QUEEN'S BEGIN

THEIR AUTUMN PRACTICE NEXT MONDAY.

Longshoremen Defeated Athletics—Young is Captain of Queen's Senior Team—Tilton, of Ponies, Will Winter in Gananoque.

Raub, of Montreal, made two home runs in one of the Jersey City matches.

Dundas is one of the new western towns to enter a junior team in the O.R.F.U.

Queen's rugby teams begin practice next Monday. They have four weeks in which to get into shape.

On Saturday the great athletes of Canada and the United States contest in the C. A. A. U. championship games at Montreal.

Tilton and Cooper, the battery for the Longshoremen yesterday, were presented with a box of cigars by T. H. Peloy, for winning the match.

Montreal Shamrocks and Cornwalls play their tie lacrosse match in Montreal on Saturday. The Cornwall team think they can defeat the Irishmen.

Young, who has played outside wing for three years, is captain of Queen's senior rugby team this season, and quarter-back Pannell, of the intermediate team.

The Toronto Star publishes a letter from a Kingston fan, denying the Gananoque onion story, and giving the correct standing of the St. Lawrence league.

An effort is being made to have George Sullivan pitch a match here for Ponies on Saturday or Monday. The match might take place at the fair grounds.

Montreal can win lacrosse and hockey championships, but rugby—never. However, it's McGill's turn this season to round up the intercollegiate championship.

Buffalo play Pittsburg next Monday an exhibition game. The National league champions come to Toronto on Tuesday and the following day they play in Montreal.

In the days of long ago, the Kingston Collegiate Institute had attached to it a good rugby team, but now that game seems to be a lost art at that institution of learning.

At Wolfe Island yesterday afternoon Longshoremen defeated Athletics by nine to six. Tilton pitched for the winners, and Carson for the Athletics. Charles Cummings was umpire.

As soon as most young fellows become proficient at all at baseball, it generally follows that they must have a cigarette stuck in their mouth to look important, or rather tough. Then it is that any playing ability they have is lost.

The Hamilton Herald makes the daring assertion that Kingston is asleep because this old home of rugby has not entered a senior team in the O.R.F.U. This same matter has upset the stomach of handsome Cuthbert, the Tin Horn Tooter of the Toronto Telegram. Better let the sleeping dogs lie, Cuthbert, dear.

Con. Millan says he will back the Scotch machinists against any other association football team in Kingston or district. He has seen the Scotchmen play and says they have more science in playing the game than Canadians ever dreamed of. He is willing to put up a guarantee to arrange matches with teams in the city or surrounding district.

Next week Everett E. Tilton, the clever right fielder of the Ponies, goes to Gananoque, where he has secured a position as electrician in the Gananoque Power company's works. He will be back in Kingston next spring to again play with the Ponies, on which team he is a fixture as long as he desires. Tilton has done some remarkably fine fielding during the past season.

Limestones had another favorable practice in the skating rink last night, when a field of promising players lined up for a couple of hours' canter. Moore, catcher for the Oriental baseball team, was out. So also was Sam Hamilton, Mills, Page, Bearance, Robinson and a host of other promising players. If the Limestones practice faithfully, there is not a bunch in the junior O.R.F.U. that will be able to defeat them.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Movements Of The People—What They Are Saying And Doing.

Miss Nellie Hendershott, Toronto, is visiting friends in the city.

J. G. Elliott and wife left to-day on a holiday trip to Detroit.

Mrs. P. Shannon, Albert street, is visiting her sons at Spencerville.

Mrs. Strachan, Princess street, judged the ladies' work at Wolfe Island fair.

N. C. Polson, University avenue, was in Montreal yesterday, on a business trip.

John Henstridge, of the G.T.R. offices, Montreal, is visiting friends in Kingston.

Miss Gertrude O'Donnell, Barrie street, ill for several weeks, is again able to be out.

Sergt. Morgans and his son E. F. Morgans are giving fencing exhibitions in Brockville this week.

William Robertson, an old Belleville boy, has been elected president of the Federal Supply company, Chicago.

Prof. Dyde, of Queen's university, who spent the summer in Germany, is expected home on Monday by way of New York.

J. E. Johnston, Brock street, left this afternoon for a trip north. He will be absent several days, and expects to bag his share of the ducks.

Prof. Nicol, summering in Germany; Prof. McComb, spending his summer vacation in Ireland, and Prof. Cappon, summering in Scotland, are en route home.

Miss Agnes E. Staley, after a few weeks pleasant visit in Boston and Adirondacks with friends, is spending a few days with her parents on Wolfe Island.

Carl Gardiner and Miss Katie Gardiner, Nelson street, have returned home after camping a month with Dr. Leonard and family, of Napanee, in Prince Edward.

