

A PLEASANT SURPRISE.

In Store For Those Who Doubt. When you read that a sufferer of many years standing has been completely restored to health by using Smith's Cure-all, you are inclined to doubt the statement, and in fact have no belief in it whatever.

"I had a friend who had used one box of 50 cent Pyramid Pile Cure that entirely cured her. I saw the good effect on her, and thought I would try it, as I had got so I could not sit down without extreme pain and getting up was just as bad; the first box nearly cured me; I got the second box and have had no trouble since. Pyramid Pile Cure does all that it claims to do, and I never miss an opportunity to tell its merits. I speak from observation and personal benefit. Two boxes cured me over a year ago, and no return of the trouble since."

Mrs. M. Mooney, 6000 Sangamon St., Chicago, Ill. Pyramid Pile cure is sold by druggists for fifty cents a package, or will be mailed to any address upon receipt of price by Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich. Write this firm for their book describing the cause and cure of piles.

LENNOX TRIAL

Case Likely To Conclude Very Soon

MAY BE TO-DAY.

JUDGES SAID IT WAS HARD TO DISCRIMINATE.

Charge After Charge Dismissed as Evidence Submitted Did Not Fully Establish the Contentions - A Grab Game in the Brisco House, Napanee.

The Whig's Reporter. Napanee, Nov. 27. - One can catch a glimmer of the dawn that will mark the closing of the Lennox election trial. Before court adjourned to night, counsel for the appellant announced that in all probability the case would conclude Friday. So far no evidence has been adduced materially affecting the sitting member, and if nothing strange is brought forward, Mr. Carscallen will most likely continue to represent the constituency in the legislature. Counsel for the petitioners have a hard, uphill fight confronting them, but despite numerous set backs, they continue to advance to the attack with vigor and earnestness. Many apparent strong charges have been swept away for the lack of corroborative evidence, the cases resting on the evidence of one man against that of another. The conservatives have gone to considerable pains in the preparation of their defence, having Mr. Price, a St. Thomas lawyer, an expert at the work, on the ground for some weeks, collecting evidence and preparing the defence.

Following is a continuation of Thursday afternoon's session. The charges under consideration was that John Carscallen, brother of the member-elect, had given Lewis Hall, a voter, $5 to influence him to vote for the respondent. The evidence begins where Mr. Watson, for petitioner, was summing up:

Mr. Watson maintained that respondent had canvassed Hall when the latter named had asked for a loan of $5, and quoted from the evidence of respondent, taken at examination for discovery, in support of his point. In this Mr. Carscallen stated that he had referred Hall to his brother when asked for the money, and that he thought he had asked Hall for his vote.

Mr. Carscallen, however, showed that Hall had been canvassed on another occasion. Hall testified that he did not hear Carscallen refer him to his brother.

John Carscallen testified that when asked by Hall for a loan, he complied, partly out of sympathy for Hall, a cripple, and partly because he knew his brother had loaned Hall money on former occasions. Hall had not taken up the note, but witness expected he would do so. Did not have the election in mind when complying with Hall's request.

The case was allowed to rest with the judges.

Charge No. 12, next taken up, alleged that Edward Long, a township of Richmond farmer, agent of respondent, had promised to procure a sum of money for Ferdinand Scrimshaw to induce him to vote for respondent. Scrimshaw testified to having had a conversation with Long, just before election day. Long asked witness to vote for Carscallen. Asked Long if there was "anything in it," and Long replied there would be. Witness asked the money at once, but Long asked if he was "not good for it," and witness was satisfied he was. Had not so far received any money for his vote.

Mr. Watson put in the authority appointing Long Mr. Carscallen's agent. The witness was closely cross-examined, but nothing new was gleaned, nor was his evidence shaken.

Mrs. Scrimshaw, wife of the last witness, was called, but declared she knew nothing whatever about the case.

Fred Scrimshaw, brother of Ferdinand, testified that he was present when Long and his brother had conferred together about the election. Did not hear Long promise to procure anything for his brother.

G. F. Rutman, secretary of the Lennox conservative association, produced the minute book of the association, showing record of the convention at which Mr. Carscallen was nominated. An entry showed that Edward Long was present and had subscribed $1 towards petty expenses of the association, thus, doubly establishing him as an agent of respondent.

