Chamberlain To Visit South Africa

TO BE ON SPOT

TO EXAMINE THE PROBLEMS FOR DECISION.

Thought The Situation Extremely Grave—Better Feeling Reported in Cape Colony—The Transvaal Conditions.

New York, Oct. 27.—The Tribune's London cable says: The announcement of Mr. Chamberlain's decision to proceed to South Africa to examine on the spot the problems presented by the termination of the war and settlement of affairs in the new British colonies has caused utmost surprise in political circles. It is tolerably certain that the situation had not been one of extreme gravity the colonial secretary would have left the whole matter absolutely in the hands of Lord Milner.

The feeling between the British and Dutch people in Cape Colony, just now, is said to be more bitter than it was in the days before the war. The former Transvaal and Free state colors are worn freely in the Dutch towns of the Cape and sedition is openly preached. In all probability, however, the situation in the Transvaal colony is causing the government even greater anxiety. At present there is an entire absence of enterprise in the Transvaal and the government is warned against the policy of killing the goose that laid the golden eggs.

GREAT PROGRESS.

Made in Conquering a Deadly Malady.

London, Oct. 27.—Great interest is felt throughout Europe in the first meeting of International Tuberculosis congress at Berlin last week. Some of the proceedings were too technical for popular discussion, but astonishing progress is already recorded, in conquering deadliest malady of the human race. Thus, the English delegate reported the death rate in the United Kingdom, in 1838, from consumption was 38 per 1,000. This has been reduced to 13, or more than sixty per cent. The delegates to the congress visited the serum sanatoria in the pine forest, an hour's ride from Berlin, where every accommodation is provided at public expense to the working-class victims of this scourge. The delegates were very much impressed.

WHOOPIING COUGH SERUM.

A Speedy Cessation of the Distressing Cough.

London, Oct. 27.—A young Brussels physician, namely Louvain, says he has discovered the serum of whooping cough, which is injected under the skin in the abdominal region. From the experiments he has conducted the injections appear to be quite harmless. The first effects are apparent about forty-eight hours after the inoculation. The serum produces an artificial cessation of the coughing fits and a considerable diminution of the normal period of illness. If the injection is made immediately on the manifestation of the usual symptoms the malady can be cured in eight or ten days. The usual course is from six to eight weeks.

DROWNED ON SUNDAY.

While Out Sailing on the River.

Rockport, Oct. 27.—A sad accident occurred here yesterday, in which William Carl lost his life. He was out sailing, in company with Henry Elliott, when the boat capsized and both were thrown into the water, where they remained for about twenty minutes before their cries were heard. When discovered two launches went to their rescue, but just as they approached the scene of the accident Carl, who no longer was able to cling to the capsized boat, sank and was not seen after. The body lies in about eighty feet of water. Elliott was rescued. Both were residents of Alexandria Bay. Carl was forty years of age and leaves a wife.

Judgment was reserved until the June sitting of the council next year. In the meantime Dr. Connerty will be allowed to practice.

THE KING'S SPEECH

Made After Receiving the Corporation's Address.

London, Oct. 27.—On Saturday at the Mansion House, most of the king's procession stopped, their majesties from there being accompanied only by the sovereigns' escort and the Prince of Wales, the Duke of Connaught and other princes, equestrians and aides to the Guild Hall, where they arrived without any extraordinary incidents. Owing to the king's carriage being the last some confusion occurred at the entrance of the Guild Hall in an endeavor to empty the carriages quickly and avoid keeping his majesty waiting.

In the great hall the seven hundred persons waiting about the luncheon tables cheered the corporation's address and then the members of the royal family sat down and the luncheon commenced.

The most interesting feature of the royal progress up to this point was the king's reply to the address of the London county council on Trafalgar

CLEMENT A. GRISCOM.
President of the Atlantic ship combine.

