PUSHED HIM OFF.

The Yachting Party Concealed a Murder.

New Orleans, Sept. 10.—A woman's conscience has compelled her to reveal the mystery in the death of Earl C. Lukens, manager of the New Orleans branch of an eastern correspondence school. Lukens was believed to have been accidentally drowned on the evening of August 31st. On that evening a party-boarded the yacht Indian for a sail down the river. On the yacht's return it was announced that Lukens had accidentally fallen overboard and was drowned. His body was recovered two days later.

Mrs. Kate Jarreau, the young wife of a travelling man, has confessed to Coroner Richard, that she pushed Lukens overboard. Mrs. Jarreau said that she had been "taunted by Lukens and had warned him that if he kept on she would throw him overboard." He had continued and she made good her threat. Mrs. Jarreau went on to say that she had wished to tell the truth about the affair on the night of the drowning but had been prevented by Hans Reig, a member of the party, who had warned everybody that in justice to her good name they would all stick to the accident theory. Mrs. Jarreau is held by the police as a witness. After she told her story a search was made for Reig, and it was discovered that he had left the city.

Offered Advisory Positions Under the South African Government—Are Feeling Rheumatic as a Result of Exposure—To Draw Up Proclamation.

London, Sept. 10.—The Boer generals left yesterday afternoon on their way to The Hague to meet the leaders and draft a proclamation setting forth the object of the mission. Secretary Ferris says they will not lecture in Europe at all, but probably will reserve their speeches for the United States, where they are sure of a sympathetic reception. Although as yet, they have made no appeal for funds they have received so far voluntary contributions amounting to about $10,000.

Secretary Brebner says the generals will be offered advisory positions under the government in South Africa. It is doubtful whether they will accept as their main anxiety now is to return to their farms. Gen. Dewet, whose wife is now on his farm, refused to visit some friends, returning on Thursday to take the steamer King Edward for Cleveland, their future home.

Our new member's Scotch flay was unruffled on the speaker's stand, but a heavy shower passing over the town about 4:30 p.m. no speeches were made. Tea was served to several hundred in the pavilion. Mr. Matheson, traveller, Hamilton, danced a great many Scotch steps, and the Irish jig betimes. Piper Dolan from up north played for the Scotch reel, the Scotch piper and Mr. Matheson joining the Highland lasses in the dance.

The steamer City of the Straits gave a large excursion to the Detroit citizens on Friday last. They returned on Tuesday afternoon. The steamer King Edward will run an excursion from Sault Ste. Marie from this and all intermediate ports on Saturday to enable people to visit the Algoma Central fair.

The chief aim of the new institution is to teach American history, though other branches of learning will not be neglected.

WEDDED AT GODERICH.

A Kingston Girl One of The Principals.

Goderich, Sept. 8.—St. Peters, Goderich, on Tuesday last week, announced the happy tidings, that a marriage was being consummated within its walls. The bride was Miss Katie Fowler, Kingston, and the bridegroom, Daniel Slattery, of town. The bride looked lovely, attired in a handsome tailor-made suit of broadcloth, with brown velvet and green foliage. In her hand she carried a handsome prayer book bound in crimson. The bridesmaid, Miss Catherine Slattery, sister of the groom, wore a handsome costume of brown ladies' cloth with pink straw hat, trimmed with long white ribbon and apple blossoms. The groomsmen were Jack Phelan, of town. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. West. Miss Lena Neville played the wedding march as the bridal party entered the church. At the offertory, during the celebration of mass, "Ave Maria, Guardian Dear," was beautifully rendered by Miss Nellie McDonald, Miss Webb assisting in the duo parts, and the choir joining in the refrain.

After mass was over the happy bridal party, and their guests drove to the residence of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Slattery, East street, where a very stylish and sumptuous dinner awaited them. The table was beautifully decorated with flowers, and the fourth story bride's cake was placed in the centre. The bride received some very handsome gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Slattery took the afternoon train for London to visit some friends, returning on Thursday to take the steamer King Edward for Cleveland, their future home.

IN DEADLY PERIL.

Governor Odell's Escape From Trolley Collision.

Syracuse, N.Y., Sept. 10.—Governor Odell and about twenty prominent men were in deadly peril yesterday afternoon. They were being driven in a coach to the State fair grounds, and a quarter of a mile off had to cross a car track. Lieut-Gov. Woodruff held the reins, and as the coach reached the track, a car, running at a high rate of speed, flashed into view.

Mr. Woodruff cracked his whip and endeavored to urge on the leaders as he realized the peril. The governor was by his side. The front wheels of the coach had reached the trolley's highway. On came the big car. The leaders pranced where they stood, but the coach did not advance. The party was squarely in the car's path, which was bearing down at a swift pace upon them.

When within fifty feet of the coach the motorman of the car raised his eyes and his face grew white. With all the power in his strong arms he turned his wheel. Gripping the motor with a grasp of iron he put every ounce of strength in his body to the work. Despite the fact that the car was on a down grade and running at full speed, he brought it to a full stop. The danger had passed. But twenty feet remained between the car and the coach, which was still on the track.

It was one of those escapes which stir men's pulses when they recall it. It made a deep impression on every one on the tallyho. The president's narrow escape from a trolley under somewhat similar circumstances emphasized the sense of the relief when the danger had passed.

HAS ACCEPTED PLAN.

Philadelphia Paper Claims Strike Will Soon End.

Philadelphia, Sept. 10.—The North American says that J. P. Morgan has assented to a plan proposed by Governor Stone of Pennsylvania for ending the coal miners' strike. The plan, in brief, is for the mine workers to return to work, without a signed agreement that the operators, by concession, adjust the differences existing between the men and the companies, that after awaiting a reasonable time if the operators fail to do this, an arbitrator be appointed and that if the men deem the decision of the arbitrator unjust, then the men can again go on strike.

The paper also says that Governor Stone immediately telegraphed President Mitchell for the conference, and that the meeting between the governor and the miners' chief will take place probably to-day.

Mitchell Not Heard From Stone.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Sept. 10.—President Mitchell said he had received no communication from Governor Stone with reference to a conference. As far as he knew the strike situation was unchanged.

DISCRIMINATED AGAINST

Canadian Tobacco Company Up Against It.

Windsor, Sept. 10.—Robert Pinbin, Windsor, one of the principal owners of the Consumers Tobacco company, of Leamington, testified yesterday before the Royal commission which is investigating the alleged tobacco combine, that the output of tobacco by his company, owing to a contract entered into between the Empire Tobacco company, of Granby, Que., which is allied with the trust, and the wholesalers of Canada, was being discriminated against because of the contracts made by the American company and the Canadian wholesalers, which prevented the latter from handling the output of the independent companies in any way.

Robert Wigle, Leamington, and George Wilkinson, Mersea, were called upon to testify on behalf of the American company, but their evidence amounted merely to the statement that they were quite satisfied with the prices paid them by the Empire company. The commission will conclude its sessions here to-day and will adjourn to London for the taking of further evidence.
