HILLIS'S VIEWS. COUPLING THE NAMES OF TWO GREAT MEN

What the Plymouth Church Pastor Said About Inspirational Orators—How He Regards the late Robert G. Ingersoll.

REV. DR. HILLIS. New York, Oct. 22.—Rev. Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis had this to say yesterday in reference to his coupling the names of Col. Robert G. Ingersoll and Henry Ward Beecher in his sermon on "Herodity," in Plymouth church on Sunday:

"I named five men as great inspirational orators, and explained that all five got their early education and principles from their fathers, who were ministers of the gospel. I regard Robert G. Ingersoll as having been a decidedly inspirational speaker and think he did a great deal of good in his way. He was an educational influence and he taught the beauty of the home life.

"I furthermore believe that in the light of the present day, were he living, Ingersoll would be a member of the Christian church. It was the idea of Henry Ward Beecher to which he so stenoously objected, and in these days we are happily getting away from it."

This is the sentence in his discourse to which Dr. Hillis refers: "Henry Clay, Wendell Phillips, Daniel Webster, Robert Ingersoll and Henry Ward Beecher, five great inspirational orators, got their early education and principles of life from the clergy-men from whom they sprung."

Dr. Hillis says that so far as he can learn there was no surprise or indignation among his hearers over his remark.

FINANCES AND STOCKS. O'Loughlin And Rudell Report From New York, Oct. 20th.

The money situation has been relieved. A large block of bonds has been turned over to Secretary Shaw, and he in turn will pour into Wall street a large sum of money. The situation is stronger than ever. Some weak accounts had to be liquidated, but stocks have gone from weak to strong hands, and the great plans which are in the minds of Mr. Morgan and the rest are now to be pushed to completion.

It is true that the present is not a time to indulge in wild speculation, for much money is still needed to move the western crops, but we are positive that stocks bought now will show a handsome profit before the first of January. The crops are large, and the harvest is reported from every quarter. The steel trade, the barometer of the country, is booming. The United States Steel corporation has booked orders as far ahead as July, 1904, and has work in sight which will ensure dividends for two years at least.

The traffic alliance just made between the St. Paul and the Union Pacific deserves a word of mention. It shows the feeling prevailing in the western railroad country. The roads realize that they can make more money by working in harmony. Cut-throat competition has been eliminated, and the Goulds, the Rockefellers, the Vanderbilts in Chicago and North-western, and Harriman and all world-wide interests and we look to see the stocks of all these roads sell at much higher prices.

CHARGE WITH BIGAMY. His Divorced First Wife Lays the Complaint. New York, Oct. 22.—Dr. James D. Musgrove, a native of Ottawa, is accused by his divorced wife, Miss Carrie Hayvon, who formerly lived in Prescott, Ont., with bigamy, for marrying her in the city of Ottawa, South Carolina.

Dr. Musgrove says he was forced to marry Miss Hayvon when a medical student of nineteen, she being five years his senior, and that five months after marriage she gave birth to a child. As he had known her then, only eight months he doubted the paternity of the child, but supported her until the child for fourteen years, making $7,500 a year as a dentist at Ogdensburg and in this city, much of which, he declares, went to her. He says he consented to her getting a divorce and that the best legal and church counsel advised him that his second marriage would be legal.

Just Let Their Child Die. New York, Oct. 22.—According to an investigation begun by coroner Banning, Esther H. Gimby, the seven-year-old daughter of a well-to-do Mrs. John Quimby, Brookfield street, White Plains, died of diphtheria, while being treated by Christian Science healers. Coroner Banning, after an autopsy had been held, issued a death certificate, which fixed the cause in these words: "Diphtheria, Christian Science neglect." The coroner is determined to prosecute the Scientists.

Empress Augusta's Birthday. Berlin, Oct. 22.—Today was the birthday of Empress Augusta Victoria, and flags were displayed on all public and many private buildings. No court festivities were held in observance of the anniversary, but her majesty was the recipient of numerous presents and congratulatory messages from the various courts of Europe.

"California Venus" Killed. San Francisco, Oct. 22.—Marian No. 1, known as the "California Venus," because of the perfection of her figure, was shot dead in O'Farrell street by Edward Marshbuts, a stenographer in an insurance office. The two were seen quarreling on the street.

WORLD'S CROP. EXCESS OF WHAT WILL BE REQUIRED

A Statement Founded on a Telegraphic Error — The Famous Acton Library Given to Cambridge University.

