RECENT BY-ELECTIONS.

The elections in Yarmouth, N. S., and Argenteuil, Que., make clear the fact that public feeling is not running against the Laurier government. From both constituencies the reports were sent out by the conservative party that it was standing in great favour and likely to win.

Incidents were quoted in order to show that the liberals were very anxious and very uneasy.

Yarmouth, which has gone liberal since confederation, one election excepted, would have surprised the dominion had it failed to return a liberal member. The battle in the constituency was ably led on both sides and the liberal success is largely due to the splendid championship of the liberal cause by the finance minister, Mr. Corning, K.C., the conservative candidate, suffered a defeat in the last general election by 221 votes. In the by-election he was defeated by a majority of 838 votes, which is emphatically a repudiation of the conservative policy and conservative cause.

Mr. Christie (son of the late member), could hardly be expected to develop the strength of his father in a political contest. His opponents regarded him as a weak man, and counted on his defeat. They miscalculated the case and suffered a severe rout. Mr. Christie's election means a great deal, and to the conservative party it means the most. They resorted to their old tricks and old racial cries, and with an effect they can best understand. Mr. Borden, the party's leader, will see the wisdom of revising his programme before he resumes the campaigns which are designed to turn public sentiment in his favour.

Comments of the Press.

tion of the liquor traffic for which the Act of 1902 provided.

The outcome of the campaign is very evident. The license law will be made to conform with advanced public sentiment, and failing in this attempt to secure practical prohibition, the people here who want it will seek another appeal to the electorate at an early date under more favorable conditions.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The day of impersonation is past.

It cannot be attempted without great risk, and the penalty, on conviction, is very severe.

Yesterday's election was one of the quietest on record. There was a complete absence of excitement. Men, under the ballot, can say a great deal and not open their lips.

The Monetary Times has a word to say to the individuals, who with a few dollars want to gamble in stocks, and in a short time become amazingly rich. Our contemporary calls them open-mouthed fools.

Politics were kept out of the election yesterday. All day liberals and conservatives worked side by side, for or against the Liquor Act of 1902, without a word of difference. The "strictly confidential" circular was a failure.

Domestic science has been blocked in London, so far as the public school pupils are concerned, until the people, in the next election, remodel the school board. Some trustees will presently discover that they have become back numbers.

Ottawa is selling the coal the council bought in England at $8 a ton. It will lose about $14,000 by the deal, but the people have the fuel, and they are grateful for it. When the council ordered the English coal it was a compliment to get it at any price.

Mr. Peterson, of McGill College, is inclined to censure the Canadian ministers because they did not fall in with the Chamberlain programme at the colonial conference. Dr. Peterson is a comparatively new comer in Canada. Is he competent to pass judgment upon the government?

The Canadian Churchman advocates the regulation of the liquor traffic rather than the prohibition of it. It wants "such legislation as will remove temptation out of men's paths, and secure, as far as possible, a sober population in respect to the use of intoxicants." It should be a little more explicit.

Cause And Effect.

Toronto News.

We learn from Dr. Parkin—that college tastes differ. This doubtless accounts for the diversity of their "yells."

Here's A Revelation.

Marconi does not think his wireless system will supplant cables or land telegraphy. If not, it will be a good deaf of a plaything.

The Place For Fun.

It must be a continued Hallowe'en in Ireland, according to Joseph Devlin, M.P., who says there it is law but the policeman's button.

Refreshing Contrast.

New York World.

Chamberlain's words concerning his American life: "I have found her my best friend and truest comrade" come as a ray of light through clouds in this era of the rapid-fire divorce suit.

Ask And Ye Receive.

Ottawa Free Press.

France is now clamoring for a president of the Roosevelt type. Toronto, through the Globe, clamors for a J. R. Booth. The baby cries for the moon. Not one of the three are likely to get what they so much want.

Special Advent Services.

Last evening St. George's cathedral had a great congregation at prayer service. The bishop preached forcibly on the subject of grace, which will be resumed at the closing evening week day service to night. The great attendance throughout the week has been remarkable, in view of the quiet methods. The attendance at Anglican churches is not what it ought to be and it is hoped that these services will revive a proper spirit, especially among men.
