Powers-Any Idea of Negotiations With Them is Out of the Question.

London, Sept. 2.-In cases of nathat is possible." tional emergency Great Britain must | Sir Edmund, after referring to the continue to place great reliance upon results of the conference on such quesvoluntary patriotism. This is in effect | tions as imperial and naval defence what Mr. Chamberlain said in his ad- and newspaper postage, etc., said that dress to the Birmingham ambulance he thought that all concerned were brigade, but as his remarks were open very well satisfied with the results of question was that in which the colony dictated by the differences in our conial secretary declared that the nation ditions, geographical and financial. "I would not sanction the expenditure think," he continued, "it was a most necessary to enable it to be fully pre- important and most significant gathpared to meet an exceptional emer- ering, and if as much progress gency like the South African war. He made in each successive conference, now says his meaning was that the shall be doing well for the solidarity nation would not consent to maintain and strength of the empire.' a standing army of a quarter of a million men in time of peace and such force would have been necessary in South Africa. In that sense the words A were true, and he meant them to be understood in that manner.

The Eoer generals are warned that the British government will not consent for one moment to regard them as invested with any public or political functions. Anything they may have to say to Mr. Chamberlain wil he listened to courteously, but all idea of negotiations between them and the government will be promptly and firmly repudiated. The altered tone of the London newspapers with regard to Gene. Botha, Dewet and Delarey is caused ov reports emanating from continential sources as to the attitude which they intend to adopt in inter course with the colonial office. Thes reports suggest that the three generals have been led by the influence of Brussels' group into a misconception of the real position which they now hold in this country. The weather is obviously out o sympathy with the labor movement as represented by the Trade Union Congress. The Hyde Park demonstraion was interferred with by rain and vesterday the delegates tramped through a heavy downpour to the first session of congress in Holborne town hall. Sir John McDonnall, on behalf MATINEE AT 3:30. of the London county council, heartily welcomed the delegates to the metropolis. The report of the parliamen tary committee was then presented and will be discussed at to-day's sit ting after the president delivers hi address. The report shows that the delegates to the United States were much impressed by the far-reaching importance of the United States federation of labor. The extremely satis factory progress of federation was marked down as an evidence of grow ing interest in trade unionism. The delegation was pleased to find a close alliance between Canadian and United States unions, Labor interests in th United States, it was noted, had dent of the republic. Nowithstanding the large quantity
