

TOO GREAT EXPENSE

Not The Reason.

It is not because Pyramid Pile Cure is so expensive that many people decline to give it a trial, but because they find it too great a tax on their credulity to believe that the published letters bearing testimony to the merits of this remedy are genuine and bona fide, especially to those who have realized the suffering incident to piles is it incredible that anyone who has been afflicted twenty-five and thirty years with the worst forms of protruding and bleeding piles should be cured by the application of a simple remedy, when their physician has assured them that the only relief is in a surgical operation. This is rightly viewed with dread by all those afflicted, as it means at the least a great shock to the nervous system, with more than a possibility of utter collapse and death; in the majority of cases, too, there is a return of the complaint, owing to the fact that the cause is not removed.

The proprietors of Pyramid Pile Cure agree to forfeit one thousand dollars to anyone who will show a single published testimonial to be not genuine and unaltered; if the latter feature is most gratifying, inasmuch as these letters are written solely out of gratitude, and with the hope that those who are afflicted as the writers have been may learn that relief is at hand, at a comparatively trifling expense. Pyramid Pile Cure is for sale by druggists at fifty cents a package, or will be mailed by the makers to any address upon receipt of price. Wm. Lichtenwalter, head of the largest printing house in Canton, Ohio, says: "It is with the utmost pleasure and satisfaction that I can say I believe I am cured of protruding and bleeding piles, after suffering more than 25 years. I have been in bed for two weeks at a time. I have not suffered in the least for over a year, and I used only three fifty-cent boxes of Pyramid Pile Cure. I advise every person suffering with this distressing and painful complaint to give this remedy a trial. I have every confidence in it." Write the Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., for their book on the causes and cure of piles.

ANNUAL SESSION OF THE W. C. T. UNION

The Business Considered and the Officers Elected for the Enriching Year—Helping Many in Trouble.

The annual meeting of the W.C.T.U. was held Thursday afternoon in the old collegiate. There was a very fair attendance. Mrs. Macallum, president, occupied the chair. The meeting opened with the usual devotional exercises. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the corresponding secretary in the absence of Mrs. Lyon, recording secretary, who is suffering from a serious illness.

The time was largely taken up with reports of the year's work in the different departments. A large number were read, but a good many had to be laid aside for want of time. The recording secretary came first, and although there were only brief extracts of interest. She said: During the year there have been sent by the members of the union and interested friends fifty fives, seven quarts, forty-five glasses and seven jars of carefully canned fruit, jelly and marmalade, also maple syrup and broth. Miss Baker has supplied over seventy patients, her supplies being often greater than the demands.

Kind mention was made of the talks being given in the schools during the past two weeks by Mr. Paule, Teachers, scholars, and visitors are greatly pleased with his addresses and urge all who can and are interested in the welfare of their children to hear him.

The prizes for physiology and temperance were presented to the successful winners, Miss Marion Hewton and Master Reimold Ockley. Prizes have been offered by the union three or four years past to the boy and girl who take the highest marks in those subjects at the entrance examinations. The offer is renewed for another year.

The officers of the past year were re-elected: President, Mrs. (Rev.) Macallum; first vice-president, Mrs. (Dr.) Sparks; recording secretary, Mrs. Herbert Lyon; treasurer, Mrs. T. X.

AT THE GRAND.

The Scenic Effects Were Very Fine.

Lincoln J. Carter's "Alaska" played to a fair-sized audience at the Grand Opera House last night. While it possesses many fine points, it is still considerably inferior to Carter's other productions. The scene is laid on a lonely island in Alaska, where the few white settlers are attacked by fierce Indians, and are only saved from massacre by the officers of a revenue cutter. Of course a thread of love runs through it all. A little child plays her part well, and adds a touch of tenderness to the story that it would otherwise lack. The leading role, that of loose-tongued, happy Widow Casey, was splendidly portrayed by Miss St. George Hussey. Her Irish songs gripped the throats of the gods, and they called her back time after time. T. F. Griffin, as Bartlett, the half-breed, interpreted the Indian character in realistic fashion. He had the shrug of the shoulders, the stealthy, cat-like movements of the redskin. H. E. Rodgers, as Father Bernard, the missionary, Rose Merson, as Alaska, the Indian maiden, and Grace Welby, as Jessie Dalton, gave good support. The scenic effects were well worthy of one of Lincoln Carter's plays. Scenery are better stage settings seen than those of last night. The play abounds in thrilling scenes that should please the lover of the sensational.

Victoria Theatre.

The Marks' Dramatic company were given scope to show their capabilities in the drama produced last night, "A Woman's Revenge." Helma Reicka was the young lady who got even with the villain, but not by the aid of the Irish comedian's revolver as is usually the case. Miss Reicka does all the company's love business, but found a truer character in the role of a revengeful French girl, Lydia Havendon. Poor scenery and her place in her quiet part, when her flashing eyes and tart tongue should have been at work sending the villain into hysterics, and making him tear out his hair. Strong support was given by Fred Miller, who acted the genteel villain so well that some one in the balcony row got excited and wanted help to trounce him. Though a brave young man, Mr. Miller, recoiled with horror at sight of Helma's eight-cent jack-knife. The other chief support was given by Charles H. Sanders and Earl G. Simmons. A large audience witnessed the play.

taken from the year's minute book, yet they were full of interest, and showed that the union had not been idle during the year. The treasurer, Mrs. T. X. Rogers, told very briefly of the amounts expended during the year being over $90 for literature, etc. There is still a balance in our favor in the treasurer's hands. The corresponding secretary reported a large number of letters received and sent.

We will only mention briefly some items in the departmental reports that were read. Mrs. Snelling supplied the fire station with a large number of magazines and periodicals and some books. She was always well received by the men and heartily thanked for the reading matter she provided. Two members of the union visited the hospital alternate weeks during the greater part of the year. The female prisoners in the penitentiary are visited every Saturday at noon. There are some not members of the union who visit them also, but Mrs. Macallum visits them twice and sometimes three times a month. There are fewer women at the meetings than there have been in past years, six or seven being the number present. They seem interested in the bible study, and especially in the music, and seem to enjoy joining in the singing of the hymns. Let us hope that the good seed thus sown may take root and bring forth unto eternal life.

The Infants' Home is also visited weekly by Mrs. Macallum, and religious instruction given to the inmates. Mrs. Hammond reported evangelistic work, a large number of visits were made and help given when needed. Mrs. Sparks read Miss Baker's, the Victorian nurse, report, which was full
