

SOUR STOMACH (ACID DYSPEPSIA).

Now Recognized as the Cause of Serious Diseases.

Acid Dyspepsia, commonly called heartburn or sour stomach, is a form of indigestion resulting from fermentation of the food. The stomach being too weak to promptly digest it, the food remains until fermentation begins, filling the stomach with gas, and a bitter, sour, burning taste in the mouth is often present. This condition soon becomes chronic and being an every day occurrence is given but little attention. Because Dyspepsia is not immediately fatal, many people do nothing for the trouble.

It is now well known among able physicians that the whole constitution is gradually undermined and weakened, that the nerves and vital organs are seriously affected by any form of dyspepsia. This is plain, as every organ, every nerve in the body is nourished by the blood and the blood is replenished from the food digested. If the food is properly digested the blood is pure, the nerves steady, but if supplied from a sour, fermenting, decaying mass the blood is vitiated, poisoned and the result is shown in sleeplessness, lack of energy, poor appetite, nervousness. Every trifle is magnified and the dyspeptic sees nothing but the dark side of everything.

Within a recent period a remedy has been discovered prepared solely to cure dyspepsia and stomach troubles. It is known as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and it is now becoming rapidly used and prescribed as a radical cure for every form of dyspepsia.

It is not claimed to cure anything except dyspepsia and stomach weakness in its various forms, but for this it has been shown to be unequalled. The eminent specialists, Reed and O'Leary, have recently stated that they considered Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets an unfailing specific for disorders of the digestive organs, and the remarkable cures made in cases of long standing dyspepsia proves that this remedy has extraordinary merit.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been placed before the public and are sold by druggists everywhere at fifty cents per package, and while it promptly and effectually restores a vigorous digestion, at the same time is perfectly harmless and will not injure the most delicate stomach, but on the contrary by giving perfect digestion, strengthens the stomach, improves the appetite and makes life worth living.

CASE AGAINST LOCOMOTIVE WORKS COMPANY

Failed Because Plaintiff Was Only a Handy Man Instead of a Machinist—Objection to Labor Union Jurors.

The December county court sitting was opened Tuesday afternoon before His Honor, Judge Price. This grand jury was empanelled: S. C. Bourke, Oso; Hendrix, Bruce, Bedford; James Brown, Wolfe Island; S. A. Davy, Sydenham; George Gibson, William Kennedy; Kingston township; W. J. Phillips, Portland; William Rea, Pittsburg; N. E. Runians, D. A. Weese, J. S. McMillan, A. W. McLean and Richard McBratney, city. There were no criminal cases for consideration, and the judge addressed but a few words to the jury in reference to visiting the public institutions.

The docket consisted of two jury cases, the first being that of William Robertson, a Scotch machinist, who brought action against the Canadian Locomotive Works company for alleged wrongful dismissal, for which he asked $200 damages. Dr. Snythe, K. C., for plaintiff; J. L. Whiting, K.C., for defendants.

After the petit jury had been called, Mr. Whiting on behalf of his clients, objected to John A. Nelson, William Tweed and Hugh McBratney, who were members of local labor unions, who, Mr. Whiting said, were hostile to the Locomotive Works company, being in sympathy with the machinists who struck last spring. His honor asked the three jurors mentioned to stand, and then questioned them as to their relation to the strikers. Mr. McBratney replied that he didn't know anything definite about the attitude of his union. Mr. Tweed admitted that the union certainly sympathized with the strikers, and perhaps had given them financial support. Mr. Nelson replied likewise as to sympathy.

"Do you know if the unions have given any organized or financial assistance to the strikers?" asked his honor. "No," replied Mr. Nelson. "I challenge them anyway," said Mr. Whiting, and accordingly the three labor unionists were requested to vacate their chairs which were filled by others.

William Robertson, the plaintiff, is forty-four years of age. When eighteen years of age he enlisted in that famous Scottish regiment, The Black Watch, with whom he served for seven years in Egypt and India. He came to Kingston last July with the other Scotchmen from Glasgow, and entered the fitting shop of the Locomotive Works. After a month, he was asked to do work in the turning shop, at a wheel lathe, and did so until his dismissal on Oct. 29th.

