

A prominent Southern lady, Mrs. Blanchard, of Nashville, Tenn., tells how she was cured of backache, dizziness, painful and irregular periods by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Gratitude compels me to acknowledge the great merit of your Vegetable Compound. I have suffered for four years with irregular and painful menstruation, also dizziness, pains in the back and lower limbs, and fitful sleep. I dreaded the time to come which would only mean suffering to me. Six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me health and happiness in a few short months, and was worth more than months under the doctor's care, which really did not benefit me at all. I feel like another person now. My aches and pains have left me. I am satisfied there is no medicine so good for sick women as your Vegetable Compound, and I advocate it to my lady friends in need of medical help."—Mrs. B. A. BLANCHARD, 422 Broad St., Nashville, Tenn.—$5000 free trial of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

SPORT IN GENERAL.

Notes About the Various Sporting Fields.

The Ottawa Abertons will not amalgamate with the Ottawa club. Kingston and Hamilton have each had the O.R.F.U. junior championship twice.

"Chaucer" Elliott will press his application to the Canadian Amateur Union for reinstatement.

Johns Hopkins hopes to arrange lacrosse matches with Cambridge and Toronto Universities this coming season.

A. H. Peaton, for six years the efficient secretary of the O.H.A., is retiring, though he is again offered the position by acclamation.

Limestones are satisfied that they can trim the Hamilton Tigers on any grounds with their full team. When a free kick wins a championship it is no championship at all.

Toronto Mail-Emire: On changing over with the wind, Limestones figured on running up a large score. They, however, made the great mistake of kicking the line instead of kicking.

Montreal Shamrock lacrosse team will again play in New York next summer. P. J. Brennan represented the Shamrocks at the New York Crescent club's banquet Friday night.

Five clubs, playing eight teams were represented at the Western Ontario Hockey Association meeting, Berlin, Waterloo, Guelph, Hespeler and Preston are the places in the association.

There is talk of forming what will be known as the Northern Hockey League. This league would be made up of Walkerton, Hariston, Drayton, Mount Forest, Wingham, Palmerston, Listowel and Lucknow.

The sporting-year is like a drama. There are the four acts representing the four seasons of sport, while between are the intermissions. Kingston, like most other places, is now enjoying the intermission, but without an orchestra.

It is probable that the Kingston Bicycle Club will make application to the O.H.A. to enter a team in the junior series. The Ramblers are also thinking of doing likewise. In this event the Quinte League will be left with only Napanee, Deseronto and Picton.

The Rochester baseball management have signed Arthur A. Irwin to manage the former Bronchos, former manager for 1907, and work has already begun on the team, which it is hoped, will send the Eastern league pennant to the Flower City next September.

Some Toronto papers do not think much of Hamilton. One of them on Saturday gave this sign: "Oh, on a photograph of the Limestones as they leave Hamilton to-night." But the Toronto sheet should give us a photograph of the Tigers as they appeared on that evening.

Nothing definite is known as to the composition of the Winnipeg Victoria's senior hockey seven, but it looks as if the following candidates stood the best chances for places on that aggregation: Goal, Olesan; point, MacFarlane or Dan Flett; cover-point, Magnus Flett; forwards, Cadham, Nash, Giffers and Scanlan.

It was really on the half-back line that Limestones lost to the Tigers. Had Betts been in his position at centre, he would have kicked probably a dozen rouges or touches-in-goal. Limestones were handicapped there, but still towards the close of the match they might have kicked a point, instead of trying to make a touch.

The playing season around New York for the Amateur Hockey League will start on January 3rd, when the Crescents play the Brooklins. The same teams as last year are playing again. All the teams expect to make things lively for the Crescents, the three-time champions, and several of them have laid wires to get some crack Canadian players.

ANOTHER LOSS

STEAMER HEBARD SINKS WITH ALL ON BOARD.

