Magistrate Advised Them to go to Work and Give up the Firm But Courteous Reply.

The case of the three striking machinists, Robert Wilson, Robert Hold ing and Henry Brouse, was again called in the police court this morning, when the magistrate announced his verdict. He asked if there was any possibility of a settlement of the difficulty, as an outcome of the action of the board of trade, in attempting to bring about an understanding.

Whiting, for the company, replied that he thought not, and read the following letter which the company had forwarded to the secretary of the board of trade, as a reply to the question of that body:

Kingston, Sept. 13.-In accordance with a promise made to yourself, Messrs, Gaskin and McKelvey, vesterday, we have taken into very careful consideration the representations made by you as to the desirability of arriving at some settlement with the machinists who are out on strike.
