

Are you Bilious? Do you have Sick Headaches? You can be quickly and easily relieved by taking Beecham's Pills

Sold Everywhere. In boxes, 25 cents.

THE GENUINE CALEDONIA SPRINGS WATER HAS THE WORD MAGI PROMINENT ON THE LABEL OF EVERY BOTTLE. DISCOURAGE THE PREVALENT FRAUDULENT SUBSTITUTION.

TRAVELLING.

Kingston & Pembroke & Canadian Pacific Railways.

Annual Western Excursions, Sept. 25th, 26th, 27th, At the Following Fares From Kingston, Ont.

Table listing fares for various destinations: Detroit, Mich. $8.75; Cleveland, Ohio $11.25; St. Paul, Minn. $12.50; etc.

THE BAY OF QUINTE RAILWAY NEW SHORT LINE FOR

Annual Western Excursions, Sept. 25th, 26th, 27th, At the Following Fares From Kingston, Ont.

Table listing fares for various destinations: Detroit, Mich. $8.75; Port Huron, Mich. $11.25; St. Paul, Minn. $12.50; etc.

Lake Ontario & Bay of Quinte Steamboat Co., Limited.

STEAMER NORTH KING ROCHESTER ROUTE

1000 ISLANDS RAMBLE

STEAMER ALETHA

DOMINION LINE MAIL STEAMERS, LIVERPOOL ROUTE

NEW SERVICE Boston to the

Allan Line Liverpool and Londonderry

Ask Our Drivers

THE BOARD MET TO RATIFY TEACHER'S APPOINTMENT

And To Transact General Business

A special meeting of the Board of Education was held last evening.

Communications Considered.

From the W.C.T.U. secretary, in reference to the intended visit to the city of A. W. Beall, M.A., the society's provincial lecturer in the purity department, and asking the board to arrange for his meeting the boys of the various school classes.

From M. M. Dunn, St. Catharines, re-contributing to a national monument to the memory of the Canadian heroine, Laura Secord.—Referred to management committee.

From T. J. Rigney, on behalf of the sisters of the Congregation de Notre Dame, asking the consent of the board to their pupils using physical appliances at the Collegiate Institute for experimental purposes.—Referred to management committee.

From the Hon. Clifford Sifton, federal minister of the interior, acknowledging receipt of resolution of thanks passed by the board for a supply of atlases.—Filed.

Moved by Mr. Meek, seconded by Mr. McIntyre, that Mr. Beall be allowed, on behalf of the W.C.T.U., to co-operate with the teachers of the city in advancing purity among the pupils of the public schools. Mr. Meekkelvey held that the schools should be used for no other purposes than the work prescribed by the educational department. The board, however, were in full sympathy with Mr. Beall's work, and readily passed the motion.

Management Report.

Mr. Meekkelvey presented the report of the management committee, recommending the following accounts:

Inspector Kidd's Report.

Mr. Rathbun's Views.

Mr. Craig's Report.

Mr. McLeod's Report.

Mr. King's Report.

Mr. Shaw's Report.

Mr. Graham's Report.

Mr. Dunlop's Report.

Mr. Harkness's Report.

Mr. Sears's Report.

Mr. Farrell's Report.

Mr. Knapp's Report.

Mr. Hipson's Report.

Mr. Wallem's Report.

Mr. Dolan's Report.

Mr. Eilbeck's Report.

Mr. Green's Report.

Mr. Woodbury's Report.

Mr. Barclay's Report.

REPORT WANTED OF FINANCIAL POSITION OF FAIR ASSOCIATION

Minority of the Aldermen Demand, in the Interest of the Ratepayers, That Such a Report Should be Presented to the Council.

A lengthy debate took place during last night's session of the city council on the application of the treasurer of the fair association for the municipal grant of $500, set apart in the budget.

In connection with this, Ald. Farrell thought that the council should not pay over the money until such time as it had learned the financial position of the fair association.

Ald. Knapp followed in the same strain, and maintained that the citizens would demand that the council be furnished with a financial statement by the fair association before the money was paid over.

