COMMERCIAL MATTERS.

What is Going On In the Business World—The Market News.

The indications point to an unsettled market in Wall street for some time. September wheat reached 35 cents in Chicago, the highest price since the latter deal in 1895.

This week about three million and a half dollars in dividends will be paid out to shareholders in Canadian institutions.

A report just issued shows that the French wheat crop, for the past year, amounts to 125,000,000 hectolitre (327,000,000 bushels). This is the largest crop in twenty years, except that for the year 1898-1899.

Last year was the biggest sardine season ever known in the history of the American industry. The penultima has swung back this year, however, for the sardines—of, to be more frank, the little mackerel or herring—are so scarce down east that only a few of the canneries are doing business.

Rapid progress is being made on the cut-off that is to place Brantford on the main line of the Grand Trunk. A freight train was run the other day over the new cut-off from Lynden to the Harrisburg branch. It is expected that the track will be entirely finished in six weeks' time. It will still be a considerable time after that before main line traffic is put over the new road.

The London Statist says that the C. P. R. company holds at the present time a most enviable position, and should it pursue, as it doubtless will, a conservative policy, it is likely to become one of the soundest and most prosperous undertakings in America.

Indeed, with far-sighted control it may provide Canada with a railway service as economical and efficient as is given or is likely to be given in the United States.

Home From Toronto. City Solicitor McIntyre returned last evening from Toronto, after a short but pleasant outing. He went up to attend a sitting of the court of appeal, in which the question of the value of the franchise of the Kingston Light, Heat & Power company was up for argument. Mr. McIntyre says that the judges did not show any indication as to their opinion of the question, merely contenting themselves with listening to the arguments of counsel. It will take the judges some days to wade through the mass of documents before they can rightly grasp the finer points of the case and give judgment.

A MURDER PLOT. BROWN OF COLLINGWOOD UNDER ARREST

It is Said He Sought Help to Get Rid of His Mother Who Had an Insurance of $1,500.

Collingwood, Ont., Oct. 2.—W. H. Brown, a freeman employed at the Collingwood water works, was placed under arrest, last evening, by provincial Detective Greer on the charge of attempting to compass the death of his aged mother in order to secure $1,500 insurance which was on her life in the Union Mutual Life Insurance company.

Brown protests innocence of the charge made against him. He declared that the policy on his mother's life lapsed in June, 1901, and that he would have no object in seeking her murder as stated by his accuser, John Rose, a Toronto insurance agent. Rose, who made out the policy on Mrs. Brown's life, alleges that about one month ago Brown came to him and coolly proposed the murder of the old lady, Rose to receive $500 for his aid in the deed. The preliminary investigation will be held here to-day.

Rose's Statement. Toronto, Oct. 2.—John Rose, the Toronto insurance agent, upon the strength of whose statement W. H. Brown, Collingwood, has been placed under arrest, at that place, charged with plotting to murder his mother, was greatly surprised when informed of the arrest. "I did not think it would go as far as that," he said. "I thought it a huge joke, as far as I am concerned, but at the same time I thought it should be investigated."

Rose added that when he notified the authorities he imagined that they would take quite a little time to sift the matter out. "However," Mr. Rose, continued, "as I said before, the whole thing was a huge joke, as far as I was concerned. I couldn't for a moment imagine that a man could wish to murder his mother for a few paltry dollars. I thought I would see how far it would go in all seriousness. As a party to such a crime, with the intention of committing it, I could not be associated with so dastardly a thing for fifty million dollars, let alone five hundred."

Pleaded Not Guilty. Collingwood, Ont., Oct. 2.—W. H. Brown was arraigned before Magistrate Nettleton here, this afternoon. He pleaded "not guilty" and was remanded until Monday. No evidence was taken. John Bernie, K.C., and W. T. Allen, appeared for prisoner, and Inspector Greer, of the provincial detective department, for the crown. Magistrate refused bail.

WON'T CARRY COAL. Union Demands Men Be Paid Regular Wages.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—Members of the local Teamsters' Union have decided not to haul coal to any public school building until the Board of Education induces the Anthracite-Bituminous Coal company, which has the school contract for the north-west side, to pay its men the union wage.

The teamsters employed by the company went on strike last afternoon, the matter was considered of minor importance until the union heard that the company was about to employ non-union teamsters.

The company has no direct connection with other firms under contract to the Board of Education, but the teamsters believe a fight against all would force the Bituminous company to an immediate settlement.

The school contracts for coal were let last week, but there has been practically no hauling, and should the weather turn cold the situation would be serious.

Luck And Laziness. St. Louis Republic. Luck tapped upon a cottage door. A gentle, quiet tap. And Laziness, who lounged within the door, stretched out his slippers to the fire. "And gave a sleepy yawn," he said, "let him knock again!"

He said, but Luck was gone. Luck tapped again, more faintly still, upon another door. Where industry was hard at work mending his cottage floor. The door was opened wide at once. "Come in," the worker cried, "and Luck was gone for the hand and fairly pulled inside.

