TEXAS MINISTER

PREACHED IN CHALMERS
CHURCH.

Delivered an Able Sermon — His Mother Was a Niece of the Great Scotch Presbyterian, Dr.
Chalmers.

Rev. William H. Leavell, D.D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Houston, Texas, preached in Chalmers church yesterday morning. The doctor is a man of striking presence and a deep, rich voice. In his own church, the Presbyterian church South, he is a leading preacher and organizer.

Yesterday morning his text was Luke x, 21: "The Lord of heaven and earth hideth things from the wise, and reveal-eth them unto the foolish." It was explained why they were hidden from the one class and revealed to the other. The aristocracy of intellect, the wise and the prudent certainly occupied a high place in the leadership and esteem of men, but their arrogance might be as great as their intellect and cultured pre-eminence, and arrogance always came between God and any great disclosure of His grace to man.

On the other hand, love, sympathy, the disposition to serve opened up the treasures of the Divine. The sermon was a brilliant specimen of able reasoning, clothed in tender evangelical preaching, clothed in language at once rich and transparent, and was much enjoyed by the congregation.

Dr. Leavell, though himself an unmistakable southerner, no doubt felt at home in Chalmers, for his mother was a Chalmers, a niece of the great Chalmers, after whom the church was named. The doctor and Mrs. Leavell and their daughter have made many friends during their visit to this city of the north.

Last evening, Dr. Leavell occupied the pulpit of Cooke's church.

Princess Street Church.

Special services were held in the Princess street Methodist church yesterday to mark the opening of the largest and improved Sunday school building in the rear of the neat little church. Rev. W. T. G. Brown, of St.
Lambert, Que., a former popular young pastor, occupied the pulpit at both the morning and evening services, preaching eloquently to overflowing congregations. In the afternoon the Sunday school service was also of a special nature. The attendance was large, there being at least 250 persons in the new hall. The greatly increased attendance is an evidence of the good Sabbath school work being accomplished by the energetic pastor, Rev. Thomas Brown.

The improvements to the school building necessitated an expense of $6000. Of this amount $1000 has already been provided for. The church offering yesterday morning amounted to $82, and the evening offering was also liberal.

At the 7 p.m. service Rev. W. T. G.
Brown preached eloquently and convincingly from Genesis xvi, 9, "And Jacob said to Paracch, the day of the years of my pilgrimage are an hundred and thirty years; few, and will have the days of the years of my life been, and have not attained unto the days of the years of the life of my fathers in the days of their pilgrimage." The sermon that followed dealt with the character of Joseph, and the lessons of life that could be drawn from it. It had been said that Jacob was a thorough type of Jew. He had a mingling of good and evil in his character. We must despise his craftiness and his trickery, which he inherited naturally from his mother, but we must admire his true perception of spiritual things, his perseverance and his deep affection. The spirituality of his character put him far beyond any other man of his time. When he purchased his brother Esau's birthright for a mess of pottage he did a mean and base thing. Under the name of "business ability" we see the name of things done to men. Men call it making a good bargain when they take advantage of one who is in difficulty and whom they can crush under their heel. The manipulation of tools and the amassing of wealth thereby is just as much an act of wrong.
Fraud and deception will in time color one's whole life.

But Jacob had another side to his character; he was a man of self-reliance. This is necessary to success in every life. Men need more backbone to make a right decision and then to stand by it. We should be ready to give support, not always to be looking for it. There is no superannuation in life as there is in business; we must always rely upon ourselves. Jacob wrestled with the angel all night, and then would not desist, unless the angel would promise Jigech his blessing. Do we expect success in life? Then we must achieve it, not by hook and by crook, by honest means if we can, and by foul if we must, but we must ask the help of God and do our best.

There was constance in Jacob's character. He served seven years for Rachael, and was deceived in the end.
When he was 120 years old, time had not dimmed the beauty of his face.

He showed persistence when he wrestled all night with the angel.
Then it was that he gave himself wholly to God. It is persistence that wins the battles of life and overcomes the difficulties that beset the lives of men.

AN OLD WAR.

Pretty Near Time To Stop.

Wouldn't it make your friend mad to tell her she was in reality a drunkard, but many women are drunkards unconsciously from the use of coffee, which wrecks their nervous systems, and they seem unable to reform.

A lady in Philadelphia, Pa., was very badly affected by coffee, causing her to have nervous prostration, and she finally woke up to the fact that she was in reality a coffee drunkard.

Her doctor had told her that she must give up coffee, but she seemed unable to do it.

One day she read an advertisement about Postum Food Coffee, and thought she would give it a trial. She says: "Coffee had such a strong hold on me that at first I did not like it at all. Postum, however, had added a tablespoonful of coffee. After a while I quit putting coffee in at all, and soon found I felt much better. Continued use stopped my headaches and biliousness, and I soon noticed that my nervousness had evidently left me for good. Now I would not use anything else, and the smell of coffee makes me sick."

"I am using your Grape-Nuts also, and think it is a wonderful food. I initially had an attack of indigestion by eating nothing but Grape-Nuts and drinking Postum for two weeks, and now I can eat solid food and feel no distress." Name given by Postum
