

DYSPEPSIA OF WOMEN.

Mrs. E. B. Bradshaw, of Guthrie, Okla., cured of a severe case by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

A great many women suffer with a form of indigestion or dyspepsia which does not seem to yield to ordinary medical treatment. While the symptoms seem to be similar to those of ordinary indigestion, yet the medicines usually prescribed do not seem to restore the patient's normal condition.

Mrs. Pinkham claims that there is a kind of dyspepsia that is caused by derangement of the female organs, and which, while it causes disturbance similar to ordinary indigestion, cannot be relieved without a medicine which not only acts as a stomach tonic, but has peculiar uterine tonic effects as well.

Thousands of testimonial letters prove beyond question that nothing will relieve this distressing condition so surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It always works in harmony with the female system.

Mrs. Pinkham advises sick women free. Address Lynn, Mass.

DRIVEN TO DRINK.

Mr. Rockefeller's Guest Couldn't Stand Cold Water. New York, Oct. 22.—It is not common to hear of a man being "driven to drink," but this particular man was driven there in the private carriage of that millionaire tetrastar, John D. Rockefeller.

Like a shipwrecked sailor, Sievers could see nothing but water. He waited, course after course, for something stronger with which to wash down the choice viands, but when he saw the water bottle again and again called into requisition he finally gave up despair.

At the end of three hours of abstinence the German—used to German beverages—sought his room. Presently he sent for his host. Rockefeller found his guest apparently suffering severe illness. In faint tones the unhappy German explained that country air invariably affected him, bringing on a peculiar sickness which only return to the city air could cure.

A minute later Rockefeller was respectfully shaking hands with his fleeing guest.

Once outside the Rockefeller gates, he ordered that he be driven posthaste to the nearest saloon.

"DEAD" WALKS INTO COURT.

Silas Hulín Clears Man Convicted of Murder. Knoxville, Tenn., Oct. 23.—While the supreme court was in session in this city a man who said he was Silas Hulín entered the court room and, addressing Chief Justice Beard, exclaimed: "I am Hulín, who was not killed by Clarence Peak."

Peak's case was about to be called before the court, Peak, who is of a prominent family, had been sentenced in the lower court to ten years in the penitentiary for the murder of Silas Hulín in Clinton, Tenn. He is now in an insane asylum a raving maniac, caused by this case. Hulín declared that Peak shot another man, whose name is unknown, and said he went on the first train to Colorado, whence he returned to prove he was not dead.

TO KILL A MISSIONARY.

Bulgarians Demand $2,400 Under Penalty of Death. Boston, Mass., Oct. 23.—Rev. George D. Marsh, for thirty years a missionary in Bulgaria, has been threatened with death unless he gives up the sum of $2,400.

The demand was made some weeks ago in an anonymous letter, which declared that if he refused his home at Philadelphia would be destroyed by dynamite and his wife killed. The letter went on to say that if Mr. Marsh ever spoke to any one about this he would be killed. Notwithstanding these threats, Mr. Marsh communicated with the police of the city who, in turn, reported the matter to the Bulgarian authorities. This resulted in the arrest of several persons, and there the matter now rests.

Minor League Magnates Confer.

New York, Oct. 23.—Pursuant to the call of President P. T. Powers the presidents and club managers of nearly all the minor baseball leagues of the United States and Canada gathered today at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. The occasion was the second annual meeting of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, which embraces in its membership nearly all of the minor leagues of consequence, with the exception of the American Association. Prior to giving their session behind closed doors the officers and prominent members of the association volunteered the statement that the work done by the association during the past season was very successful and that steps will be taken to force all of the professional leagues into the association for their own protection and welfare.

CALLED AWAY

RESPONDED TO HER DEAD SISTER'S SUMMONS

A Remarkable Story of Spiritual Vision—A Strange Thrill and Then She Saw a Wonderful Sight.

Morristown, N.J., Oct. 23.—In a home on Hill street, Edith Gertrude Decker, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Decker, is dead. Connected with her death is a remarkable story of spiritual vision. Miss Decker was only sixteen years old, tall, pretty and accomplished. She had a keen mind, better developed than usual in girls of her age, and her temperament was sympathetic. She had been ill for some time, but was not expected to die. Last night Miss Decker appeared to be in good spirits and seemed better than usual. Her mother retired, but was soon called to see her daughter die. The dying girl told a strange story.

A short time after her mother had left her, she said, as she lay awake she felt a strange thrill and felt that some one was near. She heard no sound, but the presence to her was real. In a few moments she saw the form of her sister Helen, who died a year ago. She attempted to cry out, but could not. Her sister's face was sad, her head was bent, and she walked slowly. Then she disappeared in her mother's room. The sick girl lay in a stupor and listened. She heard the dead speak.

"Edith, come to me," the voice said. Then the vision reappeared and with a loving look vanished. The spell that held Miss Decker lasted a moment longer. Then she called her nurse, who informed Mrs. Decker, and together they listened to the wonderful story.

The reaction from the strain made Miss Decker unconscious and her condition became worse. She revived and said, "I am sure I am to follow Helen. I am willing to go," then fell into a sleep and never awakened.