AT THE POLICE COURT.

Five Men Answer to the Old, Old Charge.

Five men—two of them very young—had transgressed the majesty of the law, and they sat in a row on the sinners' bench at the police court this morning.

"John Maloney, stand up," commanded his worship in a tone that meant there would be something doing pretty soon.

"You are charged with being drunk."

"Guilty, your worship."

A pause, and then—"Five dollars and costs or one month in jail." Maloney had been in court before.

William Campbell was not present to answer the same charge, and so a fine of $3 and costs or one month was chalked up against him.

Robert Woodman responded to the calling of his name with a vigorous salute. It was the old, old charge that the walls of the court room have listened to more times than there are sands on the sea shore.

"Yes, I was drunk," pleaded Woodman. "I am very sorry for it. I've worked hard on the boat all summer. The first little drop I took was yesterday. I'm sorry for it, your worship."

But "your worship" promptly replied: "Three and costs or one month."

John Rice and K. Wilson were charged with creating a disturbance in the county on Sunday last. They pleaded not guilty. The case was adjourned until Saturday, when further evidence will be secured and another young man summoned.

Veterans Getting A Move On.

Petetions are being circulated and largely signed, asking that a meeting of the veterans' association of Kingston be called at an early date. The petitions are addressed to Capt. Henry Cunningham, who will doubtless be the new president of the association, and they ask that a new set of officers be elected, who will take an active stand in the matter of the land grants voted by the legislature to the veterans. The old warriors of Kingston, at this coming gathering, will probably draft a petition praying the legislature to grant them their lands in North Frontenac or Addington, where there are thousands of acres of crown lands still unoccupied. They could visit this, they say, in a day, whereas it would take them a week to look over their property in the Nipissing district. Applications for 320 land grants from veterans in the city and over 120 from veterans in the county were forwarded to the legislature.

Raising Tobacco Prices.

The enquiry, by a government commission, into the alleged tobacco combine, seems to have had an ill-effect upon the manufacturers. They have raised the prices of their goods, and in some cases to a considerable extent. The cause of this action on the part of the manufacturers is not known. Local tobacco dealers yesterday received notice that the prices of all tobaccos manufactured by Macdonald (Montreal) would be advanced one cent a pound; and that Tuckett (Hamilton) had advanced his prices still higher. For instance, Tuckett's T. & B. has gone up four cents a pound. Macdonald's tobaccos include most of the popular brands used in the Dominion. The local dealers will be compelled to advance the retail price proportionately—a move that the consumers will not appreciate.

Entertained By Quartette.

On Tuesday evening the Mendelssohn male quartette, assisted by Miss Lola Reyner and Miss Lettie Walker, furnished the programme at an ice cream festival in the Methodist church at Cataraqui. The quartette consists of Messrs. J. Shea, C. W. Walker, G. Gilson and H. Philp. The entertainers were accompanied by a number of their friends from the city.

A DANGEROUS CROSSING.

Councils Should Take Action to Improve It.

"For the past six or eight years the city and county councils have had under consideration various schemes for improving the Montreal street crossing of the Grand Trunk tracks," remarked a physician last evening, "but as far as I can learn the net results of their long debates in council have been a visit or two to the crossing; there the matter has been allowed to end. It has been customary each succeeding year for the councils to appoint committees to act jointly in an attempt to improve this very dangerous crossing, by interesting the Grand Trunk company, but, as I have said, the matter ends with a visit to the crossing. That place has been dangerous enough heretofore, but now the danger has increased by reason of the stretch of tracks being extended, and something should be done to improve it and lessen the danger. What I consider would be a fair distribution of the work and cost would be for the city to build the approach to a subway on the city side, the railroad company that portion under the tracks, and the county the approach on the county side. Something must be done to obviate the present danger at that crossing."

AT THE GRAND.

"A Normandy Wedding" To-night

William Herbert, the baritone of the Grace Cameron Opera company, that will be seen at the Grand Opera House on Thursday, 18th inst, in "A Normandy Wedding," is one of manager Fred. C. Whitney's finds. Young, handsome, he has a magnificent voice. Mr. Whitney has Mr. Herbert on a long contract and thinks that he has one of the most phenomenal voices in the country.

"A Jolly American Tramp."

"A Lyon Relation," which made Sol Smith Russell famous, is by the author who wrote "The Jolly American Tramp," the romantic comedy, which will be seen here at the Grand on Saturday afternoon and evening. In it the author touches that well spring of emotion, the heart.

San Toy Coming.

In order that the music of "San Toy" will be perfectly played and sung this season, Messrs. Stevens and Price have arranged to carry their own orchestra with the company. The "San Toy" management desiring to give just as complete a performance "on the road," as in New York City, have provided a production that lacks nothing in any detail. "San Toy" will be at the Grand on Tuesday, September 23rd. Seats at Hanley's.

