WAS IT HILL'S

Claims "Salem Charley's" Estate of $142,000

ALLEGED WILL WAS WRITTEN IN PENCIL ON SCRAP OF PAPER.

Mrs. Driggs Has Filed a Claim Against the Estate—It is Said That the Money Was Accumulated in the Business of Manufacturing Spurious Coin.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 12.—Mrs. Gertrude Driggs, formerly a resident of Dayton, O., through her attorneys, has filed in the superior court an alleged will of the late Charles Hill, alias "Salem Charley" who left an estate of $142,000 in cash. The will is dated January 14th, 1888, and leaves all Hill's real property, home and personal effects to Miss Gertrude Driggs, the fifteen-year-old daughter of Mrs. Driggs.

The document is written in pencil on a scrap of paper, and bears the signatures of George Manning, a well-known counterfeiter, now dead, and N. Driggs, the former husband of the woman.

The Times says that the claim is made that Hill, Driggs and another man were members of a gang of counterfeiters, and that Hill accumulated his fortune in the business of manufacturing spurious coin.
