

TOOK HIS SEAT AS POLICE MAGISTRATE OF KINGSTON

The Oath Was Administered by the Mayor — Congratulations From the Bar—Reply of His Worship.

With becoming dignity and fitting ceremony, Kingston's new police magistrate, James Macalister Farrell, was formally inducted this morning. The function took place in the newly renovated police court chamber. There was a small gathering of friends present to offer their congratulations to the new office holder, who accepted them gracefully and replied in fitting terms.

The ceremonies opened at ten o'clock by the parading of the members of Kingston's fine police force, the men being marched into the court room by Chief Baillie. Mayor Shaw, accompanied by the police magistrate elect followed, and after them came Aldermen Knapp and McCammon, R. H. Tovey, John McIntyre, K.C., G. M. Macdonnell, K.C., J. M. Mowat, Capt. Charles Low, Lieutenant Inspector Gliddon, Chief John Elmer and a few others. Without loss of time, Mayor Shaw ascended the dais and read the following oath, which was repeated by Mr. Farrell, all present standing, as befitting the occasion:

"I, James Macalister Farrell, of the city of Kingston, in the county of Frontenac, do swear that I will well and truly serve our sovereign Lord, King Edward the Seventh, in the office of police magistrate, and will do right to all manner of people, after the laws and usages of this province without fear or favor, affection or ill-will. So help me God."

The mayor, on behalf of the citizens, extended congratulations to the new magistrate, saying that he felt and knew that the office would be capably filled, and that in his decisions, the new magistrate would temper justice with mercy. Citizens had every confidence in Mr. Farrell, who would do honor to the office and to the sovereign whom he represented.

John McIntyre, on behalf of the Kingston Bar Association, offered the congratulations of himself and his colleagues to Magistrate Farrell. He felt that the lieutenant-governor of Ontario had done a proper thing in selecting Mr. Farrell for so dignified and important a position. While the members of the bar may be brought in contact with the magistrate in their official capacity, they would be unanimous in upholding him in his office; though it was felt that peace and concord should prevail the members of the bar joined in offering their support in the position to which the new magistrate had been called.

The speaker touched upon the long and honorable career of Mr. Farrell's predecessor, and pointed out that he had always been prompt in suppressing crime, and he had always been upheld by the best sentiments of the community. The people of Kingston extended hearty congratulations to the new magistrate; the only objection that could be offered, if, indeed, there was an objection, was that he had attained the office at so early an age, but this objection would be removed by the daily lapse of time. The speaker also referred to the long and bright record of Judge Price. The citizens noticed with admiration that in cases where allowable, Judge Price had always tempered justice with mercy, and only in two or three instances had this leniency been misplaced, in cases of incorrigibles. Judge Price realizes that these prisoners who are brought before him are parts and parcels of ourselves, and if they should have the misfortune to fall, they should be assisted to rise. He had always adopted this course, much to the admiration of the people. That should be the object of all who sit in judgment, to uplift the fallen, and not to send them down farther. The speaker closed his remarks by again congratulating Magistrate Farrell upon his elevation to the bench; he felt sure the magistrate would discharge his duties to the satisfaction of the people.

Upon Magistrate Farrell's arrival at Montreal on November 1st, to assist in conducting a course of instruction for No. 2 company, A.S.C. Sergeant Hazelton will likely be placed on the staff and removed to Ottawa. He is a trim, neat and intelligent soldier, and had an able comrade in Sergeant Crockett.

ing and remarks, and they look forward to a long reign of peace and harmony between all parties.

BACK FROM ALDERSHOT.

Sergts. Hazelton and Crockett Are Home Once More.

Sergt. Robert M. Hazelton, "A" field battery, and David Crockett, "B" field battery, taking a long course in army service corps work at Aldershot, returned this morning looking remarkably well after their long absence. They came out on the steamship Tunisian, which landed her passengers in Montreal Sunday afternoon. She was a little behind time, owing to continued head winds encountered on the trip.

Sergt. Hazelton left here in February last, accompanying Lieut.-Col. Liggar. He reported at Aldershot up on arrival, and was at once put to work. He says the army service corps is the busiest in the Imperial army. The corps at Aldershot comprises 2,000 men, and these do all the work for the 20,000 or 30,000 troops quartered in those famous barracks at one time. The bakeries turn out 40,000 loaves of bread each day, and the butchers kill from twenty-five to thirty head of cattle and from twenty to twenty-five sheep daily. In addition, thousands of carcasses of frozen mutton arrive weekly from Australia and are served out in quantities daily to the regiments. The army service corps men have long hours, but they are paid extra work-pay and are quite contented.

On June 4th Sergt. Hazelton was summoned to London to assist Col. Liggar, director of entertainments for colonial troops attending the coronation ceremonies, in his duties. He assisted in welcoming the Canadians who arrived at Alexandra Palace on June 16th. When the coronation was performed in August, Sergts. Hazelton and Crockett took part in the parade, being attached for the day to the Australian contingent. The Canadian troops were attached to the king's personal guard, and were assigned to the right of all other colonials, the Australians being accorded second place. On coronation day the two Canadians were on parade at four o'clock in the morning, and were in the saddle, without any food or nourishment, until four o'clock in the afternoon. They were stationed at a point adjacent to Buckingham Palace.

Sergt. Hazelton likes England very much, but found the climate disagreeable. The English Tommies showed the Canadians every courtesy and consideration. When Sergt. Hazelton arrived at Aldershot troops were embarking almost daily for South Africa, and before he left they were arriving continuously from the seat of war. Before returning to Canada, Sergt. Hazelton visited Ireland and called upon friends, besides taking a short vacation sight-seeing.