Mr. Decker is a New York tea and coffee merchant. He came to Morristown recently for his daughter's health. When a reporter called at the Decker residence last night, Mr. Decker refused to talk concerning his daughter's vision. There is no craze upon the door and the house is brilliantly illuminated.

AN UNEXPECTED DEATH.

Particulars of The Death of William M. Germain.

The remains of the late William Milton Germain, a former passenger brakeman on the Canada Atlantic railway, arrived in the city in a special car at 4:20 p.m., on Wednesday, Oct. 22. The funeral will take place at 10 a.m. at the funeral home of the city. The funeral will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Philip, Portsmouth. The two brothers of the deceased, Arthur Germain, of Pittsburg, and Daniel Germain, guard at the Kingston penitentiary, accompanied the remains home, and give filler and tender particulars of the sad event. The accident occurred in the C. A. railway yards at Pembroke shortly after eight o'clock on the night of October 8th. While engaged in coupling cars, the deceased was caught between two of them, and his shoulders and breast severely crushed.

The injury, however, was not considered fatal. The two brothers and Dr. Wood went out a few days after to bring him to this city. The officials of the road placed a private car, with Conductor McQuestion, of Ottawa, in charge, at the disposal of the injured man. At noon on Wednesday they started for Kingston. While waiting at the junction to make connection with the A. & P. railway, Mr. Germain died quite unexpectedly. The remains were brought on to Kingston.

The deceased was but twenty-eight years of age, unmarried, and a son of the late William Germain, Pittsburg township. Five brothers mourn his untimely death. They are, besides the two above mentioned, Milner, at High Bluffs, Man.; Robert, of Petrolia; John L. Brockville, a conductor on the C.T.R. The young man was very popular in Ottawa and Pembroke, as the numerous gifts of flowers, etc., that reached the sick room, testified.

The brothers greatly appreciate the consideration shown by the officials of the railway. Not only did they supply a private car for the comfort of their injured employee, but in scores of other ways manifested their kindness and thoughtfulness. Proprietor Harvey, of the Pembroke hotel, Pembroke, and his wife, were also untiring in their efforts to render assistance.

Mr. McQuestion, the conductor in charge of the private car, did all in his power to alleviate the suffering of the unfortunate man, and, after his death, to render what assistance he could to the brothers, by whom his kindness will never be forgotten. The deceased was a splendid specimen of manhood, and his sudden demise, when in the very prime of life, is sincerely regretted.

CHINESE 'HELLO' GIRLS.

While it is true that the Chinese, as a race, are opposed to new ideas and new inventions, it is equally true that the Chinese in this country are not by any means slow to recognize the merits of new discoveries, and a singular proof of this fact is that Chinese girls are being employed in San Francisco as telephone operators. In that city there is a large and prosperous Chinese colony, and the well-to-do business men who are members of it find that the telephone is as indispensable to them as it is to American business men. They could not use it very effectively, however, if they were obliged to talk to persons ignorant of their language, and that is why many Chinese girls are now employed at the telephone.

ETCHING ON GLASS.

Engraving which has been reproduced on glass by means of ordinary gelatine is a new process. How such an effect is produced Prof. L. Cailliet, of the French Institute, explains. "Certain substances," he says, "adhere to glass so firmly that when they are removed bits of glass are often removed with them. I discovered this while studying a process of wet-etching glass by means of metals. In order to weld a piece of metal to a glass tube all that is necessary is to plate the latter with silver, so that it will become a conductor of electricity, and then to place on the plated portion a ring of galvanized copper. Under such conditions the copper adheres so firmly to the glass, that some bits of the latter are bound to be taken away with it whenever it is removed. Silicate of soda, which is often used to join two pieces of glass, produces the same effect, but the removal of pieces from a glass surface becomes particularly easy when one uses gelatine in the form of glue or isinglass." "If we cover a glass or crystal vessel with a layer of glue dissolved in water we find that this layer, as it becomes dry, will become contracted, and that, as it detaches itself from the glass, it will take away with it numerous fragments of various size. In this manner an engraving is made on the glass, and as a rule the design is harmonious and decorative, and reminds one of the frosted flowers which are so often seen on glass.

A STIRRING TIME.

Disapproves Singing and Dancing—Quite a Shock. Loraine, O., Oct. 23.—She danced and sang—that was bad. But when she danced and sang again after the good women of Loraine's fashionable First Baptist congregation had expressed their stern disapproval, the stepdaughter of the pastor was told that the pew in church was worth more than her presence, and she was politely informed that it would be the proper thing for her to get out.

As the result of the song and dance executed by Miss Lea Collins, the city of Loraine is stirred to its depths. The members of the city's most prominent congregation are greatly agitated, and the pastor, Miss Collins' stepfather, has been petitioned by the deacons of the church to obtain a separation and divorce from his wife. It did not stop here. The church members signed a petition asking the Baptist missionary conference, which met at Elkhira yesterday to investigate the case. The minister upholds the deacons and says the daughter did wrong. Neither pastor nor wife will talk.

A QUICK SHAVE.

