An Amusing Thanksgiving Story.

I find in the diary of the Rev. Job Strong, who came over in the Mayflower, an amusing story of some young men, members of the Church of England, who, on the first Thanksgiving day after their arrival in Plymouth, in their ordinary avocations, engaged in their usual work, until they were prevented from doing so by order of Governor Bradford. When Christmas day came, to which, as somebody knows, the Puritans paid no attention whatever, calmly pursuing their usual employment, the young men refused to work for the reason that it was against their conscience to labor on that religious festival. Governor Bradford told them that if such were the case he would excuse them till they were better informed. Soon afterward he found them all at play in the street, whereupon he took possession of the implements of their games, saying that it was against his conscience that they should play while all others were at work, and that if they had reverence for Christmas day they must pass it at home in religious exercises.

Turns On Home Life.

Thanksgiving day is the one national holiday that turns on home life, it is not a day of ecclesiastical saints. It is not a national anniversary. It is not a day celebrating a religious event; it is a day of nature. It is a day of thanksgiving for the year's history, and it must pivot on the home life. It is the one great festival of American life that pivots on the home life. Like a Jewish festival, it spreads a banquet table. It is a table piled high with the treasures of the growing year, accepted with rejoicings and interchange of many festivities. As a token of gratitude to Almighty God, Remember God's bounty of the year. String the pearls of his favour. Hide the dark parts, except so far as they are breakings-out in light. Give, this one day, to thanks, to joy, to gratitude.

Review And Outlook.

New York, Oct. 14.—O'Loughlin, & Rudell report Wall street is still much concerned regarding money stringency, and views the future with considerable uncertainty. The leading bankers maintain that if a little conservatism is exercised, however, the period of tight money is over, and that there will be no necessity for any further calling of loans. It cannot be denied that Wall street, two weeks ago, escaped by a very narrow margin the worst panic ever known. Speculators pushed their schemes forward at a time when a tremendous amount of money was needed in the west, and the result was that a halt had to be called. Large amounts of stock had to be thrown over at panic prices, and conservative investors now realize that such stocks as Atchison, Northern Securities, Missouri Pacific, Pennsylvania, Union Pacific and Manhattan are on the margin of safety. Fundamental conditions were never more sound. Crops throughout the west are the largest in the country's history, and prosperity is reported from every quarter. Fifty of the largest railroads in the country report an increase in net earnings of six per cent for the first nine months of the year over the corresponding period of the year ending in 1912. These figures speak for themselves, and investors should not disregard them. The short interest in this market is at present greater than at any time in two years, and with the anthracite coal strike settled, there must

An Object Lesson That Means Thousands of Dollars to You if You but Grasp the Opportunity.

A TON of trust-mined coal costs $20. Its equivalent in heat and steam producing fuel oil costs $3.57. Is it any wonder that the railroads, the steamships, the warships, the factories and the homes are burning fuel oil? Fortunes will be made by the men and the companies controlling the output of fuel oil.

3700 Bbls. Fuel Oil for $3.57 EQUALS One Ton of Coal for $20

WHAT DOES IT ALL MEAN?

J. Pierpont Morgan and his associates are spending millions in California oil properties. The Standard Oil Co. is building immense oil tanks and hundreds of miles of pipe lines costing over $20,000,000!

Oil properties that could have been bought 3 months ago for $500 an acre are now held at over $3000 an acre. The manufacturers of oil stoves and heaters cannot begin to fill their orders! All this means that Colossal Fortunes Will Be Made In Fuel Oil.

Only 3 years ago fuel oil was comparatively unknown. See how the Home Oil Co. stock has jumped from a few dollars to $500 a share! See how Richard Ellis realized $37,500 on an oil investment and how a dozen other men were made millionaires in the same way. See how oil lands have advanced from less than 50 cents an acre to $5,000 an acre!

Leading financiers of Wall Street have been quick to read the signs of the times. They know that there is big money for those who invest in first class oil stocks like the Eastern Consolidated.