STRENGTH AND FOOD.

The First Comes From the Last.

When proper food is used in sickness the recovery is much more rapid and sure, and a food that is good and easy of digestion is right for anyone.

Mrs. H. L. Gordon of Corry, Pa., was taken down with nervous prostration and heart trouble about a year ago and for weeks it seemed that she could not live.

She says, "The medicine I took for my nerves and heart injured my stomach and I grew steadily worse until I could retain nothing. For weeks I was kept alive on one teaspoonful of beef tea and one of lime water every hour and after a while I could not even continue that. I grew weaker and weaker and finally was compelled to use sweet oil to feed the bowels, until one day my daughter suggested that I try Grape Nuts dry, as I could not retain anything moistened. After the third day I began to steadily mend and for weeks and months I ate them three times a day.

When I began eating Grape Nuts I weighed 75 lbs., now I weigh 110 and am doing my housework and eating nearly any and everything. I tell everyone I hear complain of poor stomach to try Grape Nuts and many have on the strength of my cure."

THE BUTTERMILK CLUB.

Deliberations at Last Evening's Meeting.

It is not generally known that the Buttermilk Club is an organization which succeeded that congregation of worthies who met in a Wellington street office for many years. It was formed to discuss public questions, but not to be a nest of chronic grumblers. Sometimes internal matters demand the attention of its members, and that was the case last evening when a quorum had seated themselves in their pews and shivered around the fireless stove.

"Why don't you buy a few quarts of coal?" asked the prospective mayoralty candidate of the president. The latter adjusted his spectacles, and replied that the room was warm enough with the lamp burning. "Coal is too great a luxury nowadays," the president said, but he would gladly receive donations from the members.

Then the presiding official told of the trip he had made to Cape Vincent last Friday. He had gone over to the fair in his full regalia, including a cocked hat, and had arranged for weekly visits of a woolly horse which would drive him about the city of a Sunday afternoon.

The captain announced that a man of the law intended presenting to the club a yellow flag, emblazoned on which would be a cow standing beside a churn. He also wished to know why the president had an altercation with a tall doctor.

"Well it was this way," the president replied, waxing fiery. "He came in here looking for trouble, but started it sooner than he anticipated by holding out his hand for me to shake in that chappie drawing-room style. I got mad, and put him out of the office and chased him down street. If he comes back here there'll be trouble." That explanation satisfied the members, who congratulated the president on his bravery.

Said the member with his feet on the table: "Did you ever notice the happy faces on those who go out of the theatre between acts, and the longing looks of those whose wives or sweethearts will not allow them to go and see a man?"

"Yes," replied the alderman, "and I was surprised to see some of our church pillars go out to get their bitters. I would like to see a refreshment parlor established in connection with the opera house. It would be appreciated."

The president then blew out the lamp, and the members concluded that this was a hint for them to go. So they groped their way to the door in silence, followed by the president with key in hand.

Y.M.C.A. NEWS.

Work Becoming Active—A Competition On.

A handsome gold pin will be donated to the person bringing in the largest number of new Y.M.C.A. members this winter. At least 200 new members are expected, bringing the total membership up to 500 or 600.

Yesterday Secretary Lawrence visited the Kingston foundry, and Charles Selby, the senior proprieter, granted him permission to put up posters and talk to the men concerning association work.

At noon to-day Mr. Lawrence visited the locomotive works and addressed a large number of the men on the subject of the mechanical drawing class, which is to be started at the association rooms under the direction of George Lee, head draughtsman at the works.

The ladies' auxiliary, at their meeting on Friday afternoon, will hold their annual election of officers.

Some fine new posters are now upon the walls of the building.

A fine orchestra has been secured to play at the reception to be given to the young men of the city on the evening of October 2nd. One of the city bands may also be secured. Twelve young men have volunteered to form a reception committee. The rooms will be finely decorated with a pretty arch in the centre of the gymnasium floor for the orchestra.

Portland Township Council.

A meeting of Portland township council was held in Harrowsmith on Monday, September 15th. Minutes of last meeting read and adopted. Several communications were read and ordered fyled. The appointment of township collector was laid over till the next meeting. The reeve was instructed to sign an order for E. Laken upon the completion of his road job. Sums ordered paid: $3.50, to J. Ellerbeck, culvert; $1 to E. Curl, digging graves for two paupers; $3 to T. Griffith, Balderson Creek; $20 to E. Lakens, part payment on work; $8 to Dr. Lockhart, services for 1901; $1 to O. Henderson, culvert; $1 to T. Cowdy, job on bridge; $11.50 to Rathbun Co., plank for boardwalks; $1.50 to W. J. Sproule, damage to buggy; $27 to J. Delimet plank for boardwalks in Petworth; $1 to J. Lakens, culvert. Council adjourned to meet in Verona on October 20th, at 1 p.m.