Had a Crew of Fourteen—Schooner Aloha Also Missing and Believed to Have Gone to the Bottom.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Dec. 2.—The steamer Charles Hetard was wrecked at Point Mainse early yesterday. She broke up and disappeared completely, and it is believed that her crew of fourteen men and one woman were all lost. The schooner Aloha, which the Hetard had in tow, is still missing on Lake Superior. The Warrington and Francomb, which formed the other boats of the steamer's tow, are anchored at Point Mainse.

The news of the disaster was brought by the steamer Ossifrage. On approaching Point Mainse, the Hetard was sighted ashore there. Not long afterwards, in plain sight of the Ossifrage, the wrecked steamer broke up and disappeared from view.

Where Sailors Belonged.
North Tonawanda, N.Y., Dec. 2.—George Turpin and Matthew Hudson, deckhands on the steamer Hetard, are from the Tonawandas.

Peter Johnson, master of the schooner Aloha, of the Hetard's tow, also lived here. He was sixty years old and the father of twelve children who live here. His wife is dead. All of the other members of the Aloha's crew, with the exception of Bell, who is from Canada, are members of the Seaman's Union and shipped from here this spring. The Hetard and barges were laden with about 3,000,000 feet of lumber for White, Gratiwick & Mitchell, of this city.

The large Celtic, believed to have gone down in Lake Huron with all on board, shipped its entire crew here last spring, aside from Capt. Jeffries, Detroit, Mate John A. Johnson, Toronto, and cook Margaret Quirk, Marine City. The remainder of the Celtic's crew are reported as being from the Tonawandas.

Eleven For Kingston.

It is stated that there were twenty-one of a crew aboard the Bannockburn, Kingston, contributing eleven. It was learned this afternoon that the assistant cook, Sidney Smith, was a Kingston boy. He was at one time employed in the "hosiery mill," but his health failing, he went sailing and found employment. His mother recently moved to Canfield, near Toronto, where she married a man named Walker. Young Smith wanted to leave the boat on the last trip and wrote his mother that he would be home, but he was persuaded to remain and accept the position of watchman for the winter months, with a view to being a member of the crew next year.

It seems that the lighthouse on Caribou Island was closed on November 15th. Protest was made at the time by United States papers. It is suggested that Capt. Woods may have been trying to pick up the Caribou light, and ran onto the rocks.

Harlowe Heraldings.

Harlowe, Nov. 28.—The final settlement in connection with the cheese factory was made this afternoon; the books audited showed everything satisfactory. October cheese sold at $1.08 per hundred. A school concert was given in the school house Wednesday evening; the room was beautifully decorated; a good programme was given. Although the night was very disagreeable, it was a decided success.

