so that the action of the government cannot be evaded by any turning within or without federal or state statutes.

"At present we have really no efficient control over a big corporation which does business in more than one state. Frequently the corporation has nothing whatever to do with the state in which it is incorporated except to get incorporated, and its actions may be taken in entirely different communities, communities which may object very much to the methods of incorporation in the state named.

"I do not think you can get action by any state, action by all the states, that will give us satisfactory control of the trusts or big corporations, and the result is at present that we have a great, powerful, artificial creation which has no creator to which it is responsible.

"What I hope to see is power given to the national legislature which shall make the control real."

Combes To Leave Post.

London, Aug. 26.—In a dispatch from Paris the correspondent there of the Daily Chronicle says M. Combes, the French Premier, has announced his intention of resigning on the re-opening of the chamber of deputies.

Rouvier, minister of finance, or M. Waldeck-Rousseau, the previous premier, to succeed him.

REMARKABLE PATIENT DEAD.

William H. Weeks, Colored Barber, Turned White.

New York, Aug. 26.—William H. Weeks, a colored barber, who was until August 20th a patient in Bellevue Hospital, died Sunday evening on Ward's Island. Weeks suffered from a rare disease. His case attracted much attention. He was admitted to the hospital during the first part of August, and soon after his arrival began to turn white. At the time of his death he was almost as white as a man born to that color.

Weeks lived with his sister, Mrs. Butler, at 216 East Fifty-sixth street. On July 24th he married and gave the clergyman who performed the ceremony two cents and a key. This was the first indication of insanity, but he grew worse, until he was finally removed to Bellevue Hospital. Soon after his arrival a white spot appeared on the back of his neck. Then other spots appeared and spread over his entire body.

Apparently the combination of age, exhaustion, and emotion caused her death.

Pitiful End Of Fine Singer.

Paris, Aug. 26.—Marguerite Duclos, aged thirty-six, a brilliant star of the musical stage ten years ago, has just died in a garret of starvation. She made a sensation by introducing "Ta-ra-ra-Boom-de-ay" to the French public. She then opened an eccentric cabaret known as the "Cafe du Paradis," which was formally closed by order of the prefect of police. She subsequently took to drinking and to morphia and cocaine habits, and gradually sank lower and lower, until she succumbed to phthisis.

Armless Wonder Dead.

Binghamton, N.Y., Aug. 26.—Russell Brown, thirteen years old, and known all over central and southern New York as an "armless wonder," died here Saturday of diphtheria. Russell was born without arms, but had wonderful dexterity in using his feet and toes. He commenced to use his feet as substitutes for hands and arms when he was a baby. Constant use of his toes made them as pliable and controllable as fingers, and there were few things other boys could do that Russell did not practice until he could repeat them.

Was No Trouble.

Berlin, Aug. 26.—The National Zeitung denies the statement emanating from Paris to the effect that the Kaiser and the czar disagreed during their conference at Reval, Russia.