Sergts. Hazelton and Crockett will report at Montreal on November 1st, to assist in conducting a course of instruction for No. 2 company, A.S.C. Sergt. Hazelton will likely be placed on the staff and removed to Ottawa. He is a trim, neat and intelligent soldier, and had an able comrade in Sergeant Crockett.

Pork Packing And Provisions.

The Cincinnati Price Current says:

"An enlarging movement of hogs is now being shown, although the numbers are not equal to corresponding time last year. Total western packing 365,000, compared with 305,000 the preceding week, and 310,000 two weeks ago. For corresponding time last year the number was 100,000, and two years ago 145,000. From March 1st the total is 114,450,000, against 114,420,000 a year ago—a decrease of 2,910,000. The quality of current marketing is irregular. Prices have declined, and at the close the average for prominent markets is $6.65 per 100 pounds, compared with $6.95 a week ago, $7.20 two weeks ago, $6.65 a year ago, and $1.60 two years ago."

"I believe our force compares favorably with any force in Canada, in points of strength, alertness, and faithfulness to duty. I feel I have the confidence of the different members, and I trust I will be able to say the same always."

The men were then marched out into the long room, where Mayor Shaw and Magistrate Farrell conducted an inspection, the outcome of which will likely be the purchasing of new caps.

Every man on the force is pleased with his worship's introductory bear-

ARE ON MARCH

THE DOKHOBORS ARE MOVING UPON YORKTON

The People Are in Quite Destitute Condition, Though in Their Villages They Seem to Be Well Provided For.

Winnipeg, Oct. 27.—J. W. McCarroll, real estate agent, who has returned from a trip through the Doukhobor district, north east of Yorkton, conveys the reports that large bodies of Doukhobors are on the march toward Yorkton. There seems to be a general movement from all the villages, he says, many of them being almost depleted as a result. About twenty-five miles from Yorkton, Mr. McCarroll passed a large body, comprising probably 1,000 Doukhobors, headed towards the south. They were straggling along for two miles with their sick and children. They were barefooted, and children. They were barefooted, and were nothing but cotton clothing, and their only provisions consisted of a peak of bread for each person, although they had any amount of provisions in their villages. These people, Mr. McCarroll says, appear to be perfectly conscientious in their action and does not think they will use force on any consideration.

Liberal response is being met with for subscriptions to establish the King memorial chair in Manitoba College. Complaints come from all parts of the west of a shortage of cars. The elevators are full of wheat at nearly all points and owing to the rain of the past few days threshing operations have been suspended, as farmers, many of whom deliver direct from the threshers to elevators, have no place to store their grain. In several instances wheat bags are lying in the open exposed to rain. The wet weather is opportunity for fast ploughing as the ground was very dry.

A. James, to-day, assumed the duties of general superintendent of the Canadian Northern' and Winnipeg. He was twenty-one years with the C. P. R., having entered that company's service as operator here, in 1881.

AT THE GRAND.

"Tangled Relations" Presented To-Night.

Robert Whittier appears to-night in "Tangled Relations" at the Grand, and if you want to laugh and laugh long and heartily this is an attraction that appeals. It has been a great success in Paris, London, and New York; had a five months' run at the Comedy theatre, London, and Daly's theatre, New York city. Mr. Whittier is new to Canadian audiences, but so far has made a splendid impression by his quiet, simple methods, which are convincing.

NEXT EVENT AT THE GRAND.

The musical event of the season comes to the city on Wednesday, October 29th for performance. The attraction is known as Giannini's Royal Marine Band of Italy and Grand Opera company. The band is comprised of the finest musicians that Italy can boast. The Grand Opera company is headed by the world's famous tenor, Sig. F. Gianni, Senorita Cleopatra, Vicini, the prima donna soprano, is well known to the theatre-going people.

A NOSELESS BRIDEGROOM.

Lost Not Only Proboscis But Intended Wife.

Paris, Oct. 27.—A man named Maurice Bouany, a bank clerk in the Boulevard Magenta, was about to be married on Saturday. He dressed himself for the ceremony, and then went to get shaved.

While in the barber's shop he was suddenly taken with a violent fit of sneezing. The barber hastily removed the razor, but in doing so completely cut off the end of his nose.

After visiting a surgeon, Bouany wished to go on with the marriage, but the girl refused to marry him, not desiring a noseless husband.

TWO QUESTIONS ASKED.

The waterworks committee has been telling the people the saving made in the consumption of fuel, in the cost of labor, etc., remarked a citizen this morning. "Now, there are just two questions I would like the chairman of that committee to answer. The first is, How much fuel has been saved since Mr. Hazlett put the fuel saving device in?" The second question is, What has been the extra cost of labor in that department in the last two years? Things are not being run as economically as the committee would have believed. The cost to-day far exceeds that of three, four and five years ago. I only hope the chairman will answer my two questions in a straightforward manner."

A Profitable Trip.

W. J. Eare, district manager for the North American Life Insurance company, has just returned from Cleveland, Ohio, and Buffalo, N.Y., where he succeeded in writing large policies for the company.

During this month, Mr. Fair has beaten all previous records as an underwriter, having taken applications for large policies in New York City, and the above mentioned places, this success speaks volumes for the progressive institution he represents.

MEDICAL ATTENDANCE FOR STUDENTS.

Queen's Alma Mater society has appointed a committee to take action regarding the offer made by the General Hospital to furnish medical attendance and treatment to the students on condition that 250 subscriptions of one dollar each be made. The committee will make a canvass, and endeavor to complete all arrangements.