In rebuttal, Edward Long was called. He admitted having canvassed the Scrimshaw brothers, but denied that he had promised to obtain anything for them. Ferdinand Scrimshaw asked if there would be anything in it if he voted for Carscallen, and witness replied that he could not give him anything. Never had any money to use corruptly.

Mr. Watson closely cross-examined witness without changing his evidence. Admitted that Scrimshaw had met him after election and asked him to "whack up."

In summing up the evidence, Mr. Watson addressed only a few words to the court, leaving conviction or other action to the discrimination of the judges.

The court held that a case had not been made out, and dismissed the charge. Justice Osler stated the evidence of Scrimshaw could not be accepted as final and sufficient to offset the denial of Long. It was a difficult matter for a judge to discriminate between the evidence of two men, and to say which was telling the truth and which was lying.

Charge Of Procuring Money. Charge No. 9 was next ventilated. It alleged that Thomas Hewitt, of Richmond township, did promise, procure and pay a sum of money, and procure other consideration to Paul, John and Patrick McAuley, of Richmond township.

Paul McAuley, sworn, testified that he had not been promised money for his vote nor had he ever said that he had been promised $10 for his vote. He denied also, having talked over the charge with anybody with a view to arranging as to what evidence he should give.

Thomas Hewitt testified that he had not, to the best of his memory, canvassed Paul McAuley; did not think he had any influence with McAuley. McAuley went to home of witness several times and discussed election matters. Did not promise to give McAuley or anyone else any money.

The charge was not pressed further, so the court dismissed it.

Charge No. 11 alleged that Hamilton Armstrong, an agent of respondent, had paid a sum of money to his brother, John, to induce him to vote for respondent.

It was announced he counsel for respondent that Hamilton Armstrong was absent in Manitoba and could not be secured to give evidence.

John Armstrong, township of Richmond, sworn, admitted having discussed election matters with his brother, but had not received or been promised any money, either for his vote or for the use of his team. This charge went the way of a great many others, and was wiped from the slate.

Charge No. 18, alleged that Peter Davis, of Adolphustown, had induced William Reynolds to vote, knowing that Reynolds had no right to vote. William Reynolds, sworn, testified that in August, 1902, he had gone to Manitoba, returning in November of the same year. Upon attempting to vote in last election, vote was objected to. Peter Davis said witness was eligible to vote and urged that his vote be accepted. Was alleged by some of the scrutineers that witness was not entitled to vote on account of having been out of the province. Davis knew that the oath of eligibility had been taken. Took the oath of eligibility and voted.

IN FRONTENAC.

COUNCILLORS WHO WILL SEEK RE-ELECTION.

Councillors Rutman and Avery Drop Out - Councillor Toner Urged to Stay - The Outlook.

The majority of the present Frontenac county council will seek re-election. Councillor Rutman having moved to another county, of course, retires. Councillor Avery is another whose beaming countenance will be seen no more at the county council board, where for years he has given his time and thought to be the best interests of Frontenac. His parliamentary duties he finds enough for him in the legislature line. Councillor Toner, the Pittsburg veteran, desires to retire, but strong efforts are being made to induce him to again stand for re-election. He has been an able county adviser, and should he return, he will assuredly sit in the warden's chair.

All the other members of the council will likely be busy at the polls in January, including Councillor Shannon, who made such a remarkable run in Pittsburg two years ago. He has a strong following down there. In Pittsburg and Kingston, 'tis said, there will be lively times at the forthcoming contests for county council seats, some old warriors coming into the field with their feathers and war paint. It is likely that ex-warden Miller will again be a candidate for the post of county clerk.

On Wolfe Island, Warden Spoor and Councillor Mozier, who have represented that municipality for the past four years, will again be brought forth. William Pillar, who succeeded the late George Wright, as representative of Kingston township, will be in the field, and no doubt, will be returned. Although the longest member of the present council, he will come rapidly to the front, being on the principal committees.

It Is Forbidden. The sale or other disposal of liquor on December 4th is strictly forbidden, it being the day on which the vote on the liquor act of 1902 is to be taken, in regard to which all the provisions of the Ontario election act and amendments relating to the prevention and punishment of corrupt practices and other illegal acts at elections apply.

A Double Track. "By the new year we will have a double track between Montreal and Niagara Falls, with the exception of a short section of twenty-one miles, and we expect to have the main line into Bradford about the same time." This is the information F. H. McGuigan, manager of the Grand Trunk, brings from the west.

