COMMERCIAL MATTERS.

What is Going on in the Business World—The Market News.

It takes the constant labor of 60,000 people to make matches for the world. Fancy silks are coming more to the front in New York, and jobbers report fair orders. The prospects for the fall millinery opening in Toronto, which begin next week, were never better.

The gold fields of Western Australia are the largest in the world. They cover 324,000 square miles. Swedish sugar beet farmers will form an association for the purpose of securing protective legislation.

Petroleum has been found on the property of N. Tetreau, a Hull notary, about nine miles from Gatinneau.

Toronto reports a good improvement in the wholesale dry goods business this week. The movement in staple goods is firm.

Theodore H. Price, of the New York cotton experts, says: The world's supply of American cotton, visible and invisible, is less, with one exception, than it has been any time since the American war.

The American apple crop this year will be one of the best since the record breaking yield of 1896, when 69,000,000 barrels were gathered. The yield may reach 40,000,000 barrels, representing a market value of $34,500,000.

There is an active demand for men's and women's wear stuff. Canadian goods are still popular. There is difficulty in getting women's woolen goods for the fall trade—supplies of the most desirable kinds from the mills.

The production of anthracite coal in 1900 in Germany was 100,000,000 tons, as against 101,000,000 tons in 1899; the production of lignite coal was 49,000,000 tons in 1900 and 44,000,000 tons in 1899; raw iron, 8,500,000 tons in 1900 and 8,100,000 tons in 1899; copper, 37,000 tons in 1900 and 35,000 tons in 1899.

Grand Opera House.

The sweetest and purest play ever written of American home life is "Shore Acres," which is to have a fine scenic production at the Grand on Thursday, September 4th, and the success it has gained throughout the country during the past nine years is justly deserved.

Readers who have been charmed by a recital in poetry or prose of beautifully wrought idea will find in "Shore Acres" a play that will send them to the theatre time and again, and cause them to send their friends. The story of love, hope, faith, patience, ambition, and greed, that makes up the circumstances of everyone's life is told in a masterly manner by the simple folk Mr. Herne introduces in this charming idyl.

Brookville had a chapter of accidents on Thursday and Friday. William Casselman, employed at the James Smart works, narrowly escaped receiving fatal injuries. His right arm was drawn into the gearing of a cog wheel and painfully lacerated. May Sullivan, aged twelve, was knocked down by a bicycle and her right leg broken. H. H. Bellamy, an old man, was struck by a train, but only slightly injured.

Large space in the Review of Reviews for September is given to the farmer and his interests. Cy Warman contributes an account of the recent migration of United States farmers to the wheat lands of North West Canada. The process for extraction of nitrogen from the atmosphere, recently installed at Niagara Falls, is described in an illustrated article by Thomas C. Martin.

THE CONTRAST BETWEEN THE ACTIONS OF THE KINGS

Emperor William is Effusive—King Victor is Careful and Correct—Wreath for a Tomb.

Berlin, Aug. 30.—The contrast between the effusiveness of Emperor William and King Victor Emmanuel's carefully worded utterances has already aroused attention. The Kaiser was enthusiastic as usual in toasting the king at the banquet, on Thursday night, but the Italian monarch made only a correct formal response.

The Yossische Zeitung, the leading liberal organ of the capital, remarks that the roles of monarch appear to have been changed. The possessor of the southern Italian temperament has touched only the real material side of things while the successor of the Prussian soldier kings has thought fit to imitate the eloquence of southern parts of Europe. Up to the present time King Victor has simply observed the usual international courtesies. His speech, which was placed on Emperor Frederick's tomb, bears this simple inscription in French: "To the Emperor, Victor Emmanuel."

Must Give Up The Body.

Dr. Myles, of Queen's Medical college, was asked today if the medical faculty intended handing over the body of James Higinbotham to the bathhouse. He replied that the soldiers went about the matter in the right way, the faculty would have to give it up. The law provides that if a body is demanded from a college within fourteen days and all charges paid, it must be delivered on the order of his police magistrate. It is quite likely the bathhouse will renew their demand, and bury old "Bido."

WHAT HAS BEEN DONE.

Recent High School Regulations.

By the recent changes in the high school course of studies and examinations, the minister of education has done much to make the work more easily understood by all interested in secondary education.

Hereafter there will be but one examination for a second class certificate. Instead of students passing examinations in the lower forms hereafter, the principals of the schools will have to certify to their having pursued the regular course of studies in their forms. For a first class certificate there will also be but one examination, but owing to the number of subjects included in this course pupils may divide it into two parts.

The chief change effected in the course of studies is the abolition of Latin and the making of chemistry a compulsory subject for second class certificates. This change is optional for three years and then becomes compulsory. For a first class certificate Latin remains a compulsory subject.

These changes give rise to three main courses of study in high schools and collegiate institutes: 1. The commercial course, including English, arithmetic and the strictly commercial subjects of book-keeping, stenography and typewriting.

2. The course for teachers' certificates. If the candidate aims simply at securing a second class certificate he should not take up the study of Latin, but if he has any thought of securing a first class certificate he should commence Latin in his first year at high school.