The plaintiff testified that he had sixteen years' experience in his trade as a tank and boiler fitter. He signed a contract in Scotland for fifty-five hours' work, and again in August signed another contract for two years. He recounted the circumstances leading to his dismissal. On Saturday, October 25th, he and William Ross, while driving from Odessa to Kingston had an accident. On Monday morning he worked, but in the afternoon he sent word back that he could not work for a while, as he was injured. On the following Wednesday, when he went back he was told that his services were no longer required. He could get no satisfactory answer as to why he had been dismissed. Part of the Scotchmen's passage money to Canada was deducted from their pay every fortnight. Since his dismissal he had been unable to get employment in the city.

Cross-examined, the plaintiff said he was a handy man, and not a machinist. Mr. Whiting produced the contract signed in Scotland, in which the plaintiff had declared himself to be a competent mechanic. To defendants' counsel, witness admitted going out of the back gate once to get a drink, which was contrary to the rules.

Foreman, Yellowley, of the Locomotive Works, stated that he had no complaint to find with the plaintiff's work. The work on the lathe was not a fitter's occupation. This was all the evidence submitted.

Mr. Whiting then addressed the judge, claiming that Robertson's agreement stated that he was a skilled mechanic, whereas, he admitted himself that he was only a handy man. The judge thereupon gave a verdict of "non-suit."

Grand Opera House. A large audience occupied the sittings in the Grand opera house last night, but were greatly disappointed at the production of "Macbeth" by John Griffith, whose interpretation of that Shakespearean role was decidedly poor. Griffith utterly failed to portray the true character of Macbeth. Like the old-fashioned Shakespearean actor, he spouted his lines with syllabic ferocity, quite distinct, but cold and inexpressive of the character he sought to portray. Miss Louise Ripley made a very good "Lady Macbeth," and Warren Conlan filled the role of "Macduff" exceedingly well. The scenery and effects were good, but the witch scenes were rather weak. In the third act, the ghost of Banquo appears by mirror reflection.

ST. ALL APOSTLES. J. C. AYER CO., Lowell, Mass.

A BANDSMAN'S STORY.

Says 14th Band Was Not Paid For Turning Out.

"The more a man does for nothing, the more he is expected to do," remarked a member of the 14th band Tuesday night. "And that truth applies to organizations as well as individuals. In the city council Monday night it was stated that the 14th band had never turned out on the occasion of the going away or the home coming of South African soldiers without having been paid. There is not a shadow of truth in that charge. Our band has turned out upon every such occasion, ever since the first contingent left in 1899—a dozen or so times—and all we received was $25, and that money we did not ask for, it was a free gift. Upon the announcement of the home coming of Capt. Bruce Caruthers, the 14th band, and in fact the whole regiment, assembled in the armories to greet him; the fact that he was delayed for twenty-four hours was no fault of ours; we lost a half day just the same.

"Then, again, we gave our services free for a dance for the returned veterans, and most of us subscribed $1 each to pay expenses connected with that affair. We also spent nearly $50 in entertaining the returned soldiers in our own rooms. It is unfair and unjust to say that we did not turn out without pay in connection with the South African soldiers. As I have already stated, we lost half a day expecting to welcome Capt. Caruthers, and as we are all working men, it would be unreasonable to expect us to do more. But for receiving payment for our services, that is untrue. In Mayor Minnes' time we were given $25, but that was not asked for nor expected. I just want to add that some of our critics in the council are indebted to the band for services we rendered last spring."

Thinks Well Of Vessels. Capt. Thomas Donnelly speaking in Toronto about the turret type of vessels says after ten months' experience he is convinced that the very best that could be built for the trade.

"We have many converts to our belief in the new steamers as lake carriers, and instead of the elevators at Port Arthur and Fort William being nearly full of grain as at the close of other seasons, these elevators are now nearly empty—the result to some extent of the new company's operations. When asked if the company intended increasing its fleet next season, Capt. Donnelly said: "That is a question of policy, and is controlled by the manager and directors. It is not likely that after such good results that the company will be content to rest on its oars. More I cannot say. As some of the owners of the Canadian Northern said about the railways in Western Canada, 'there are lots more.'"