London, Oct. 22.—Reports published here estimate this year's wheat crop of the world at three hundred and fifty-three million quarters. The estimated import requirements of the various countries are given as follows: Great Britain, 21,000,000 quarters; Austria, 5,200,000; Italy, 3,800,000; Holland, 2,700,000; Switzerland, 1,900,000; Belgium, 1,350,000; France, 1,025,000; Spain, 200,000; Germany, 4,350,000; Greece, 500,000. These figures are probably in excess of what will be required, as the Hungarian, French and Russian harvests are exceptionally good.

Replying to a question, in the House of Commons, Prime Minister Balfour said the statement attributed to Dr. Von Koerber, the Austrian prime minister, that the question of the passage of Dardanelles by warships, raised by Russia, would be settled by arbitration, was founded on a telegraphic error. No negotiations on this subject were going on between the powers.

John Morley has offered the famous Acton Library to Cambridge University, where Lord Acton was formerly professor of history. This library was purchased some time ago by Andrew Carnegie from Lord Acton, who was allowed to retain it until his death. Upon his decease Mr. Carnegie gave the library unconditionally to John Morley. It consists of 70,000 volumes in many languages, devoted to the history of civilized governments. The Duke of Devonshire, as chancellor of the university of Cambridge, has accepted Mr. Morley's offer.

Lord Fairfax, a British peer, and a United States citizen, arrived in England yesterday, for the purpose of taking up his residence permanently in this country. The sixth Baron Fairfax settled in the United States, where he inherited 6,000,000 acres of land in Virginia, and his descendants have maintained a country seat in that state ever since. The present Lord Fairfax was in business in Wall street, New York.

An important question, summoned by the corporation of Glasgow, was held yesterday, in London, to consider a recommendation to parliament for subjecting to taxation of land values now exempt. It was a most influential body with sixteen delegates, representing 121 boroughs, county and urban district councils of the United Kingdom. The first resolution approving the principle of taxation of land values for local purposes, was adopted with a substantial unanimity, and the second one, favoring the introduction of a measure into parliament for carrying it into effect, was slightly modified and passed with only four dissenting voices. A committee was appointed for taking direction for implementation. During the discussion it was admitted that the proposed system would apply to the estates of the Duke of Westminster, the Duke of Bedford, and other large London land owners, and that ground rents would be levied up to the extent of two shillings to the pound.

It is understood that the parliamentary committee's report on ocean subsidies generally, is unfavorable. Evelyn Cecil, M.P., a nephew of Lord Salisbury, is chairman of the committee. The report of the majority, supporting the chairman, declares against granting subsidies upon the principle of possible usefulness. Hereafter they should be granted only where value is received. Exception is made in favor of ships that are suitable for fast cruises. The granting of state assistance to maintain trade lines is not deemed expedient except in such cases as the east coast of Africa, which could not of its own productiveness support a regular line of ships run on exclusively commercial lines. There will probably be two minority reports.

Lord George Hamilton, secretary of state for India, confirms the announcement that the Amer of Afghanistan, through an agent, has purchased in Germany, a battery of twelve quick-firing mountain guns, two Howitzers, and eighteen field pieces, over thirty cases of ammunition and other war material which have been forwarded to Kabul. Lord George Hamilton adds that the transaction is not inconsistent with the subsidy paid to the emperor by Great Britain.

The Graphic, discussing the Russian proposal to Great Britain regarding Afghanistan, says it will cause apprehension. It indicates a re-encouragement of Russian activity, in the direction of Afghanistan at a moment when the new emperor has disturbed the stability that existed under the latter ruler of the country. The question is, the paper says, What will Russia's next step be?

AMERICAN INVASION. Settlers Coming Into North-West By the Thousand. Montreal, Oct. 22.—The immigration authorities, as well as travellers returning from the North-West, state that the exodus from the western states into the dominion continues. There is no longer any doubt at all about it. The farmers are coming in, especially in this case from Dakota and Nebraska. The farmers there are selling their land for fifty, sixty and even seventy dollars an acre, and purchasing equally good land in the North-West from five to ten dollars per acre. With the money lent they can stock their farms, or they can afford to start their sons for themselves. Trains are coming in filled with settlers and their effects. The exodus is remarkable, and that it still continues is evidenced by the admission of the state newspapers, which, at last have realized that the movement has all the proportions of a regular exodus. The local immigration authorities state that these people will make admirable settlers. In many cases they are old Canadians; in not a few instances they are Germans and Swedes; but they have been accustomed to rough conditions, they are willing to roil it out, and they will, from the start, be thoroughly independent.