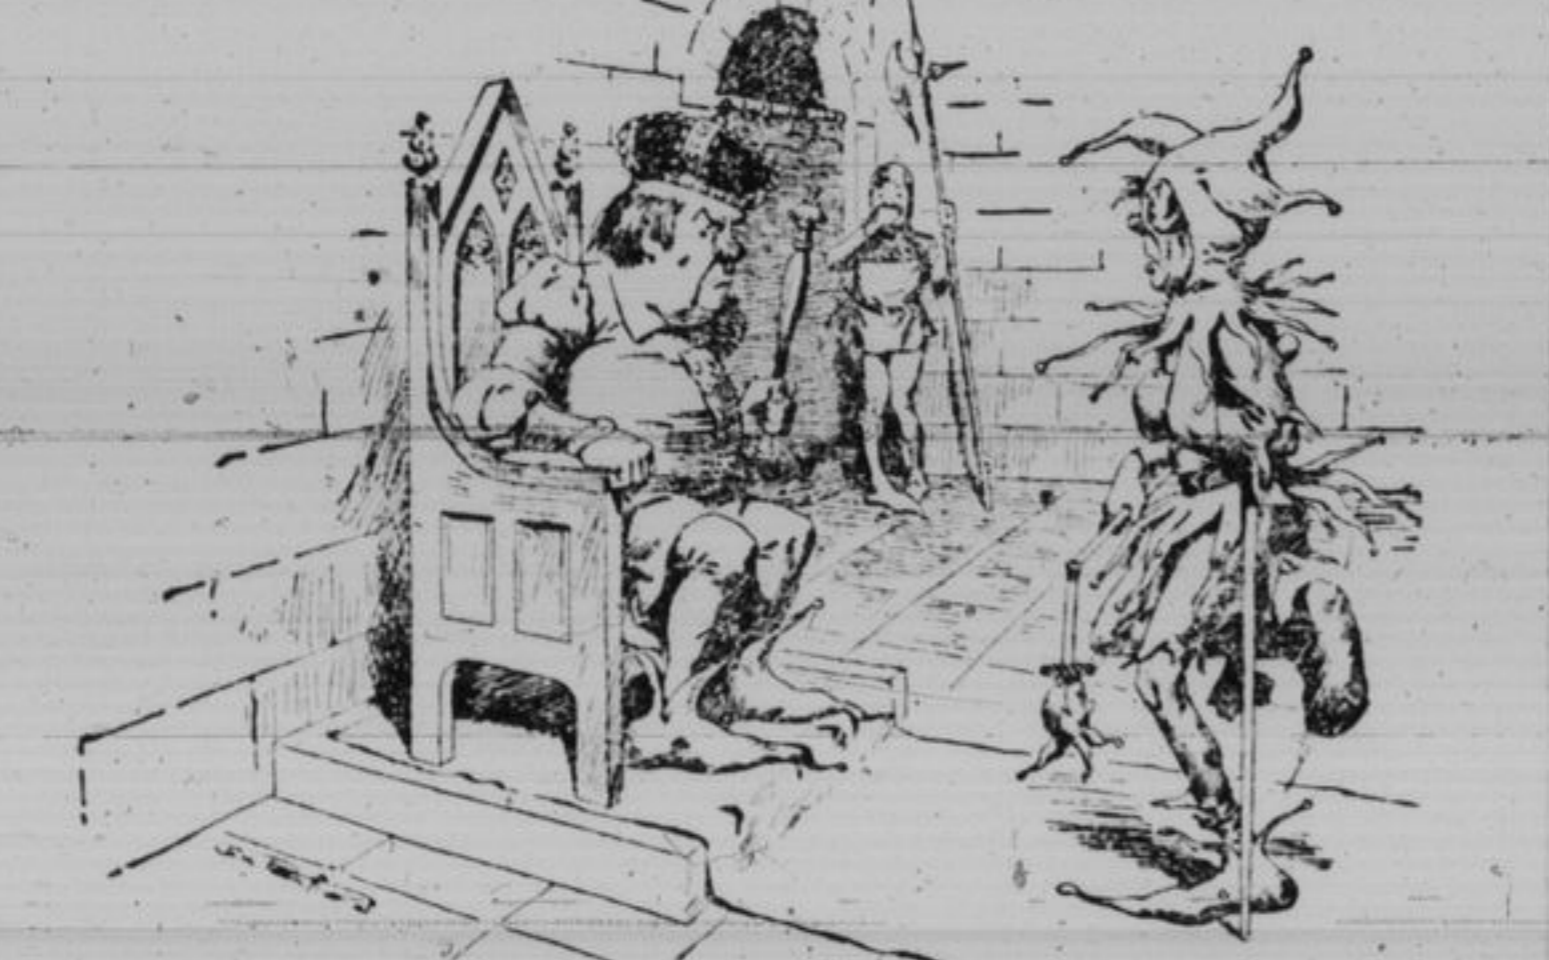

B. Gilbert, Chaplain, is calling the number for Avery & Thompson, of Sharbot Lake, Frank McKim, Northbrook, was in the village this week with a load of cutters for sale. P. Carscallan, J.P., Tamworth, was in the village this week. Mrs. Booth and daughter, Renfrew, are visiting at C. Thompson's. Miss Rhoda McKim is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Joel Thompson. Mr. and Mrs. L. Hawley, Hay Bay, are visiting friends in the village.