Books As Christmas Gifts. The custom of selecting a handsome picture or a well-bound, well-written book, as a suitable Christmas present to a friend, has now become almost universal. And why should it not be so? No more appropriate offering could be made, for a book or a picture is always acceptable. The advances in this line have been great.

The books shown here are special bindings, with beautiful illustrations and they command a ready sale. Nothing could be more fitting as a holiday gift than one of these handsome books. The large number of buyers to be seen in R. Uglow's store, Princess street, express delight at the carefully bought and well selected stock of pictures and books of the rich quality we have mentioned above.

Proceed With Caution. A citizen suggests that as no other wharf is available, the city might allow the proposed new Wolfe Island ferry boat to land at the water works wharf, which is owned by the city. It is located some distance from the market, it is true, but a wharf must be obtained to make the ferry operative, and this one is in the control of the council. The citizen advises, however, that the question be weighed carefully, as the owners of the present ferry have large interests at stake in the city and are heavy taxpayers.

Frost Burst Water Pipes. The cold snap of Monday night played havoc with water services throughout the city. Hundreds were frozen and bursting, caused no end of damage. Every available plumber in the city was put to work making repairs; even apprentices and helpers were sent out on errands to cope with the damage wrought by Jack Frost. People were unprepared for a visitation of cold weather and had not taken the necessary precaution to protect the water services from frost.

South American Nerve. Tones the nerves, stimulates digestion, all essentials to perfect health. In no case has its potency been put to severer test than that of W. H. Sherman, of Morrisburg, Ont. He says: "I was completely run down, nerves all agog, stomach rebelled at sight of food, constant distress and generally debilitated. Four bottles made me a well man. Sold by Henry Wade and H. B. Taylor.—116"

He Is Seeking Damages. John Kinch, Sydenham street, who lost a child by diphtheria last winter, is after the city for damages. He has sent a communication to the city clerk asking to be compensated for medical attendance and hospital charges, alleging negligence on the part of the board of health, in not compelling the owner of the property in question to improve its sanitary condition. The finance committee will deal with the claim.

HARTY TO ACT

AS COACH TO QUEEN'S HOCKEY TEAM.

Frontenacs to Organize Friday Evening—Kingston Hockeyists Doing Fine Work in Pittsburg, Pa.

Petersburg rugby club are behind $50 on the season. A hockey league has been formed to embrace Smith's Falls, Perth, Carleton Place and Sandy Hill.

In Pittsburg, Pa., professional rugby has financially been a failure. In Ottawa it flourishes like the green bay tree.

The Ottawa and Aberdeen hockey clubs have at last decided to amalgamate, and turn out a strong senior team.

The California baseball league season has ended. Oakland wins the pennant, with Los Angeles second, San Francisco third, and Sacramento fourth.

"Jock" Harty, who for several years was the brilliant centre of Queen's hockey team, has consented to act as coach this winter to the Gaelic ice-warriors.

Only four of last year's champion Wellington team will be available this winter. Goal-keeper Darling, died recently, cover-point Baring is in England, and McKay is in the bank league. London, formerly of the Royal Military College team may play.

The programme for the eleven-day meeting of the Ottawa Ice Hockey Association is an attractive one. The meeting begins on February 10th. The purses aggregate $7,500. One of the attractions will be the attempt of Crescous to break the record on ice of 2,182.

With four well-balanced teams which are composed of some of the best hockeyists in Canada, and with prospects of a crack performer, the Western Pennsylvania League, at Pittsburg, Pa., should have a championship race that will command the attention of all devotees of the pastime during the entire season.

The Kingston bunch of hockeyists who compose the P.A.C. team at Pittsburg, Pa., are going to give the other crack Canadian aggregations in the Stanley Cup by the bye a run for their money. They lead the league at present. Reynier and "Jigger" Robinson are a swift pair of centres, while Young and Hamilton are doing grand defence work.

When the Intercollegiate Hockey Union adopted the Quebec (and Canadian) off-side rule, they did not admit that it was better than the O.H.A. rule on that point. The former rule was adopted simply for the sake of uniformity, all the other unions in Canada, except the Ontario, favouring under it. As a matter of fact, the intercollegiate union delegates preferred the O.H.A. system of off-side play, as it makes the game faster, and is more advanced.