He still is there—a workman's guest. From out whose magic-hand, Fortune flows fast-out Laziness. Can never understand the thing. How industry found such a friend. "Luck never came my way," he cries, and casts for the knock upon his door that day.

A Fine Exhibition. To-morrow Kirkpatrick's art gallery will be a centre of attraction, because of the display of the water colors of Mr. Matthews, R.C.A., all recent work. A cordial invitation to visit is extended. Kingston could and should take a greater interest in art exhibits, and by at least calling to see them, encourage the visits.

County Temperance Workers. Temperance delegates from many points in the county met in the Y.M.C.A. rooms on Thursday afternoon to organize for the coming referendum campaign. A number of city politicians attended the meeting. Officers were elected and plans outlined for the approaching fight.

Industry Has Shut Down. The hither twine manufacturing plant at the penitentiary has been closed, and there is a possibility that it will not again be started. T. P. Connors, superintendent of the twine industry, left some time ago for the eastern states.

The London Medical Press and Circular says that Lord Salisbury has suffered for years from intestinal parasites, the effects of which have been mitigated by massages.

There is a movement to have a new Roman Catholic diocese formed in New Ontario out of the present districts of Kingston and Peterborough.

LIVINGSTONE-ASHLEY. A Kingston Girl Married in Toronto.

A pretty home wedding took place at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dunnet, 67 Huntley street, Toronto, when their niece, Miss Muriel Christine Ashley, was married to Henry Eger Livingstone, Rev. Dr. Milligan performing the ceremony. Owing to a recent bereavement the invitations which had been issued for the wedding to take place at Old St. Andrew were cancelled, and only the immediate relatives were present. The bride, who was given away by her uncle, wore a gown of white satin, trimmed with Brussels lace, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and maiden-hair fern. Her sister, Miss Rita Ashley, as maid of honor, wore white poplin, with a wreath of pink roses in her hair, and carried the same flowers. The ceremony was performed in an alcove banked with palms and under a large marriage bell composed of white roses, an aisle being formed from the door to the alcove by white satin ribbons. Rolp Hess was best man, and John Rogers and Albert Reed ushers.

Later on Mr. and Mrs. Livingstone left for a trip by water down the Hudson and on to Washington, the bride wearing navy blue cloth, with a Gibson coat, appliqued with white, a navy blue beaver hat and white feather boa. On their return they will reside at 45 Hazelton avenue, Toronto, which Mr. Livingstone has rented for himself.

The bride is a daughter of George E. Ashley, Markland street, this city, though for some time she has made her home with her uncle in Toronto.

School Supplies Stolen. When Miss Huxton, who has been ill since the schools re-opened, returned on Tuesday to her duties as teacher in Rideau public school, she found that a large number of articles had been stolen from her room. The missing list included pencils, crayons, brushes, books, etc. The teacher, supplying during Miss Huxton's absence, did not know such articles had been left in the room, and consequently did not miss them. The theft evidently took place during the vacation, at which time many articles were purloined from other rooms in the same school. The matter will be placed in the hands of the police, as the school authorities are positive that systematic robbery is going on.

The Captain Canned. A pleasant event took place aboard the steamer Bohemian Wednesday when a number of residents of Stanley Island, near Cornwall, boarded the steamer and "canned down" Capt. Andrew Dunlop, of this city, the popular commander of the boat, and after paying him a complimentary address, presented the gallant mariner with a gold headed cane, suitably engraved. The recipient was completely taken by surprise. Capt. Dunlop is one of the oldest mariners on the lakes or river. He is capable, reliable and deservedly popular.

Timely Action Required. Warden Spoor says that the county property committee will meet at once, and arrange for a concrete floor for the jail and better drainage for the registry building. The present jail floor is of stone flagging, and its dampness is injurious to the health of the prisoners. Unless something is done to the cellar of the registry building the books in the vault will suffer. Signs of moulding have been discovered for some time past in the pages of these county records.

The matter will now be referred to a commissioner to be appointed by the United States court to ascertain the damages.

A Sailor's Summons. Flavia Rosser, in National. Something white came up last night. It was the mist, perhaps, or rain. It wheeled about, flashed in and out. And beckoned against the window pane. It was a fair, no doubt—no doubt. And will not come again.

And something black with slow repeat. And heavy sweet the old seawall. And shrill and clear and piercing sweet. I thought I heard the boatswain's call. The deck more set, and wet, and wet. It may have been no boat at all.

But if tonight a sail would leap. From out the dark and driving rain. You must not hold me back nor weep. For I must sail a truceless main. To find and have, to hold and keep. And I have sought so long in vain.

I need no chart of sea nor sand. Nor any blazing beacon star. My prow against wild waves shall stand. Until it cuts the blessed bar. And I run up the shining strand. Where my lost youth and Mary are.
