NAPANEE CASE HEARD.

Tree Trimming on the Public Streets Called in Question.

Toronto, Sept. 26.—Chancellor Boyd reserved judgment at Osgoode Hall in a tree-trimming case from Napanee.

Mrs. Allen, a resident of the town, is the plaintiff, and she sought to quash a resolution of the village council, by which power was given to an individual to trim trees in front of her residence. Her counsel, C. R. W. Biggar, contended that the council had no power to do anything of the kind, that the privilege was limited to cities of 10,000 population and over.

Mr. Middleton argued that the village had a perfect right to keep the streets and highways passable, and that Mrs. Allen's trees were trimmed for the purpose of beautifying the street and making it safe for pedestrians.

Death In This Bite.

St. Joseph, Mo., Sept. 26.—Mrs. Malgeline W. Rode is dead, and Dr. Walter H. Marris, her physician, and undertaker E. J. Williams are suffering from blood poison as the result of a spider bite received by Mrs. Rode. The doctor and undertaker were stricken from contact with the poisoned body of the woman.

Toronto jewelry workers have made a demand for a reduction of the week's working hours from fifty-five to forty-nine, and say that unless it is granted they will go out. Business is very prosperous just now.

WELSH COAL.

Price Advanced Owing To Demand.

FAST WAR SHIP

MADE OVER TWENTY-FOUR KNOTS AN HOUR.

Industrial Commission to Sail For United States — Trade With the Transvaal — Wireless Telegraphy Being Perfected.

London, Sept. 26.—It is stated that in consequence of American demand for Welsh anthracite coal, the price has advanced two shillings a ton. American enquiries for this coal have suddenly been checked, but it is thought that is only a temporary matter. When the exporters found that the American demand was interfering with their supplies to regular customers, they charged an extra two or three shillings for shipments to the United States. As a result of the anthracite strike in the Pennsylvania coal region, about 350,000 tons of Welsh coal have been shipped to New York, Philadelphia and Boston in the past month. This is only about one-third of the amount demanded.

A Berlin despatch to the Morning Post says that Germany will not join in the appeal of Mr. Hay, United States secretary of state, and the Marquis of Lansdowne, the British foreign secretary, to the signatories of the Berlin treaty, in regard to anti-semitic legislation in Roumania, on the ground that it is a domestic concern of that country, and, also, because other clauses of the treaty, such as those referring to the razing of Roumanian forts, have been ignored.

Nothing has been heard at the Corean consulate in London confirmatory to the report of the death of the King of Corea.

Lord Salisbury, ill in Switzerland, is expected to start for his country house at Beaulieu, Monday.

The British first-class armored cruiser Drake, 14,100 tons, returned to Portsmouth this evening after undergoing her engine trials, which proved that she is the fastest war vessel in the world, outside of torpedo boat destroyers. She made 24.40 knots, which high speed was partly due to an improved type of propeller.

Marconi arrived in London last evening on his return from Italy and the south of Europe, where he has been conducting a series of important experiments in wireless telegraphy. He declined to speak of any transaction which may have taken place between his company and the German government. Considerations of high policy, he said, prevented him from saying what Germany had secured or had aimed at. He added: "The principal truth that I have demonstrated this time is that wireless telegraphy is not stopped, or even obstructed by great mountains. I have been able to send wireless messages across the Alps without any hindrance. My wireless messages have gone from England to Africa by way of British ships, and I have no doubt whatever as to sending wireless messages direct from England to America very soon. Means are being perfected and messages will soon be sent."

Alfred Mosely's industrial commission, it is expected, will leave for New York about the end of next month, to enquire into conditions and methods of labor in America.

The Earl of Dudley, the new lord lieutenant of Ireland, was accorded a mixed reception in making his state entry to Dublin yesterday. The students of Dublin university were, as usual, on such occasions, extremely enthusiastic as the procession passed college green, but at the city hall, the crowd was decidedly unfriendly. On the whole, however, the demeanor of the people was respectful.

The Times's Johannesburg correspondent says that events in the Transvaal every day testify to the unwisdom of delay on the part of the home government regarding the amount of war indemnity to be imposed on the conqueres Boers. Industrial development in the Transvaal is at a standstill. A large amount of capital waiting for the official establishment of peace to be devoted to the development of the country, is still locked up in the banks until the intentions of the government are known. One company has work waiting which will necessitate an outlay of £10,000 a month, but the management hesitates to inaugurate operations at present, owing to the general feeling of mistrust prevailing. This is but one of many instances that could be mentioned, says the correspondent, showing to what extent the Boer country suffers from its enforced inactivity.