Ald. Craig contended that though the amount was set apart in the budget, it was not an absolute grant. No one would object to the grant passing if it was absolutely required to pay off the indebtedness of the fair association, but in any event the money should not be paid over until the council had a statement from the association.

Ald. Graham took the same ground. In any event, it was understood that the money was to be paid over only in the event of the association having a deficit.

Ald. Farrell regretted that all the talking was being done by the one side of the house; but he felt sure that no antagonism was felt or intended. The fair was conducted very successfully, but the money should not be paid unless to meet an actual deficit.

Mayor Shaw stated that last year and the year before the money was paid over without question.

Ald. White and Harkness moved that the grant be placed to the credit of the fair association, and that the city treasurer be instructed to pay the money over.

Ald. Behan and Farrell moved in amendment, to the effect that no action be taken on the application for the grant until such time as the council had received a statement of accounts and disbursements from the fair association.

In support of the amendment, Ald. Behan stated that he did not take this action in a spirit of antagonism, but he considered, with his colleagues, that the council should receive a statement from the fair association, showing its financial position, before the account was passed. The council should have such a statement in justice to the ratepayers. It was not intended to embarrass the fair association, not a man around the board had any such desire and all would go to the extreme in assisting the association if it was shown that they were in need of it. His recollection of the grant was that it was conditional with there being a deficit. The sum was included in the budget as an estimate only; it was not intended to hand over the whole grant if the money was not required. The interests of the association would not stand for two weeks so that a financial statement could be secured from the association.

Ald. McLeod stated his recollection was that no condition was attached to the grant. The council had a representation on the board of directors who would look after the city's interest and if a surplus remained it would be handed back to the city. The council at present could not do otherwise than carry out its obligations to the fair association.

Ald. Craig took exception to Ald. McLeod's statement; the council had set aside the $500 as an estimate; it was not an actual grant, never having been allowed through the council by vote. The council was desirous of encouraging the fair, but it did not follow that when the sum was set apart in the budget it was to be paid over whether it was required or not. The matter would not hurt by allowing the question to stand over for a couple of weeks.

Ald. Wallem supported the contention of the last speaker. It was not an absolute grant, but an estimate of what the city was prepared to pay to the fair association in the event of a deficit. As a business man, he would have to support the amendment until such time as the council had received a statement from the fair association.

Ald. King was of opinion that when the council placed a sum in the budget under the heading of grants, it was absolutely necessary to pay it. This item was as much of a grant as the sum set apart for the hospital or any other purpose. He was clearly of the opinion that no condition was attached to the grant. However, he was of opinion that before a vote was asked on the question, the council should be furnished with a statement of the financial condition of the fair association. The mover and seconder of the resolution might well hold it over for two weeks, as no interests would suffer.

Mayor Shaw informed the council that all the prize money had been paid, but the $500 was required to pay off other indebtedness of the association. There were not any conditions imposed upon the grant.

Ald. Behan took issue with Ald. King's statement regarding the grant being an absolute one. If it was an absolute grant, then the fair association need not hand back to the city one cent in the event of there being a surplus. He understood that the sum was merely a guarantee to the fair association that the city would go so far in paying its obligations.

The fair is a ward of the city and as such the council was merely protecting it. The council has done much more than might a grant. The grounds are maintained at a great cost and a large sum is spent yearly for repairs. Considering the financial position of the fair, it was being very well for the fair; it was left a happy time to ask for money unless an actual deficit existed. He felt no antagonism towards the fair association, but would vote for the grant heartily and soul if it was needed. The citizens should know the financial position of the association.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

REPORT WANTED OF FINANCIAL POSITION OF FAIR ASSOCIATION

Minority of the Aldermen Demand, in the Interest of the Ratepayers, That Such a Report Should be Presented to the Council.

A lengthy debate took place during last night's session of the city council on the application of the treasurer of the fair association for the municipal grant of $500, set apart in the budget.

In connection with this, Ald. Farrell thought that the council should not pay over the money until such time as it had learned the financial position of the fair association.

Ald. Knapp followed in the same strain, and maintained that the citizens would demand that the council be furnished with a financial statement by the fair association before the money was paid over.

