Earl Whitney, Under Arrest Makes a Confession.

CRY SAVES HER GEMS.

Braves a Burglar Who Threatened to Use Dynamite.

New York, Oct. 17.—Gaining admission as a caller to the apartments of Mrs. Amy G. Watkins, a man named Henry Dawson, handed her a statement which began with these words: "I made no outcry, I have a bag of dynamite which I will drop if you don't give me my diamond."

Mrs. Watkins did make an outcry and Dawson rushed from the house, taking his bag and drawing a revolver as he went. A policeman arrested him and found that the bag was empty. Dawson was held on trial.

Charge Was Dismissed.

Alkerian Walker presided on the bench in the police court this morning. The only case was a charge against Capt. Roys of the steamer Rival, of running in waters outside of those in which his steamer was licensed to ply. As Capt. Roys was recently fined on a similar charge, the case was dismissed.

May Run For Commissioner.