3. The matriculation courses. These involve the study of the languages and any student having a profession in mind should begin Latin as early as possible.

4. It will be possible for students to combine the second and third courses by taking two foreign languages and writing on them in addition to the regular work for a second class certificate.

5. It will be possible for students to combine the second and third courses by taking two foreign languages and writing on them in addition to the regular work for a second class certificate.

Grows From Old Bachelorhood.

When poverty looks in at the window love vacates the room. A woman—often says "It's no use talking," but she never means it. You can't convince a girl that marriage is a failure until after she tries it.

It takes little to make a woman happy and less to make her miserable. An Ohio woman recently preached her husband's funeral sermon. She was bound to have the last word.

When marriage is a failure it is usually the masculine end of the combination that is called upon to pay up.

A woman will scream at sight of a mouse, but a millinery bill that makes her husband shake in his shoes never troubles her.

When a woman doses her invalid husband with herb tea and he doesn't get well she considers him either contrary or ungrateful.

According to statistics, out of each 1,000 people in love sixteen become hopelessly insane. The other 984 are only temporarily out of their heads.

AS TO RECENT WRECKS IN ST. LAWRENCE.

A Canadian Pittsburgh—Commissioner McDougald Says That Sydney Will be a Great Centre.

Ottawa, Aug. 30.—John McDougald, commissioner of customs, has returned from Sydney. "Sydney," said the commissioner, "is beginning to assume the appearance of a city. A steel mill will be erected before many months have expired, and other industries will follow."

"Sydney will be a second Pittsburgh, but on a smaller scale. In some respects the town is better situated than the American iron and steel centre. It has a practically inexhaustible supply of coal and iron almost at its very door, and its port is open for nine months in the year."

"The Nova Scotia Steel company is laying out a new iron smelting plant, and the foundations and furnaces and stoves are already in. This plant will have a capacity of 250 tons of pig iron per day, and there is room alongside for another plant of the same capacity."

"The company will also install at an early date a new steel furnace." Charles Gordon Rogers, who has returned from New York, has been appointed private secretary to Mr. O'Halloran, deputy minister of agriculture. Mr. Rogers was some time ago private secretary to Prof. Robertson.

Hon. James Sutherland has appointed a commission of enquiry to make investigation into the wrecks which have recently occurred on the St. Lawrence route. Commander Spain will be the commissioner.

Complaint is made of a shipment of apples, from Galt to Winnipeg, containing very inferior fruit and the inspector has been instructed to prosecute the shipper.

There will probably be a big circulation of Dominion notes this fall, as a number of the Canadian banks will by that time have reached the limit of the circulation of their own bills allowed by law. No doubt several will make use of Montreal, Merchants' Bank of Canada, and Bank of Commerce bills to tide them over till the circulation falls again toward winter.

John Loftus of Ottawa, Nicholas Loftus of Perth, and Francis Loftus of Lockport, N.Y., have received legal notification that they are the heirs of an estate valued at $7,000,000, by the death of their uncle, Sir Francis Loftus, Kilkenny, Ireland. The estate consists principally of landed property in Ireland. It is very extensive and includes the freehold of several small towns, where the real estate has been let on building leases; much of which will soon be falling in. The legal adviser of the heirs is Hon. Edward Blake.

A Floating Palace. Watertown, N.Y., Times. Many Watertown, N.Y., Times readers will recall with varying emotions the old "Hub Island" hotel, which almost completely covered Hub Island, midway between Thousand Island and Grand Island Parks, and which burned about twenty years ago. The island has since been uninhabited save for an occasional tenting party. Many are the stories told of days and nights of hilarity at this hostelry. The young people of Thousand Island Park, who enjoyed dancing, which was at that time strictly tabooed by the management of the association, would frequently join the many parties at this place, as well as others from surrounding islands, and trip the "light" till the light of the morning. Many will also recall the popularity of the famous "Hub Punch" dispensed there, as well as other confections which a sleek "mixerologist" was constantly springing to tickle the palates of his customers and separate them from their coin.

All this is now changed for the better, too, and the island, so nicely located and which has so long been constantly looked at by prospective purchasers of island property has been purchased by Andrew Craig Fields of Dobb's Ferry, the price paid being $2,500 and renamed "Craig Isle."

A skiff house, new docks and other minor improvements are now being made, and next season a new cottage of generous proportions will be built, as well as a yacht house to accommodate a beautiful 90-foot launch which will have its home here.

Came Back To Him. Gananoque Reporter. Six years ago E. W. Delong was teaching school at Beachburg in the county of Renfrew. One day at recess, while the pupils were out at play he slyly whittled a fifty-cent silver piece with his knife, cutting away the centre design on one side, and engraving his initials in its place. He afterwards paid the coin out in making a purchase, and forgot all about it. Three years ago a commercial traveller in making change at North Bay, again it was forgotten till a few days ago. Mr. Delong had been giving lessons on the mandolin to a young woman in Lansdowne; and a young man, who she paid him for the tuition was the identical half dollar on which he had cut his initials, and on which the letters remained clear and distinct. He intends to keep it now as a sort of returned wanderer, and an interesting souvenir of other days.