John Turk Got It by Throwing Gasoline Into The Stove. Windsor, Oct. 23.—John Turk, a Windsor customs officer, got a shave and hair cut Tuesday for which he did not bargain. Officer Turk is the first one on duty at the ferry dock in the morning, and when he entered the office he found that the atmosphere was chilly. He did not have time to kindle a coal fire in the regulation way, and to hurry matters thought of the kerosene burner in the storeroom. There is also a barrel of gasoline in the storeroom, and Turk got into the wrong barrel. He drew about a quart of the gasoline, and going to the stove where he had started a fire with some paper, he threw in the oil. The next thing the officer knew he was lying at the other side of the room with his whiskers and hair singed off and several severe burns on his face and hands. He sent for another officer to relieve him, and went to a physician's office, where he had his wounds dressed.

Liquid Fuel.

The oil regions discovered in Borneo furnished during the last year more than 100,000 tons of petroleum for export. The Dutch steamship company uses this combustible on its vessels; the Hamburg-American line has lately built four steamers using liquid fuel; the North German Lloyd has two steamers of the kind; the East Asiatic company of Copenhagen has three; the China Mutual company has three. The advantages of liquid fuel are: Economy of work; there are no ashes to be got rid of, no fires to be raked, no considerable labor of any kind, no dirt caused by soot and cinders; no smoke, if the combustion is properly regulated; no ash; economy of storage, as the fuel can be kept in the double bottom of the ship and in other spaces now useless; no rust to be feared in these spaces; weight for weight, oil is more effective than coal.

The Kansas Star company will build a mill to manufacture paper for its publications. The mill will have a capacity of 1,000 tons of paper a month, will cost more than $250,000 and will employ about 100 persons. Police Magistrate Farrell will not likely begin his duties until Monday next. The fullest confidence is expressed on all sides that he will fill the office in a manner that will be satisfactory to the public at large.

The Catholics of the world will present the pope with a beautiful triregno next February upon the occasion of his jubilee. The marriage took place in Perth on Wednesday of Miss Lally, a well-known young lady of the county town to Joseph Mattie, Ottawa.

LITTLE DIGNITY IN COURT.

Mr. Saunders Finds Bench And Bar Too Familiar.

Montreal Gazette. There does not exist in Pacific coast courts the same respect of form and reverence of the law such as prevails in Canadian courts.

The speaker, F. C. Saunders, who has just returned to Montreal, after an extended trip through the Canadian west and the Pacific slope, yesterday discussed matters that had interested him during his tour. He was particularly interested in the courts and methods of procedure, and had visited many legal men and courts. His observation of usage in the United States led to the expression of opinion previously quoted. Continuing upon the subject, Mr. Saunders related this incident that had come to his notice: "A friend brought me to one of the courts in San Francisco and when we entered the room a case was in progress. The lawyer for the plaintiff was first to see my friend, 'Hello, Tom,' he cried, 'Hello, Tom,' came the greeting, followed by another 'Hello, Tom,' from the bench. We sat down in front of the judge's bench and as we did so, the judge leaned over, and, addressing the two lawyers, asked: 'Which of you is going to take me out to lunch?'"

"Fancy that in a court of law! Throughout the west I found the same breezy, careless spirit; in fact, the law courts do not appear to inspire awe." Mr. Saunders visited many of the mining districts in British Columbia and thinks that the free milling operations are in good condition and are now being worked profitably. The Fairview camp was visited and found to be working satisfactorily, the stamp mill crushing about 100 tons daily. In the North-West Mr. Saunders found many farmers who had moved from the United States, and all were pleased with the new land, and are there to stay.

ALLEGED EMBEZZLER.

Said to Have Disposed of Dead Brother's Stock.

Brooklyn, Oct. 23.—John H. Collins, alleged embezzler of trust funds to the amount of $25,000, was arraigned and held for the grand jury. It is alleged that Collins, under cover of continuing his dead brother's jewelry business, secretly disposed of the stock and squandered most of the proceeds. He disappeared on September 2nd, and detectives started on his trail. He was traced to Fort Erie, then to Detroit, and later to Toronto. It is said he won a lot of money on the races in the last named city. Then he was followed to New York, and late last night was found in a restaurant with two well-dressed women. He handed to one of the women a bag, which is now believed to have contained jewels kept from his brother's estate, which he is accused of squandering. "The women escaped."

GRANT A CONCESSION.

But Will Not Remove Existing Embargo.

London, Oct. 23.—The British government has again refused to remove the embargo against Canadian cattle, which, indeed, is only removable by act of parliament. It seems probable, however, that the request of the Canadian government will be acceded to, that the period within which the Canadian cattle must be slaughtered after landing at Duntford and other ports will be extended from forty days to a further period. Overwhelming evidence presented from Ottawa makes it impossible for the board of agriculture to longer maintain that any danger of disease from Canadian cattle exists. The urgent request from the Argentine government for the admission of Argentine cattle on an equal footing with Canadian will not likely be granted.

Ogdensburg, N.Y., Oct. 23.—An epidemic of typhoid fever prevailed among patients and attendants at the St. Lawrence State Hospital. There are more than thirty cases.