Two Narrow Escapes.

Oso Station, Nov. 28.—Snow fell here to the depth of four inches. Mr. Garrett shot two deer, before the season closed, in Oso township. One was a buck, weighing two hundred and twenty pounds. Joseph W. Bourk has sold his fine team of horses for a good price. Mr. Chambers had a close call from being killed by a thrasher in his barn; the sleeve of his shirt caught in the attachment of the tumbling shaft.

Two men came to his aid in time and held him, but his clothes were striped from his back. The house of Joseph Johnston, who lives three miles from here was burned Friday. His three children had a narrow escape. Hens and chickens consumed; no insurance.

Farmers complain of numerous thefts of turkeys and chickens from farm yards near Glenvale. It is said that the thieves dispose of them by raffling and card games. It is a pity for the general good that the farmers do not keep a watch and use a shotgun.

Why do you wish to leave the court?
"Sure, did you not say I could make jests on any subject I wished?"
"Well, I want to find a kingdom where the subjects are less strenuous."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Mr. Mudie's Parting Shot at Dr. Philp.

Kingston, Dec. 2.—(To the Editor): I suppose it is about time that I should pay my respects to your correspondent, who has favored me with so much recognition, and whose latest expressions you have been pleased to call and, doubtless your readers as pleased to accept, as his parting shot. I would not think it worth while penning a line if it was merely to answer Mr. Mudie's vituperations or grant greater publicity to his unenviable notoriety as a newspaper correspondent. A brief statement, however, from me may be useful to correct any wrong impressions that may have been made by his heated and grossly unjust attack.

Mr. Mudie's charge that I accused him of "misquoting Milton" is without foundation and false. Let him know his ground and weigh his words before he makes such a charge. Concerning his "misapplication of Milton's views," to the present prohibitory movement and the practical question before us now, I reserve to myself as give to him right of judgment. Let him not suppose that he can hold the office of dictator over the thoughts of another, but rather let him allow to all that liberty which he persistently professes to champion. There are none more dogmatic than those who move in the narrow circles of their own conceptions and fancy they have compassed the whole field of enquiry.

The statement that I refused to "publish a justification" of what the alleged I said, and the inference drawn, are alike unworthy of a candid and honorable man. In our conversation over the phone, no such request was made. Mr. Mudie asked if I would favor him with a personal correspondence and give him my views concerning Milton's quotation and his application of the same. I replied thanking him, but frankly stated, and without any intended disrespect whatsoever, that my time was now too much engaged to grant his request. To this he gave the astonishing answer: "Then I shall go into the Whig." He has gone. Whether to his credit or to let your readers judge. Thus ended this interesting conversation.

Mr. Mudie draws his inference. It is such as I would expect from one who has sacrificed his self-respect in assailing churches and ministers. I leave to the public to draw their conclusion and judge as to whether my time was not much better occupied in seeking to further the interests of this great present-day prohibitory measure than in discussing with my assailant the utterances and views of the blind bard, who wrote and sang for his times, but had comparatively little, if any true conception of the vital conditions and issues of to-day.

Regarding my "article" in the Globe in the late discussion, I am content that its publication remain with the citizens of Kingston, who were present. My statements are mild in comparison with much that I have heard on Mr. Mudie's attitude and utterances on that occasion.

In answer to the slanderous insinuation of the gentleman touching personal character, permit me to say: If he wishes to compare notes as to individual standing anywhere in the province of Ontario (Kingston not excepted), I shall most cheerfully meet him.

In the closing paragraphs of his article, yesterday, Mr. Mudie loses himself in angry verbosity as he seeks to exhaust his vocabulary of personal abuse. I would count myself dishonored if for any reason I could be betrayed into such an exhibition of passion or allow my pen to record a reply of like character. If it is a satisfaction to him thus to assail I envy not his spirit. "As a man thinketh in his heart so is he."