The Kingston Frontenac hockey club will meet on Friday evening for club organization. J. T. Sutherland, who has for several seasons been the capable manager, will again be pressed to take the reins. Frontenacs will enter a senior team in the O.H.A., and hope to have a strong seven, composed chiefly of young players, who are capable of being in fast company. "Eddie" Hiseock is billed for goal. Ross Murphy for point and Chown for cover-point.

The K.B.C. Ramblers' hockey club have elected the following officers: Patrons, Hon. W. Harty, E. J. B. Pense, J. M. Mowat; honorary president, J. Morgan Shaw; honorary vice-president, Dr. C. K. Clarke; president, E. C. Dean; vice-president, John Ryan; secretary, treasurer, John C. Hamer; manager, Ed. H. Ball; finance committee, E. H. Ball, J. C. Hamer, W. Moore, E. Ashley; team committee, manager, secretary and captain. The amalgamated clubs possess some of the smartest players.

OLD FOGY KNEW.

Experience Teaches People. "My parents considered coffee simply a harmless beverage for old and young, so when a mere baby I commenced to drink it, and when I reached womanhood, found myself troubled with nervousness, headaches and an irritable temper and to obtain relief, I drank more and more coffee, thus adding fuel to the fire.

I grew worse until life was one black night of pain. My nerves were shattered, body wrecked with suffering, my stomach gave out and utterly refused to digest the most simple foods, and finally I lay for weeks starving and longing for food, but unable to eat more than just enough to keep me alive.

While in this state, my next door neighbor brought in a fragrant cup of coffee, and although I had suffered so terribly from its effects, the temptation was too strong to resist, and I drank it with relief. I noticed it had a rich agreeable taste and I drank it without distress. She repeated the kindness two or three mornings.

I began to congratulate myself that it was not coffee that hurt me after all. I was assuring my friend of this one day when she astonished me by saying that I was not drinking coffee, but a pure food drink called Postum Food. Coffee, made from nourishing grain for building up the system and nerve instead of tearing them down.

I then began to drink Postum regularly, and to get well slowly but surely. Today I am strong, hearty and my nervous system is entirely rebuilt and with a reserve force of strength in time of need. I sleep well and awake refreshed and feel bright for each day's task, with no indigestion or stomach trouble, and a good, strong active brain ready for any and every duty.

I have no doubt on earth that coffee nearly killed me. A friend of mine was obliged to resign her position as school teacher, because of extreme nervousness caused by coffee drinking. I induced her to use Postum in place of coffee, and at the end of four months she is entirely teaching again, her nervousness gone and feeling and looking ten years younger; her sallow complexion having become a beautiful, healthy bloom." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Damaged By Fire. Shortly after three o'clock, on Tuesday afternoon, fire was discovered in the residence of James Mueckler, Johnston street. The brigade responded quickly, but as the fire had gained considerable headway, almost the entire effects were destroyed. The cause of the fire is a mystery, as the house was locked up at the time. The blaze seemed to have broken out in a back bedroom upstairs, and worked through the partition down into the parlor, and up into the attic. Holes had to be cut in the roof and the end of the house in order to get at it. Mr. Mueckler had fully $200 in insurance on the furniture, which will not nearly cover the loss. The house was owned by his mother and is fully insured.

Great Clearing Sale. During the month of December, previous of the New York Clothing Store, Brock street, is having a great sale, commencing on December 4th, in ready made clothing, order work and gent's furnishings. See hand bills for prices. This is a genuine sale.

Clark's Delicious Pork And Beans. No imported pork and beans surpass those made by W. Clark, Montreal, Canada.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Movements Of The People—What They Are Saying And Doing.

Rev. Prof. McComb and H. S. Folger returned last evening from New York. Sergt. Crockett, "B" field battery, has been added to the staff of the brigade office.

Sergt. Winifrid Bailey, staff clerk, leaving friends in Montreal, has resumed his duties in the brigade office.

Rev. A. Laird, of Cooke's church, is confined to his room, and unable to hold his mid-week prayer meeting this evening.