The Boer generals occupied prominent seats in the centre of the county council stand immediately facing the king. His majesty's reply was clearly audible to all in the vicinity. He said:

"It gives much pleasure both to myself and the queen, to receive in person the loyal and dutiful address of the centre of municipal authority on the occasion of our progress through the capital of the empire, and to receive the greetings of our people on our coronation. Your confidence that my favor will be extended to every measure calculated to ameliorate the conditions of my subjects is well founded, and of the numerous important questions which come under your consideration none appeal more strongly to my interest and sympathy than those directly touching on the welfare of the poorer classes of this and other great cities. I thank you for your good wishes for myself and my house and for the assurance that you wish that it may be granted me by the same divine providence which preserved my life from imminent danger to reign over my firmly established and peaceful empire and in the loyal hearts of my contented and prosperous people."

Church Alliance Meets.

Those in attendance represent the Presbyterian churches of Canada and Mexico, with the seven Presbyterian churches, and also the German and Dutch Reformed church of the United States, with a constituency in the aggregate of more than a half million persons.

Going On Nicely.

Calcutta, Oct. 27.—The government of Punjab recently issued an order directing that the entire population should submit to inoculation against Indian plague at the hands of sanitary officers. It was feared that natives, with their usual antipathy to any partaking of the nature of sanitary precautions, would bitterly oppose compliance with the order, but much to the surprise of the authorities, no opposition is being offered, and the work of inoculation, which is a tremendous task, is progressing satisfactorily.

"Florodora's" Successor.

New York, Oct. 27.—The chief novelty of the week in dramatic circles is the premier at the Broadway theatre, to-night, of "The Silver Slipper," which is announced as the successor of the popular piece, "Florodora." The new production is the work of the same authors who wrote "Florodora," and is also under the same management. It comes to this country with the reputation of having already scored a big hit at the Lyric theatre, London. In the cast are Cyril Scott, who had a part in the London production, and Edna Wallace Hopper, who was a leading figure in the "Florodora" production.

GOT FIXED UP.

British Transport Got Into Firing Line

ENEMY SCORED

THE FILES OF MEN LOST THEIR HEADS.

Officers Killed Rallying Men—Col. Cobbe and One Somali Stuck to a Maxam Till Help Came.

Aden, Arabia, Oct. 27.—Details of the fighting in Somaliland, October 6th, between the British expeditionary force and the followers of the Mad Mullah, show that a more serious disaster was only averted by the splendid example of the few white officers. As it was, the British force lost a Maxam gun and seventy men killed, while sixty-two of their enemies' dead were counted close to the firing line. Shortly after the British expedition left their zereba (fortified camp), for Mudug, October 6th, the Mullah's forces were reported about a mile ahead, and within half an hour, while the British were advancing in single file through a dense jungle, the enemy charged the British right flank. But the Mullah's troops were met with such a severe fire that they swung around towards the British centre and left. In the meanwhile the transport got mixed up with the firing line, which was thrown into confusion, and a Maxam was rushed and captured, as were many camels. Major Phillips was shot while gallantly attempting to rally his men, and Lieut. Everett was wounded while attending Major Phillips.

The disorder spread to the gun teams, which were driven back. Capt. Angus was killed while serving a gun. Col. Cobbe, with a single Somali sergeant, continuing serving a Maxam, and then Col. Swayne, the British commander in Somaliland, and the commander of the expedition, led a splendid charge, checked the Mullah's hordes, and re-captured some of the transport. But he was unable to recover the Maxam. The British then formed a zereba, and sent out parties to collect the scattered transport. The enemy later tried to get away with the captured camels, but Col. Swayne took out three companies of troops, and, after a sharp fight, re-covered the majority of them and then picked up seventy rifles.

In a preliminary way the conference discussed practical measures for the improvement of the port, with the purpose of agreeing upon a plan to be laid before the government. Among the various proposals was one for the entire abandonment of the present dock and wharf system, on which the recent dock commission proposed to expend $140,000,000, and the conversion of six or seven miles of the river into a vast tidal dock, furnishing ample room for all kinds of craft.