It is not needful that I should present a justification of Mr. Ferguson, who, to the knowledge of the large executive committee of which J. McIntyre, K.C., is chairman, acted in the most honorable way in his relation to Mr. Mudie and put himself to very great inconvenience to meet him in a discussion which, so far as Mr. Ferguson was concerned, was conducted in the most gentlemanly and fair manner.

My great regret in this whole matter is that your correspondent who has given his "parting shot," should have allowed himself to indulge in the bitterness he has displayed. Toward him I entertain no ill-will.—J. PHILP.

A Woman's Service.

St. Andrew's day falling on Sunday this year, the special annual celebration of the Holy Communion, usually held on that day, and which is attended by all the members of the various city branches of the Women's Auxiliary, took place at St. George's cathedral on Tuesday last past, the dean celebrating, with Canon Macmorine, Rev. W. Lewin, and Rev. G. L. Starr assisting.

Remarkable Pants.

Ex-Gov. Alonzo B. Cornell, who was at the Astor House last week, was stopped by a ragged and unkempt panhandler on Barclay street the other night, and asked to contribute a dime for something for the hobo's supper.

"Not a dime; not a cent, sir!" ejaculated the ex-governor. "Why, sir, you are young, strong, and better able to get your living than I am. I've no sympathy with the lazy nor with the dishonest, who come to want through crime, sir."

The panhandler, still importuning, resented the last stab, and replied: "True, my pants may be ragged, but sir, they cover a warm heart, sir."

Both Feet Badly Frozen.

A lad named Doyle, of Williamsville, employed by a farmer named Haycock, near Camden East, was found on Monday beneath a barn on his employer's farm, where he had crashed two days before. He was starved when discovered and in an advanced condition of exhaustion. Both feet were frozen, and physicians thought they could have to be amputated at the ankle. Tuesday morning, however, they had hopes of saving the portion of the feet he considered it necessary to remove the footpart, from the instep.

ELECTION CASE

THE TRIAL GOING ON AT WOODSTOCK.

Hearing Argument in a Charge That a Dollar Was Paid to a Voter—Three Hours Taken up.

Woodstock, Ont., Dec. 2.—Judges Street and Britton resumed the South Oxford election protest trial here this afternoon.

The charge that Donald Sutherland, M.L.A., gave Richard Lloyd, one dollar for his vote was continued. At the previous trial the petitioners called Lloyd, George Prichard and Abraham Young, each of whom swore that the former got $1 for his vote, and Sutherland said: "Support me on May 29th." In rebuttal of this Abraham Young was called to-day. He stated that all his former evidence was false and that he had told the story because Lloyd and Fick had persuaded him to, and that George Sutherland, Tilsonburg, promised him $25 if he would stick to his story. Today he said he was not present in Lloyd's barn on May 27th, the day when it is alleged that Donald Sutherland gave Lloyd $1.

William Anderson was called by Mr. Watson, K.C., and swore that he saw Abraham Young in Lloyd's barn on May 27th.

Richard Lloyd was also called in rebuttal. He said that his evidence as he gave it to-day was false.

William McNab, the railway foreman, for whom Young worked, swore that Young was working for him on May 27th. Edward McMeekin stated that Lloyd told him he got fifty cents from Donald Sutherland as a tip, on May 27th.

Donald Sutherland, the respondent, took the stand, and denied absolutely and positively the Lloyd evidence. He had never given Lloyd a dollar; neither had he asked him to vote for him. He might have given him a tip on May 27th, but he did not remember.

Hearing Adjourned.

Woodstock, Ont., Dec. 2.—The Lloyd charge was allowed to stand by Judge Street and Britton, when they heard the argument of counsel this forenoon. The argument occupied nearly three hours. A decision is expected this afternoon. The court is now hearing the Overt and Pollard charges of bribery.

INCIDENTS OF THE DAY.