Injured During The Fire. Mrs. James Druce, of the outer depot, was, on Thursday, removed to the General Hospital. She sustained an injury to her side while lifting some of the household furniture during the fire which destroyed several adjacent buildings on Wednesday morning. She was endeavoring to get her furniture to a place of safety.

At The Police Court. A young resident of the county was charged in the police court this morning with drunkenness, and remanded until to-morrow morning, until he could procure counsel for his defence. An aged citizen, for the same offence, had a fine of $1 and costs marked against him.

Where To Go. Fig layer cakes, 15c, and 25c, each. Cream goods, fresh and delicious. Angel cakes, 15c, and 25c, each. Angel slices, 10c, a dozen, at T. H. Ferguson's, King street.

"Bibby's" Oak Hall. "Bibby's" - Our 50c, 75c, and $1 underwear puts to shame anything we ever saw before at the price. The H. D. Bibby Co.

To Cure A Cold In One Day. Take Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets. This signature is on every box, 25c. E. H. Bicknell.

Jenkins' boy - overcoats, are the boys' delight and comfort $4.50 to $6.50.

POOR COMFORT. Cold Water Drinker Finds a Relief in Postum Coffee. Our American people, who are nervous and overstrained, would never drink coffee if they knew how well and clear-headed they would be with it.

"When I was a little child," says Miss M. D. M. of Topeka, Kans., "I contracted the drinking of coffee. Naturally nervous, it made me as the years went on, a most miserable wretch, always in an unnatural state of excitement. I found, as I grew older, that I would at times stagger as a drunken person. It was coffee, for I had no desire to drink anything in liquor."

My health was very bad and my brother and I were talking of quitting coffee, when I was stricken with typhoid fever. Upon my recovery, my brother wisely allowed me no coffee and said if I wished to be well again, I must stop its use.

For a number of years, cold water was my only drink, but this was poor comfort until about three years ago a package of Postum Food Coffee was left at our house. We prepared it as directed and found a wholesome, delicious drink; more than this, it has strengthened me without causing those terrible "after effects" formerly left upon me by coffee.

I recommend Postum to all my friends and in my varied experience, I find it a safe drink without effect on the nerves and the only one which with me has filled a long felt want.

Many people who have stopped drinking coffee because of its effect on the nerves, will find the pure food drink, Postum, beverages that when properly made touches the spot, pleases eye and palate and fills the vacancy as no other drink can.

Conducted A Smoker. The first smoker to be held in the bicycle club rooms this season took place last evening. The attendance was very fair, and the members enjoyed themselves heartily. When cigars and tobacco had been distributed, a bright programme was given under the direction of Frank O'Gorman, who acted as chairman. Songs and speeches were listened to with pleasure.

"Bibby's" Oak Hall. "Bibby's" - To cut a long story short, our $8, $10, $12.50, $14, $15 overcoats are dandies, at The H. D. Bibby Co.

Christmas Gifts. French stagwares the newest and prettiest for this Christmas at Taylor's.

STILL NO WORD

Of The Missing Steamer Bannockburn.

Marine underwriters are inclined to give the steamer Bannockburn up for lost on Lake Superior. It was reported to them that the steamer was passed last Friday by the steamer Algonquin, about fifty miles south-west of Keweenaw Point. That would bring the Bannockburn, well out into Lake Superior, and right in the track of vessels. It is supposed at Chicago the steamer stranded on Caribou Island.

A Toronto despatch says: After the steamer Algonquin had passed the Bannockburn, the captain of the former looped back but was unable to locate her where she had been seen shortly before. He remarked at that time that the Bannockburn had gone out of sight pretty quickly, and now fears an explosion was the cause.

The Bannockburn, which was built twelve years ago on the Clyde, was a fine steel steamer, and on her being brought over to Canada rated A1 at Lloyd's. She usually had a couple of barges in tow, but was this time coming down alone with a cargo of 95,000 bushels of wheat.

Some years ago the Bannockburn was missing on Lake Superior, in just a similar case, and didn't turn up for a week. Mr. Thurston, the company's chief engineer, who was then on her, says the crew were as snug as could be. The local office of the company is besieged by the friends and relatives of the crew, eager for news.

