CITY'S CABBIES. THEY OWN GOOD HORSES AND TURNOUTS.

Are a Decent Lot of Fellows—'Tis a Hard Life to Follow—Showing Visitors About the City—No Exorbitant Prices. The cabbies of the city have had a very successful season. The number of United States visitors was large this year, and there was a good demand for the cabbies' services. If the visitors engage a cab for an hour only they will not be taken outside the city. First, the driver will take them to the Du Pont barracks, then in succession to the armouries, Frontenac Park, out Clergy street, to St. Mary's cathedral, to the court house, Queen's university, etc. A visit will also be paid to the City and Macdonald Parks, the dry dock, St. George's cathedral and along King street. Of course other attractive parts of the city can also be visited within the hour.

If the visitors have a couple of hours to spare, their trip will include the penitentiary and Rockwood hospital. The cabbie is always willing and ready to point out the places of interest to the sight-seer, and the many places of Kingston find a strong exponent in him. The visitors invariably, he will tell you, are surprised at the beauties of the Limestone City, and they are very free in expressing their admiration. "What a delightful spot in which to spend the summer," is a remark frequently heard.

The cabbies of Kingston are, in general, a pretty decent lot of fellows—they are honest, courteous and attentive. Of course there are exceptions to prove the rule. The Kingston cabbies possess turnouts that are a credit to the city. In some cities one might find more handsome carriages, but nowhere can a better class of horses be found. Every cabbie here owns a team, and the small, one-horse lumber carts, so common in other cities, are totally wanting in Kingston. The fine teams seen on our streets are good steppers, well-groomed and dexterously handled. This, coupled with neat and serviceable carriages, completes a turnout that the citizens should be proud of.

The cabbies deserved a successful season, for they are a hard-working lot of men. Summer's sun and winter's storm are alike impervious to them. Every day, no matter what the weather, they have to turn out and look for business. Every train must be met, every steambot welcomed into port. Between times the cabs are lined up near the foot of Clarence street, where they stand ready for duty. The average cabbie is a faithful servant to that most exacting of all masters—the public. Do you want a cab at your door at any hour of the night? Just give the driver his instructions, and he is there. He will not be ten minutes early, or ten minutes late; he knows his business, and travels on time.

As the city regulates the cab tariff there are no exorbitant charges to face. In this, as in all other walks of life, it is the man who attends strictly to his business and who is affable and courteous in all his dealings with the public that "gets there." There are cabbies in Kingston who own splendid houses and well-furnished "chickens," however, who, like the great majority of men, can only hope for a competence.

MACDONALD-DINGMAN. Kingston Young Lady Wedded. This Afternoon. At three o'clock this afternoon, at the residence of the bride's parents, Corn street, the marriage took place of Miss Winnifred, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Dingman, to Donald A. Macdonald, Palmerston, Ont. The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. Macgillivray, M.A., in the presence of a large number of guests. Both bride and groom were unattended. The bride was attended in white silk, trimmed with real lace and brocade. She wore the wedding veil, and carried a shower bouquet of white lilies, her travelling suit was of American blue Botney cloth, with hat to match. As the bridal party entered the parlor, which was prettily arranged with flowers, palms, and potted plants, Miss Nellie Handley played Mendelssohn's Wedding March. After the ceremony a very elaborate luncheon was served. The outside guests included the Misses Taylor, Belleville; J. Menzies, Toronto; Mrs. McMurray and Mrs. Wemp, Ottawa; Mrs. Chadd and Miss Chadd, Picton. Amongst the beautiful array of presents were a silver canteen from the Kingston Island Revenue officials, and a large cut glass berry bowl and spoon, engraved, from the Belleville officials. The gift of the bride's father was a handsome Nordheimer piano, and that of the groom a sunburst of pearls. Mr. and Mrs. Macdonald leave on the early evening train for Brockville, thence proceeding to Montreal and Quebec. They will reside in Palmerston.

WOMEN PROHIBITED. From Attending Methodist Conferences and Meetings. Winnipeg, Sept. 10.—The session of the Methodist conference yesterday afternoon was almost entirely occupied by discussion arising out of the recommendations of the committee on memorial as to the advisability of admitting women into general conferences of the church. The question had already been declared to be a constitutional one, requiring a three-fourths majority, and when the vote was taken it stood 126 to 126.