Attended The Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Ferguson, Alfred street, left on the Cape Vincent boat this morning for Watertown, N. Y., to attend the wedding of Miss Anna H. Hitchcock and Philip H. Winchester, both of that city, which event too place this afternoon. Mr. Ferguson had the honor of "giving the bride away." The fair bride is the only daughter of Mrs. Evaline Hitchcock, 37 Ten Eyck street. Her father, the late Robert Hitchcock, was the patentee of the celebrated Hitchcock lamp. Mr. Ferguson will return to the city to-morrow, but Mrs. Ferguson will remain to spend a couple of weeks with relatives and friends.

ISLAND FAIR.

EXHIBITS AND EXHIBITIONS AT WOLFE ISLAND.

Large Crown in Attendance—A Runaway Broncho and a Brutal Fight—Results of the Horse Races.

Wolfe Island fair was held Wednesday and Thursday, and was favored with good weather. On the opening day there was a large crowd upon the grounds, but the Thursday attendance was nearly twice as great. Large numbers from the city went over. Compared with previous years, the present fair ranks perhaps as the best ever held on the island. The exhibits in all departments were larger than before, especially in ladies' fancy work, where the entries numbered 360. There was a fine showing of horses, cattle and pigs, also of poultry, but some of the latter suffered from being housed in boxes far too small, and of being in want of water. The displays of fruit, vegetables and flowers were not up to a high mark, and hardly creditable to Wolfe Island. R. J. Spoor had a good exhibit of agricultural implements, cutters, etc., upon the grounds.

Besides the baseball and horse races, several other exhibitions occurred which were not scheduled. During one of the running race heats, a broncho, owned by Wallace Mozier, and ridden by George Savell, dashed off the track, and into a crowd of onlookers, who scattered in terror. The broncho galloped madly onward, jumped the line of seating around the baseball diamond, and narrowly missed collision with a little girl. On it sped over the diamond, breaking up the match, and finally jumping over a barbed wire fence out of the grounds. Its rider was thrown off, but unhurt.

Another unsavory incident was a brutal fight, between drivers and others interested in the Township trotting race. At the conclusion of a heat, one jumped off his sulky and attacked the other for unfair methods. Instantly there was a pitched battle, other interested parties taking a hand. The combatants were surrounded by a big crowd, and rolled on the track in a disgraceful fashion. When parted, blood streamed from several wounds. No constable seemed to be on hand to keep order, not even to look after several troublesome drunks, who disgusted the spectators by their ridiculous actions.

There were two horse races, which resulted thus:

Township trot, one mile—Berthn, Charles Woodman, 2, 2, 1, 1, 1; Ben Hur, P. McDermott, 1, 1, 2, 2, 2; Thomas Greenwood's horse was withdrawn after the second heat.

Running race, half mile—Little Maud, Charles Woodman, 1, 2, 1; Minnie S., Dr. McCarthy, 2, 1, 2.

A Kindly Tribute.

Buffalo Courier.

"Reg" Kennedy is dead. There may be men in Buffalo who do not know who "Reg" Kennedy was, but there are few men, few women, and still fewer children in Hamilton, Ont., who were not acquainted with this whole-souled, jolly, honest, clean-cut, clever, gentlemanly Canadian, whose greatest object in life was to make everyone happy, and to spread sunshine wherever he went.

"Reg" Kennedy in his youth was one of the greatest outdoor sportsmen, not only in Canada, but in all America. He held the Canadian championship at cricket, and was always to be found at the front when honest, clean sport needed a champion.

He is dead at the age of sixty. He is dead, regretted by thousands and thousands, who always knew him as a friend, and will miss him for what he was—a man.

If ever Reg Kennedy had an enemy he is yet to be found; if any man, woman or child ever saw Reg Kennedy cross, crabbed or ungentlemanly, that person is as yet unknown. Men have lived and men will live and die for centuries to come no doubt, but if a majority of those now living could, if only in a lesser degree, follow in the sunshinny steps of the late "Reg" Kennedy this world would be full of genuine men and the pessimists would only be noticeable because there would be none. "Reg" Kennedy was a living example of a "Don't Knock."

A Squeal From Boston.

Boston Record.

Those striking street car employees down in Rhode Island who haven't got their places back ought to migrate to Kingston, Ont., where motormen are allowed to sit on the front seat and put their feet on the dash board while the car whirls along through suburban districts. This paradise for street car railroad men is also distinguished by a church dedicated to the "Good Thief." This "Church of the Good Thief" was built entirely by convicts from the penitentiary near by.