Ald. Craig contended that though the amount was set apart in the budget, it was not an absolute grant. No one would object to the grant passing if it was absolutely required to pay off the indebtedness of the fair association, but in any event the money should not be paid over until the council had a statement from the association.

Ald. Graham took the same ground. In any event, it was understood that the money was to be paid over only in the event of the association having a deficit.

Ald. Farrell regretted that all the talking was being done by the one side of the house; but he felt sure that no antagonism was felt or intended. The fair was conducted very successfully, but the money should not be paid unless to meet an actual deficit.

Mayor Shaw stated that last year and the year before the money was paid over without question.

Ald. White and Harkness moved that the grant be placed to the credit of the fair association, and that the city treasurer be instructed to pay the money over.

Ald. Behan and Farrell moved in amendment, to the effect that no action be taken on the application for the grant until such time as the council had received a statement of accounts and disbursements from the fair association.

In support of the amendment, Ald. Behan stated that he did not take this action in a spirit of antagonism, but he considered, with his colleagues, that the council should receive a statement from the fair association, showing its financial position, before the account was passed. The council should have such a statement in justice to the ratepayers. It was not intended to embarrass the fair association, not a man around the board had any such desire and all would go to the extreme in assisting the association if it was shown that they were in need of it. His recollection of the grant was that it was conditional with there being a deficit. The sum was included in the budget as an estimate only; it was not intended to hand over the whole grant if the money was not required. The interests of the association would not stand for two weeks so that a financial statement could be secured from the association.

Ald. McLeod stated his recollection was that no condition was attached to the grant. The council had a representation on the board of directors who would look after the city's interest and if a surplus remained it would be handed back to the city. The council at present could not do otherwise than carry out its obligations to the fair association.

Ald. Craig took exception to Ald. McLeod's statement; the council had set aside the $500 as an estimate; it was not an actual grant, never having been allowed through the council by vote. The council was desirous of encouraging the fair, but it did not follow that when the sum was set apart in the budget it was to be paid over whether it was required or not. The matter would not hurt by allowing the question to stand over for a couple of weeks.

Ald. Wallem supported the contention of the last speaker. It was not an absolute grant, but an estimate of what the city was prepared to pay to the fair association in the event of a deficit. As a business man, he would have to support the amendment until such time as the council had received a statement from the fair association.

Ald. King was of opinion that when the council placed a sum in the budget under the heading of grants, it was absolutely necessary to pay it. This item was as much of a grant as the sum set apart for the hospital or any other purpose. He was clearly of the opinion that no condition was attached to the grant. However, he was of opinion that before a vote was asked on the question, the council should be furnished with a statement of the financial condition of the fair association. The mover and seconder of the resolution might well hold it over for two weeks, as no interests would suffer.

Mayor Shaw informed the council that all the prize money had been paid, but the $500 was required to pay off other indebtedness of the association. There were not any conditions imposed upon the grant.

Ald. Behan took issue with Ald. King's statement regarding the grant being an absolute one. If it was an absolute grant, then the fair association need not hand back to the city one cent in the event of there being a surplus. He understood that the sum was merely a guarantee to the fair association that the city would go so far in paying its obligations.

The fair is a ward of the city and as such the council was merely protecting it. The council has done much more than might a grant. The grounds are maintained at a great cost and a large sum is spent yearly for repairs. Considering the financial position of the fair, it was being very well for the fair; it was left a happy time to ask for money unless an actual deficit existed. He felt no antagonism towards the fair association, but would vote for the grant heartily and soul if it was needed. The citizens should know the financial position of the association.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

REPORT WANTED OF FINANCIAL POSITION OF FAIR ASSOCIATION

Minority of the Aldermen Demand, in the Interest of the Ratepayers, That Such a Report Should be Presented to the Council.

A lengthy debate took place during last night's session of the city council on the application of the treasurer of the fair association for the municipal grant of $500, set apart in the budget.

In connection with this, Ald. Farrell thought that the council should not pay over the money until such time as it had learned the financial position of the fair association.