The Althea Released. The Calvin wrecking outfit released the steamer Althea, ashore below Adolphustown, on Wednesday afternoon. The steamer was taken to Deseronto, and is now hauled out on the marine railway. Her wheel was broken, and she was leaking slightly. Mr. Gildersleeve expects to have her on the route again by Monday. The Althea is a staunch little boat, and was built at Davis' shipyard two years ago.

Marine Notes. Swift's wharf: Lake barge Burmah, from Oswego, with 1,700 tons of hard coal. James Garvin, another Kingston young man, is a deckhand on the SS. Bannockburn. Craig's wharf: Schooner Queen of the Lakes, from Oswego, with hard coal; steamer Niagara, down.

The Wolfe Island council still have under consideration the question of building a ferry steamer. The steamer Chieflain is in Davis' dock for repairs. On Monday the M. T. company barge Montreal will enter for an overhauling. Davis & Sons have commenced the building of a steamyacht for W. L. Hepton, of England, who spends the summer on the Muskoka lakes. They have sold their last steamyacht to Reuben Miller, Pittsburg, Pa.

DESERTEED HER CHILD. "Finder reward for God's sake place this darling boy in the home, and your reward will be in Heaven. God knows I wouldn't have let him go only for my health. Born October 4th, 1902. Edward Luffman. Unchristened."

In a woman's weak and faltering hand the above words were traced on the front of a plain, white envelope, placed in the bundle of clothing that accompanied a little boy left on the sidewalk on Montreal street, near the K. & P. crossing, early last evening. Deserted by its mother, whoever she may have been - and if the name of mother can be used in such a case - the little one was left lying in the street in the cold and stormy evening. Had it not at once been found, the faint beatings of the tiny baby heart would soon have ceased, as it could not long have withstood the exposure.

Soon after it was deserted, a man, whose identity is unknown, stopped the depot street car, and told the conductor that he had discovered the baby lying on the walk. The carefully wrapped up child was then placed in the car to be brought to the city, and the man disappeared. Police Constable Diamond took the little one to the Infants' Home, where it is being tenderly cared for. The baby was comfortably dressed in well-made clothes of fine material. In the bundle that lay beside him were other baby clothes of equal quality. The baby was a healthy, vigorous one, and when found was sustaining the average baby's well-grounded reputation as a prince of waifs.

The handwriting on the letter indicated that the mother was from the poorer walks of life, and in every word could be seen the traces of nervousness, and weakness, the probable results of the poverty, and suffering that caused the mother to abandon her little one. The note was a very pathetic one, and seemed to be such as only a broken-hearted, ill and despairing mother could write.

INTERESTING FACTS. For Nearly Every Man, Woman or Child.

A short time ago we published an article recommending to our readers the new discovery for the cure of dyspepsia, called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and the claims then made regarding the wonderful curative properties of the remedy have been abundantly sustained by the facts. People who were cautious about trying new remedies advertised in newspapers and were finally induced to give Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets a trial were surprised and delighted at the results. In many cases a single package costing but fifty cents at any drug store made a complete cure and in every instance the most beneficial results were reported. From a hundred or more received we have space to publish only a few of the latest but assure our readers we receive so many commendatory letters that we shall publish each week a fresh list of genuine, unsolicited testimonials and never publish the same one twice.

From James Yenniesler, La Cross, Wis.: Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are doing me more good than anything I ever tried and I was so pleased at results that I gave away several boxes to my friends who have also had the same benefits.

From Jacob Anthony, Portmurray, New Jersey: I have taken Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets with the best results. I had dyspepsia for six years, and had taken a great deal of medicine, but the Tablets seem to take right a hold and I feel good. I am a farmer and lime burner and I heartily recommend to everyone who has any trouble with his stomach to use these Tablets.

From Mrs. M. K. West, - Preston, Minn.: I have received surprisingly good effects from using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I gave one half of my last box to a friend who also suffered from indigestion and she had the same good results.

From Mrs. Agnes K. Ralston Cadell, Mich.: I have been taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and I am very much better, and feel very grateful for the great benefit I have received in so short a time.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a certain cure for all forms of indigestion. They are not claimed to be a cure-all, but are prepared for stomach troubles only, and physicians and druggists everywhere recommend them to all persons suffering from Nervous Dyspepsia, sour or acid stomach, heartburn, bloating or wind on stomach and similar disorders.