Albert W. Burch and John Shamy, of this city, were granted naturalization papers at the Tuesday afternoon session of the county court.

M. McLaughlin has returned to Buntton, N.J., after spending the past two weeks with his family on York street. He has a splendid position in the east.

Mrs. and Miss Edith Carmichael have returned from Renfrew, where they have been staying for some time with Harold Carmichael, on the staff of the Ottawa bank.

Alfred Macfarlane says the report that he is not going to again offer himself for re-election in Frontenac ward, is premature. As far as he knows he is again to be a candidate.

MARINE INTELLIGENCE. Movements of Vessels in and Around the Harbor.

The large Frontenac is at Swift & Co's wharf with hard coal from Oswego.

The barge Diamond, from Oswego, is at the Kingston Penitentiary wharf with 750 tons of hard coal.

The K. M. F. company barges Siren and Princess have been hauled out on the marine ways at Portsmouth. During the winter they will be repaired and improved.

The steamer New Island wanderer did not reach here yesterday from Cape Vincent, on account of fog. The steamer Pierpoint met her here and the foot of Wolfe Island late in the afternoon and exchanged passenger and baggage. Then the Wanderer returned to the Cape and the Pierpoint to the city.

The last of the Canada Atlantic barges were returned to the K. & M. F. company Tuesday, after a most successful season on the river. The barges will be thoroughly overhauled and repaired during the present winter season. The tug Kate brought up the last of the barges on Tuesday, three facing the storm, but finding successful anchorage inside the breakwater at Portsmouth. To the enterprising agent, James Stewart, much credit is due for the success attained during the season, and for bringing all the barges into port without damage.

Death Of Stewart Davy. The death took place Tuesday night of Stewart Davy, one of Kingston's most respected citizens. About two weeks ago the deceased was attacked by pneumonia, and though the best medical skill was employed, it was found impossible to successfully combat the disease. The late Mr. Davy was a native of Kingston, born here fifty-nine years ago. He followed the occupation of carpenter and was a skilful mechanic. In 1866, when Canadians were called to arms in defence of their country, the deceased responded, and for the services then rendered was awarded the medal granted for that occasion. He was a member of the Independent Order of Foresters, and also of the Orange order.

The late Mr. Davy was an exemplary citizen, respected and admired by all classes of the community. He is survived by his devoted life partner, two sons, Herbert and John, of Toronto, and two daughters, Misses Blattie and Nellie, at home. The funeral will take place from his late residence, Garrett street, Friday, and will be private.

Was Highly Respected. The late Robert M. Bell, G.T.R. engineer, who died at Brockville, Tuesday, was a native of Kingston township. In 1870 he located at Brockville, where he entered the employment of the G.T.R. company, remaining on the pay list to the time of his death. He was a life-long member of the Brotherhood of engineers, and for twenty years was a prominent figure in the councils of that organization. He was also a member of the Sons of England and the A. F. & A. M. For many years he filled the position of superintendent of the Sunday school of George Street Methodist church, of Brockville. He is survived by his wife and one son. The late Mr. Bell also leaves four brothers and three sisters: Dr. J. A. Bell, Waterdown; J. H. Bell, Kingston; Senator T. E. Bell and Dr. S. A. Bell, Hammond, Ind.; Mrs. Thomas Copley, Mrs. Buland, and Mrs. A. McLean, Kingston.

Damaged By Fire. Shortly after three o'clock, on Tuesday afternoon, fire was discovered in the residence of James Mueckler, Johnston street. The brigade responded quickly, but as the fire had gained considerable headway, almost the entire effects were destroyed. The cause of the fire is a mystery, as the house was locked up at the time. The blaze seemed to have broken out in a back bedroom upstairs, and worked through the partition down into the parlor, and up into the attic. Holes had to be cut in the roof and the end of the house in order to get at it. Mr. Mueckler had fully $200 in insurance on the furniture, which will not nearly cover the loss. The house was owned by his mother and is fully insured.

Grand Jury Report. The grand jury report submitted to the county court was brief. It recorded that there are seven prisoners in the jail, including one girl, who is to be removed to the asylum. Recommendation was made that a woman's toilet be placed in the court house.