Ald. Knapp followed in the same strain, and maintained that the citizens would demand that the council be furnished with a financial statement by the fair association before the money was paid over.

Ald. Craig contended that though the amount was set apart in the budget, it was not an absolute grant. No one would object to the grant passing if it was absolutely required to pay off the indebtedness of the fair association, but in any event the money should not be paid over until the council had a statement from the association.

Ald. Graham took the same ground. In any event, it was understood that the money was to be paid over only in the event of the association having a deficit.

Ald. Farrell regretted that all the talking was being done by the one side of the house; but he felt sure that no antagonism was felt or intended. The fair was conducted very successfully, but the money should not be paid unless to meet an actual deficit.

Mayor Shaw stated that last year and the year before the money was paid over without question.

Ald. White and Harkness moved that the grant be placed to the credit of the fair association, and that the city treasurer be instructed to pay the money over.

Ald. Behan and Farrell moved in amendment, to the effect that no action be taken on the application for the grant until such time as the council had received a statement of accounts and disbursements from the fair association.

In support of the amendment, Ald. Behan stated that he did not take this action in a spirit of antagonism, but he considered, with his colleagues, that the council should receive a statement from the fair association, showing its financial position, before the account was passed. The council should have such a statement in justice to the ratepayers. It was not intended to embarrass the fair association, not a man around the board had any such desire and all would go to the extreme in assisting the association if it was shown that they were in need of it. His recollection of the grant was that it was conditional with there being a deficit. The sum was included in the budget as an estimate only; it was not intended to hand over the whole grant if the money was not required. The interests of the association would not stand for two weeks so that a financial statement could be secured from the association.

Ald. McLeod stated his recollection was that no condition was attached to the grant. The council had a representation on the board of directors who would look after the city's interest and if a surplus remained it would be handed back to the city. The council at present could not do otherwise than carry out its obligations to the fair association.

Ald. Craig took exception to Ald. McLeod's statement; the council had set aside the $500 as an estimate; it was not an actual grant, never having been allowed through the council by vote. The council was desirous of encouraging the fair, but it did not follow that when the sum was set apart in the budget it was to be paid over whether it was required or not. The matter would not hurt by allowing the question to stand over for a couple of weeks.

Ald. Wallem supported the contention of the last speaker. It was not an absolute grant, but an estimate of what the city was prepared to pay to the fair association in the event of a deficit. As a business man, he would have to support the amendment until such time as the council had received a statement from the fair association.

Ald. King was of opinion that when the council placed a sum in the budget under the heading of grants, it was absolutely necessary to pay it. This item was as much of a grant as the sum set apart for the hospital or any other purpose. He was clearly of the opinion that no condition was attached to the grant. However, he was of opinion that before a vote was asked on the question, the council should be furnished with a statement of the financial condition of the fair association. The mover and seconder of the resolution might well hold it over for two weeks, as no interests would suffer.

Mayor Shaw informed the council that all the prize money had been paid, but the $500 was required to pay off other indebtedness of the association. There were not any conditions imposed upon the grant.

Ald. Behan took issue with Ald. King's statement regarding the grant being an absolute one. If it was an absolute grant, then the fair association need not hand back to the city one cent in the event of there being a surplus. He understood that the sum was merely a guarantee to the fair association that the city would go so far in paying its obligations.

The fair is a ward of the city and as such the council was merely protecting it. The council has done much more than might a grant. The grounds are maintained at a great cost and a large sum is spent yearly for repairs. Considering the financial position of the fair, it was being very well for the fair; it was left a happy time to ask for money unless an actual deficit existed. He felt no antagonism towards the fair association, but would vote for the grant heartily and soul if it was needed. The citizens should know the financial position of the association.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

REPORT WANTED OF FINANCIAL POSITION OF FAIR ASSOCIATION

Minority of the Aldermen Demand, in the Interest of the Ratepayers, That Such a Report Should be Presented to the Council.

A lengthy debate took place during last night's session of the city council on the application of the treasurer of the fair association for the municipal grant of $500, set apart in the budget.

In connection with this, Ald. Farrell thought that the council should not pay over the money until such time as it had learned the financial position of the fair association.

