THE WHIG - 68TH YEAR. DAILY BRITISH WHIG, published each evening at 306-310 King Street, at 10 per year. Editions at 2:30 and 4 o'clock.

THE DAILY WHIG. Opifer per Orbem Dicor.

THE ISSUE IN BRIEF. The great leaders of the English political parties have spoken on the education bill, and they have presented some thoughts that are worthy of consideration.

Mr. Harcourt, (the former leader of the Liberal party) points out that in 1870 the voluntary schools got the privileges which they have on condition that they were not to become a financial burden. The fact is made prominent that the education bill involves a future against which the Birmingham liberals contended when Mr. Chamberlain was a new force in the party, namely, that representation could not be without taxation.

Mr. Balfour's position is this: Education is in a chaotic state. The schools, as they are now conducted, do not vouchsafe an education to the children of the working classes. They can be made efficient by government aid, and the religious bodies, in view of their large financial investments, (running into the millions), are to be alternated a large part in the management of them. The children are to be taught religion, but the denominational trend of it will be determined by the parents in each school neighborhood.

The issue was a financial one, primarily. The government cannot see its way to buy out the voluntary schools. It, therefore, purposes to supplement their revenues. Were the schools freed from church debt or church obligations, and made entirely national, the Nonconformist agitation would cease. The wonder is that the government does not grapple with the situation on the broader basis.

HOUSING OF THE POOR.

The housing of the poor is becoming a grave question in Canada. In certain populous centres there is a concentration of people, and into buildings which are condemned because they are without sanitary appliances. The result is that complaints are made to the Boards of Health, and the only thing they can do is recommend the abandonment of the property.

Toronto proposes to build tenements, fitted with baths and other conveniences, to divide them into sections and rent them for $3 a month each. One of the Board of Control figures it that $30,000 can be invested in this way, and with the certainty of making it pay. Glasgow is quoted as a guide in such matters, but Glasgow is the most socialistic city in the world, and in doubling in the municipal ownership of pretty nearly everything. The aim of the city is to provide all that a people want in their passage from the cradle to the grave. Among its possessions are 8,000 houses, and 78 lodging houses, of which seven are managed by the city, and the revenues from these are said to be quite satisfactory. The number of people accommodated is about 50,000.

London has surpassed any other city in its provision of comforts for the poor. It has spent about fifteen millions of dollars in houses, and in such an amount of money there has been a marvellous transformation in the tenement house plans. The miserable hovels are fast disappearing, and in their places houses are appearing, houses which are clean, well kept, and furnished with light, water, and baths.

Nor is the change in the housing of the poor confined to the cities. Ireland, under power of the Labourers' Dwellings Act, has to provide the agricultural labourer with a garden which can, under proper culture, pay the rent of house and garden, and if his cottage is not a comfortable one he has only to appeal to the District Council to get what he requires. In 1900 there were 1,888 cottages built in Ireland, and since then money has been provided for 8,000 more. The government supplies £10,000 annually to cover cases where the purchasers fail to pay the interest in advance, and as the purchasers have been able to pay up promptly the money has been available for other purposes, among which housing stands first.

Houses with half acre garden plots have been let for 6jd. to 1s. 6d. a week.

Are the conditions that demand relief as pressing in Canada as in the old land? Perhaps not, and yet the suffering in the larger cities, especially in the inclement seasons, is very great. Toronto's experiment will be interesting. Its success will be closely watched.

SOCIAL EVILS AND REFORMS.

The W. C. T. U. of the United States and President Eliot, of Harvard University, have collided on the total abstinence question. Dr. Eliot said, in an address that the introduction of temperance in the public schools was not scientifically done, that ideas were being disseminated in regard to alcohol, which could not be sustained. The W. C. T. U. calls upon the schools to continue the teaching and reminds the president of Harvard that it "has been approved by men of acknowledged eminence in science." Which by no means settles the question. In order that one may understand Dr. Eliot's position the precise language would have to be scanned, and it has not yet been given.

The position of the women in regard to the cigarette is more important so far as the schools are concerned. There is a lot of cigarette smoking on the part of the boys. The effect is visible in dulled intellects, which are apparent enough to the teachers. The scholars are not bright. They do not grasp definitions. They cannot work out mathematical problems readily and clearly. The teacher has only one conclusion—that the youth has been dissipated (in pleasures, which have robbed him of his sleep and rest), or smoking too much. The smoking is often the cause of the mental dullness. The teaching of the school is, unfortunately, not having the desired effect on the cigarette smokers. Hence the question of legislating for the greater protection of our boys from the evil habit. The law does not permit of the sale of cigarettes to boys, but they get what they want from the older ones, and from men, who seem to be oblivious of the wrong they are committing.

Infringement Of Trade-Mark.

In an action in the high court of justice for Ontario recently tried before the Hon. Mr. Justice, at Toronto, the Slater shoe company and Charles E. Slater, president of Montreal, makers of the famous Slater shoe, obtained a judgment forever restraining E. G. Wilkinson, a boot and shoe dealer of Owen Sound, from advertising, offering, exposing for sale or selling boots or shoes made by the Slater Shoe company, as "Slater Shoes," "Slater Goods," or "The Slater Shoe." The chancellor also ordered Wilkinson to pay the heavy costs of the action.

It seems Wilkinson was offering for sale shoes made by a manufacturer in Montreal, whose name was somewhat similar to the Slater Shoe company. This maker came up from Montreal and gave notice at the trial and appeared to be looking after the defence for Wilkinson, but the chancellor, after hearing the evidence, decided that no one, except the Slater Shoe company had a right to use the name "Slater Shoes," "Slater Goods," "The Slater Shoe," or any similar names in connection with boots and shoes, and that Wilkinson had no right to use any name or names in connection with boots and shoes, which might enable him to pass off a shoe not of the company's make, as being of their make, nor in any way to reap the benefit of the reputation which the Slater shoe has acquired throughout the Dominion of Canada.

Scores One For Ross.

Keeler, Oct. 23.—In his lecture on "Prohibition," last evening, in the Methodist church, Rev. James Lawson, of Addison, when speaking of the coming referendum, and of the fault some people find with it, said: "It is the best chance the temperance people ever had, and the liquor act of 1902 was the best thing ever offered by any government, and there are plenty of temperance voters in the country to secure its adoption if they are sufficiently in earnest to go to the polls and vote for its adoption."

We endorse the above and think it scores one for Premier Ross.

PLANNED A SNUB. Minister, in Nick of Time, Pre-vents Eluder.

Madrid, Oct. 27.—The Spanish foreign minister, it is reported, has intervened in the nick of time to prevent King Alfonso, sending the European powers a circular that would have caused one of the greatest diplomatic sensations of the century.

Pursuing his passion for all things military, Alfonso suddenly decided that the tactics of the Spanish army should be secret in the future. He wrote a personal letter to the powers, stating that in the future he would not tolerate the presence of foreign officers at the manoeuvres.

The foreign minister got wind of the matter, and before the letter had been sent obtained an audience with his majesty and showed him how such a letter would spoil all efforts on the part of the government to maintain foreign relations. Alfonso thereupon threw up the letter, threw the pieces at the minister, and yelped.

On the evening of October 15th John W. Thomson, constable of Ganuano, thence his brother-in-law, Christopher Riddle, South Lake, at Ganuano Junction, using a heavy stone to assist in the work. On Friday the case came up in the police court and defendant was committed for trial.