Newspaper Paragraphs Picked Up By Reporters on Their Rounds.

Inspector Piddock, of the Kingston Dairy school, has removed his family from Perth to this city. It is likely that hereafter Kingston will be his place of residence.

A young lad named Morrison, who carries parcels for Wood's Fair, and his mother, complained to the police this morning that a boy playing truant from Frontenac school had beaten him and stolen his New Year's cap.

That Kingston fergo escaped arrest for a long time because he wore overalls and a workman's rig while doing up his victims, and dressed like a merchant prince of the business hours. Another proof of the value of detail.

BONES OF AN INDIAN.

What Was Turned up by a Plow.

Oshawa, Dec. 2.—While W. F. Stephens was plowing in a field of sod on B. Mott's farm, in the first concession of East Whitby, he turned up—or the plow point did—the remains of an Indian, the skull coming to the surface first, and, on examination, the remainder of a complete set of bones were found.

The skull was quite firm, and all the teeth in the upper jaw but one, while the lower jaw had all the teeth in it complete. The body bones indicated a long ago burial. Under them were found a stone, in shape like the handle of a pocket knife, the blade of a knife some six inches long, and a spoon-handle. The bones, enclosed in Birch bark, were lying on the right side, with the face to the south, the knees doubled up and the feet to the east, on a little hill near the stream known as Farewell's Creek. On the same day, some eight or ten feet from the remains referred to, eleven flat silver rings were found, about one inch in diameter, having pins in them; with them was a silver rosette about one and a half inches in diameter, which, together probably formed a necklace. An ear ring with a drop attachment and a small spoon completed the find. Those Mr. Stevens divided between himself and the Mottersville family, which they will no doubt take care of as mementoes of the past. What hopes and fears were buried there!

Dropsy and Heart Disease.

"For ten years I suffered greatly from Heart Disease. Fluttering of the Heart and smothering Spells made my life a torment. Dropsy set in. My physician told me to prepare for the worst. I tried Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart. One dose gave great relief, one bottle cured me completely." Mrs. James Adams, Syracuse, N.Y. Sold by Henry Wade and H. B. Taylor.—107.

Residents Are Complaining.

People residing near Cataract street are complaining of a nuisance ground being made of a vacant lot of land in that vicinity. For the past month rubbish has been dumped there to fill up a large hole. Nothing was said about the matter until last week, when a load of paper and rubbish was thrown there. The paper was hurled by the wind and deposited on lawns and in yards. The locality is now literally covered with these papers, presenting the appearance of a nuisance ground. Besides the odor arising from the spot is very disagreeable.

Bleeding Piles.

Not Only Painful and Annoying But a Menace to Life Itself—Can Be Cured by

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

File of hemorrhoidal tumors, like varicose veins in other parts of the body, sometimes burst and permit the escape of blood from their central veins. These constitute bleeding piles. Such hemorrhages are sometimes exceedingly profuse, so as to even endanger the life of the patient.

The victim of piles should avoid rich and stimulating foods and drinks and should keep the bowels slightly relaxed, as constipation is one cause of this ailment.

Some people do not think of trying Dr. Chase's Ointment for bleeding piles, though they know of its wonderful power in curing other forms of this horrible complaint.

The best proof of the efficiency of Dr. Chase's Ointment in this regard is the testimony of persons who have been actually cured of bleeding piles by using it. The statement of Mr. Jackson given below is that of a well-known and responsible business man who felt so grateful for the benefit derived from Dr. Chase's Ointment that he determined to do what he could to let others know about it.

James Jackson, of the Laurie Spool company, St. Alexis de Monts, Que., writes: "You may put my name to any praise you can give to Dr. Chase's Ointment, for it has done me more good than any medicine I ever used."

"I was troubled for two years with that cruel disease, bleeding piles, and after using Dr. Chase's Ointment, I can say I am entirely rid of it. It is a treasure to all suffering from piles."

Dr. Chase's Ointment, 60 cents a box. At all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.