The latest mining statistics, says a Johannesburg correspondent, include a return showing a steady increase in the number of white men employed in the mines. In 1898, the last completed year in which the mines were worked, the annual report stated that 9,476 white men were employed, and 5,765 stamps were working. In August of this year 9,122 white men were at work, and only 2,455 stamps were in operation. In July and August the increase in the number of white workers in the mines was 1,988. The increase in native workers for the same period was 1,330. One mine was sunk in August to a record depth for the rand entirely by white labor, and the cost was little above the average. The experiment was so satisfactory that it is understood it will be repeated in other mines.

It is expected the remaining 15,000 Boer prisoners will return to South Africa, before the end of the present year. The total number of persons who have so far returned to their farms is 23,941 and 29,000 remain in camp.

A Paris despatch says a petition to the government is being circulated for signature by shopmen, seamstresses, commercial travellers, and others suffering from the closing of religion institutions, which closing, it is declared, has resulted in a considerable falling off in their business, and has caused many to lose their employment. The petition urges that all authorizations applied for under the association's law be granted so as to save the petitioners from poverty.

TIDINGS FROM OTTAWA.

Canadian Teachers Sail — Sir Henry Strong Retiring.

Ottawa, Sept. 26.—Cyrus Atcheson, of Edmonton, N.B., appointed assistant master of the Normal school at Pretoria, and Miss Annie L. Briggs, of Sussex, N.B., appointed assistant mistress, will sail by the Tunisian on Saturday for England, where they will take passage for South Africa.

The deputy officers have been instructed by the deputy minister of militia to advance $25 to each of the 250 men of the Canadian Mounted rifles who returned from South Africa.

The public works department is remodelling the ventilation system of the house of commons for the health of members. There will be by the new plan a complete change of air every three minutes. Fresh air is drawn in from above and carried off by exhaust pipes in the floor. Several new rooms are also being fitted up in the top storey.

Hon. A. G. Blair is making arrangements for a trip to the west. He will likely go as far as the Pacific coast.

Sir Henry Strong will preside at the opening meeting of the Supreme Court on October 7th, and will deliver judgments in the outstanding cases. After that, it is understood, he will retire and become president of the commission to revise the Dominion statutes.

The 3rd Special Service Battalion, which has been doing garrison duty at Halifax and is now being disbanded, has been stationed there two years and six months. The regiment is 1,000 strong, and cost Canada about one million dollars.

DOUKHOBORS SORRY.

Pathetic Scenes Witnessed at Sale of Their Cattle.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 26.—The sale of the live stock of the fanatical Doukhobors who believe that they cannot use the products of any of the lower animals, or use them as beasts of burden, took place at Fort Pelly, near the Indian reserve, under rather peculiar circumstances.

The Doukhobors in several instances regretted the fact that they had driven away their cattle, and in pitcous tones pleaded for them. The animals were in many cases pets of the owners. However, the government had stepped in, and, acting for their best interest, sold to a number of American in this vicinity, most of stock. The proceeds will be devoted to the Russians. In all there were nearly a thousan head sold including cattle, horses and sheep.

The action of the Government, while criticized in many quarters, can only be considered a wise one. There are only two thousand of the Russians afflicted with this religious mania, and they have nothing between them and starvation, but the proceeds of the sale of their stock.

Three of the socialists who have been using the fifth chapter of Romans to influence the Doukhobors, have been driven out of the country.

BIG COAL BREAKERS

Are Beginning to Be Operated in Coal Fields.

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 26.—The big breaker at Williamstown was operated yesterday, and over two hundred waggons of coal were handled. No interference was attempted by the strikers. The breaker at Lykens will be started to-morrow to run out the coal mined this week. Both buildings will be strongly guarded.

There are over 350 men at work in the mines in the Lykens region, which is in the lower end of the Schuylkill county.

To See Morgan.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 26.—Bishop Samuel Fallows, of Chicago, who will shortly complete a tour of the strike district, says he is going to New York to see J. P. Morgan in the hope that he will be able to induce him to take some action toward ending the strike.

"I think Mr. Morgan will see me," said the bishop. "If he is unwilling I shall insist on his seeing me. The miners should win. They are standing firmly together, and their cause is just. In all equity and fairness, their grievances should be arbitrated. The operators have too long defied public opinion."

To Attack Butterine Law.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 26.—Information is coming to light showing that leading oleomargarine manufacturers are planning a big fight against the law which amounts to a prohibition of their business. The output of oleomargarine in the central west, where most of the supply comes from, has decreased more than two-thirds since the butterine law became effective. It is probable the first step will be to attack with vigor the constitutionality of the law, which imposes the tax on the article.

Duchess Against Divorce.