Ald. Knapp followed in the same strain, and maintained that the citizens would demand that the council be furnished with a financial statement by the fair association before the money was paid over.

Ald. Craig contended that though the amount was set apart in the budget, it was not an absolute grant. No one would object to the grant passing if it was absolutely required to pay off the indebtedness of the fair association, but in any event the money should not be paid over until the council had a statement from the association.

Ald. Graham took the same ground. In any event, it was understood that the money was to be paid over only in the event of the association having a deficit.

Ald. Farrell regretted that all the talking was being done by the one side of the house; but he felt sure that no antagonism was felt or intended. The fair was conducted very successfully, but the money should not be paid unless to meet an actual deficit.

Mayor Shaw stated that last year and the year before the money was paid over without question.

Ald. White and Harkness moved that the grant be placed to the credit of the fair association, and that the city treasurer be instructed to pay the money over.

Ald. Behan and Farrell moved in amendment, to the effect that no action be taken on the application for the grant until such time as the council had received a statement of accounts and disbursements from the fair association.

In support of the amendment, Ald. Behan stated that he did not take this action in a spirit of antagonism, but he considered, with his colleagues, that the council should receive a statement from the fair association, showing its financial position, before the account was passed. The council should have such a statement in justice to the ratepayers. It was not intended to embarrass the fair association, not a man around the board had any such desire and all would go to the extreme in assisting the association if it was shown that they were in need of it. His recollection of the grant was that it was conditional with there being a deficit. The sum was included in the budget as an estimate only; it was not intended to hand over the whole grant if the money was not required. The interests of the association would not stand for two weeks so that a financial statement could be secured from the association.

Ald. McLeod stated his recollection was that no condition was attached to the grant. The council had a representation on the board of directors who would look after the city's interest and if a surplus remained it would be handed back to the city. The council at present could not do otherwise than carry out its obligations to the fair association.

Ald. Craig took exception to Ald. McLeod's statement; the council had set aside the $500 as an estimate; it was not an actual grant, never having been allowed through the council by vote. The council was desirous of encouraging the fair, but it did not follow that when the sum was set apart in the budget it was to be paid over whether it was required or not. The matter would not hurt by allowing the question to stand over for a couple of weeks.

Ald. Wallem supported the contention of the last speaker. It was not an absolute grant, but an estimate of what the city was prepared to pay to the fair association in the event of a deficit. As a business man, he would have to support the amendment until such time as the council had received a statement from the fair association.

Ald. King was of opinion that when the council placed a sum in the budget under the heading of grants, it was absolutely necessary to pay it. This item was as much of a grant as the sum set apart for the hospital or any other purpose. He was clearly of the opinion that no condition was attached to the grant. However, he was of opinion that before a vote was asked on the question, the council should be furnished with a statement of the financial condition of the fair association. The mover and seconder of the resolution might well hold it over for two weeks, as no interests would suffer.

Mayor Shaw informed the council that all the prize money had been paid, but the $500 was required to pay off other indebtedness of the association. There were not any conditions imposed upon the grant.

Ald. Behan took issue with Ald. King's statement regarding the grant being an absolute one. If it was an absolute grant, then the fair association need not hand back to the city one cent in the event of there being a surplus. He understood that the sum was merely a guarantee to the fair association that the city would go so far in paying its obligations.

The fair is a ward of the city and as such the council was merely protecting it. The council has done much more than might a grant. The grounds are maintained at a great cost and a large sum is spent yearly for repairs. Considering the financial position of the fair, it was being very well for the fair; it was left a happy time to ask for money unless an actual deficit existed. He felt no antagonism towards the fair association, but would vote for the grant heartily and soul if it was needed. The citizens should know the financial position of the association.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Advertisement for 'FORCE' cereal, featuring an illustration of a child and text describing its benefits for sleep and nutrition.

Advertisement for Corticelli Spool Silk, featuring an illustration of a woman and text describing the fabric's quality and uses.

Advertisement for Jewelry by Mail, Optical Work, and Carriages, featuring text for Smith Bros., Ryrie Bros., and James Laturney.