The proposition was therefore defeated. Dr. Rose presented a memorial from Ottawa, asking that the conference define more clearly the conditions involved in the expression, "Cease to be a member of the church."

Rev. Dr. Sutherland presented a communication from Rev. Dr. Ward, financial secretary of the Presbyterian church, enclosing a resolution which had been passed by the general assembly, appointing a committee to meet with committees from other churches having power to enter into arrangements to prevent overlapping in missions. Rev. Dr. Sutherland also presented a communication from Rev. Dr. Lambeth, Methodist Episcopal church south, re the union of Methodism in Japan.

Mr. Gordon, M.P.P., announced that he would place a special train to carry the conference from here to Brandon and return at any time between Thursday and the closing of the conference. Provision will be made for dinner at Brandon, and two hours will be spent there. This he proposed as a small appreciation of what he considered the importance of the visit of the conference to the west.

After some discussion as to what would be the best day for the trip, it was decided to hold it on Friday.

THE BOER VISITORS. Names of Delegates Who Will Tour Canada. Ottawa, Sept. 10.—The two parties of Boers who are to visit this country are from the prisoners who were confined at St. Helena and Ceylon. The St. Helena party will consist of Messrs. Jooste, Lane and Stewart, and will be accompanied by Lieut. Godson, of the South African constabulary, as guide. The Boers from Ceylon are Messrs. Maritz, J. J. J. de Vries and Schooneboom, with J. M. Finley as guide. It was the wish of both Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain and Lord Milner that the Boer delegates should visit Canada before the winter sets in, going afterwards to New Zealand and Australia.

An important timber limit sale was reported to-day. The precise figures are difficult to obtain, but the current version of the deal is that the Montevideo, Pembroke, disposed of a large limit on the Jocke river, in the Mattawa district, to the Pembroke Lumber company, for $225,000. This limit was purchased by the Messrs. Monroe about two years ago, and they are said to have taken a million feet of logs and square timber off it since, at a profit of probably $220,000, so that they have cleared about $200,000 on the transaction, the limit having cost them $150,000.

Toronto, Sept. 10.—This morning at Osgoode Hall, Mr. Winchester, master-in-chambers, dismissed the motion of Local Union No. 20, Amalgamated Sheet and Metal Workers' Association, to have the union dismissed as co-defendant in the suit which the Metallic Roofing company is pressing against certain striking employees and the union, alleging improper interference with its business.

NEW SETTLERS

SIXTY-SIX THOUSAND GO TO MANITOBA. Equal Numbers From United States and From Eastern Canada—Tidings From the West.

Winnipeg, Sept. 10.—Immigration Agent Hall reports about 10,000 arrivals in August; of the number registered, 2,520 were from the United States, 2,500 from Eastern Canada, 957 from England, and the others were European.

The total of registered arrivals from January 1st to the end of August, was 53,100, or thirty-five per cent. more than arrived during the corresponding period of 1901.

If twenty-five per cent were added to include unregistered arrivals, it would show an increase in the population of Manitoba and the North West Territories by immigration of over 66,375 souls.

Of the harvesters who arrived from Eastern Canada during August about 2,000 will settle in the west. The Canadian Northern railway has reverted to the old jobbers tariff after announcing a reduction in rates. This action increases the tariff on goods distributed from Winnipeg twelve to fifty-five per cent.

AT THE GRAND.

"Princess Chic"—Thursday. Kirke La Shelle, librettist of "The Princess Chic," claims that such a production should be liberally interspersed with fun, as a foil for its historical and literary interest. He has therefore wisely provided four clever comedians for this piece in which historical Heroine Hazelton is now the prima donna. The laughter caused by these fun-makers is invariably the result of scintillating dialogue and bright repartee rather than the buffoonery and slap-stick comedy which usually characterizes comic opera. The engagement in this city will be at the Grand on Thursday evening.

"Busy Lizzie"—Monday. George Sidney is surrounded by a company of forty people in his new musical comedy, "Busy Lizzie." There is a chorus of thirty, and the production is richly staged. There are two acts, one a department store and the other a summer hotel. "Busy Lizzie" will be at the Grand on Monday, 15th inst.