New York, Sept. 26.—Through the influence of the Duchess of Marlborough exercised upon her aunt, Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, it is probable that the divorce suit brought against young Elliott F. Shepard by his wife will be abandoned.

A Danube steamship sunk near Vienna, yesterday. Fourteen persons were drowned.

CANADIAN VETERINARY DIED

In Agonies of Hydrophobia—Sad Death at Detroit.

Detroit, Sept. 27.—Dr. George E. Metcalf, a prominent veterinary surgeon, who came to this city from Canada six years ago, is dead of hydrophobia. He was slightly bitten on the thumb while treating a dog. The hurt caused no inconvenience at the time. Saturday he began to develop the symptoms of hydrophobia, one of which was an almost ungovernable desire for water, which he was unable to drink owing to spasmodic contraction of the muscles of the throat. Startled at first, Dr. Metcalf, by an almost superhuman effort, regained his self-control, then calmly proceeded to make a diagnosis of his case, arriving at a true realization of the meaning of his symptoms. He then summoned his brother, Dr. W. F. Metcalf, and told him that he knew himself to be suffering from rabies, and that there would be no hope, nothing but death, and that in one of its most agonizing forms within a few hours.

With a full realization of his condition and with his fond wife and four young children about him, he was subjected to an ordeal such as few men could face. What horrible mental torture the unfortunate man underwent during the few hours which intervened between his discovery of the real state of affairs and the time when he became unconscious, no one can ever know.

DROPPED DEAD.

One of Bowmanville's Oldest Business Men Expires.

Bowmanville, Ont., Sept. 26.—A sudden death occurred here, when James Morris, one of the oldest business men of the town, died of heart failure. Mr. Morris had not been feeling well for the past week. While sitting at Mrs. Mason's, where he boarded, he felt a smothering sensation, and stepped out side the door, when he dropped down and expired instantly. Mr. Morris was a carriage maker, and had been in business here for many years. He was a widower, and leaves three daughters, one in Kingston, one in Tweed, and the other in Columbus, Ohio.

The governors have provided that when Dr. Parkin leaves Toronto, J. B. Sparling, the well-known, senior master of the school, shall have the authority and perform the duties of principal, and that Mr. Somerville, as head master in residence, shall have exclusive charge of the college residence. The choice of a successor to Dr. Parkin as principal, is occupying the attention of the governors, and it is expected that the new principal will be selected before the end of the present year.

THE MONKS FOUGHT

Over Right To Sweep Holy City Church.

Washington, Sept. 26.—An account of the singular controversy which arose between the Greek and Latin monks over the right to sweep the steps and pavement of the church of the Holy Sepulchre, in Jerusalem, is contained in a report to the secretary of state from United States Consul Merill, at Jerusalem.

This controversy led to a bitter personal struggle between the monks in which a number of the parties were injured seriously. Wholesale arrests followed and thirty-four monks were sentenced to terms of imprisonment ranging from one week to a year. The outcome was the issue of irades by the sultan granting to the several powers the right to protect their own subjects in Jerusalem.

FIRE AT ST. JOHN.

Steamer Star and Several Places of Business Destroyed.

St. John, N.B., Sept. 26.—Fire was discovered on the river steamer Star, at Indiantown. In a few minutes the vessel was a mass of flames. The moorings parted and she drifted out a burning hulk before the fire department could do anything beyond pouring a stream of water into her. The fire spread from the boat to the shore and destroyed P. Nase & Sons' large warehouse, the machine shop of J. Fred. Williamson, the coal sheds of D. D. Glasier & Son., and the coal sheds of Tapley Bros., all on Bridge street. The crew of the steamer had a narrow escape for their lives. The stewardess and female cooks were taken ashore thickly enshrouded in bed clothing. The loss to the Star line will be quite heavy.

EMPEROR RUNS AMUCK.

Annam Ruler Shoots Three of His Wives.

Paris, Sept. 26.—A tragic sensation in the royal palace at Annam recently occurred, according to mail advices. The young emperor suddenly went mad, and rushing into the harem, shot three of his wives in cold blood. The empress remonstrated with him, whereupon he had her bound to a favorite menial and flogged nearly to death. The alarmed officials sent for the French resident, who at once ordered the emperor to be seized. In a few days the fit passed, but the emperor still shows signs of an impaired intellect and will probably be dethroned.

COOL TO THE BOERS.

Germany Has Not Gone Into Raptures Over Manifesto.

London, Sept. 26. The Times' Berlin correspondent says the reception accorded the Boer generals' manifesto is on the whole characterized by coolness and caution. Three journals which during the war profited most by sensational misrepresentations and appeals to misguided popular sentiment are foremost in the attempt to depict the present condition of the Boer population as utterly forlorn, and the attitude of the British government as merciless and inhuman.
