IS DISTRUST

Washington Not Told Of Germany's Coercion.

TOO GREAT RISK

THE BRITISH PEOPLE FAVOR ARBITRATION.

Remarkable Unanimity of the Press—Hard and Fast Agreement Will Be Obnoxious If It Embroils Britain and the United States.

New York, Dec. 18.—The Tribune's London cable says: The British public's distrust of Germany lights up afresh as evidence is supplied that the details of the coercive measures against Venezuela, which, as has been generally inferred in Britain, pre-arranged with the Washington government.

Liberal, conservative and independent journals deplore the facility with which Premier Balfour and Lord Lansdowne were drawn into a hard and fast dual agreement, and emphatically declare that Britain's interests in Venezuela are too insignificant to justify the risks of a misunderstanding with the United States, and describe arbitration as the best chance of deliverance from an intolerable situation.

The unanimity of judgment of the British press on this question is remarkable. An alliance with Germany, for any purpose, would have been unpopular after the dubious results of the agreement respecting China, but it will become highly obnoxious if suspicions are justly aroused that the German emperor has sought to embroil Britain and the United States.

Premier Balfour's implication that a state of war exists in connection with the seizure of vessels and the blockade of the ports startled the House of Commons, last evening, but the logical force of the declaration is admitted. If this theory be adopted by the allies, neutral commerce will be interrupted and an attempt will be made to starve Castro to terms by virtually closing the customs houses of the island. It cannot be believed that the force of public opinion here in favor of arbitration would be irresistible if proposals were presented by the United States with a practical method of guaranteeing the payment of the award.

The newspapers, this morning, display a good deal of anxiety in commenting upon the latest development of the Venezuelan situation. Premier Balfour's statement in the House of Commons, it is believed, accentuates the increasing seriousness of the position, and the government is warned against the policy of embarking upon hostilities of indefinite duration and unknown magnitude which cannot be stopped without Germany's consent cannot be continued without endangering Anglo-American friendship.

BOXERS AGAIN ACTIVE.

Two Cities in State of Siege—Troops Failed.

Victoria, B.C., Dec. 17.—Mail advices received from Chang King in the Szechuan province, China, report that both the cities of Mei Chou and Kiatingfu have had their gates closed and a state of siege declared, owing to the numerous bodies of armed Boxers in their vicinity it being feared by the officials that the insurgents may take advantage of the latest development of the cities by surprise. Troops were sent to raise the siege of the two cities but failed.

Kiatingfu, one of the cities mentioned in the above despatch, is a mission station of the Methodist church. The mission rooms have as yet received no advices of this danger, though their missionaries have instructions to cable the danger is acute.

SAVED THE MONEY.

Township Officials, Attacked by Robbers.

Elmvale, Ont., Dec. 18.—Neil McEachern, treasurer of the Nottawasaga canal, and J. L. Sinclair, were driving home from the Nottawasaga meeting of the council, Mr. McEachern, having $7,000 of tax money with him in a satchel, when two men sprang into the road and seized the satchel of the horse. A few blows of the whip caused the horse to shake off the highwaymen and Mr. McEachern discharged his revolver, one of the men firing at him in return. The highwaymen then escaped.

Plum Puddings For Christmas.

London, Dec. 18.—It is estimated that during the past two or three weeks the steamships leaving England have carried upwards of 500 tons of plum pudding, or roughly speaking about 170,000 puddings. To an Englishman a Christmas dinner without plum pudding would be like a production of Hamlet without the melancholy Dane, and the British's weakness in this particular is one that always sticks to him, even though he migrates to the other end of the earth. As the holiday season approaches each year tons of festive pudding find their way from London all over the world. A large proportion are sent as Christmas presents to friends in the United States. Many hundreds of them go to Canada, Australia and South Africa.

LAKE TRAGEDY.

Seven Of Oswego's Popular Citizens Given Up As Lost.

Oswego, N.Y., Dec. 18.—Almost the last ray of hope for the ill-fated steamer John C. Hall and her crew was blotted out last night when the news came that the vessel ashore on Salmon Point was the schooner John R. Noyes and not the steamer Hall. She had rolled her masts out in the gale and thus deceived those who saw her from a distance into the belief that she was the Hall.

A telegram from Picton, Ont., to Capt. Thomas Crimmins of the tug association, says that wreckage in great quantities has been coming ashore all afternoon and among it is a piece of a schooner with "John R. Noyes" on the message further says the vessel was a total wreck and has been broken to pieces by the tremendous seas.

A life saving crew, which went on a special errand and then by boat to the wreck, reports it positively to be the Noyes. The report that came in the morning to the effect that the wreck on Salmon Point was the Hall raised the almost vain hope that Capt. Donovan and his crew might have survived all the terrible experience of the wreck and still be alive and aboard the wreck. At night they gave up in despair.

There is only one hope and that a slim one. The Hall may be ashore on the Duck Islands and may have been missed by the steamer Aven in the darkness and thick weather. If she is not there, vesselmen say she is surely at the bottom of Lake Ontario with her crew of at least ten. The tug Charley Ferris will leave this port as soon as weather permits to search the Ducks.

The Hall left Charlotte with the Noyes in tow one week ago, both laden with coal for E. W. Rathbun & Co., Deseronto. The crew of the Noyes was taken on board the vessel by the Charlotte life savers, Monday afternoon, of Lakeside and thirty miles out in the lake.

It was the most heroic achievement of the life saving service on the lakes in many years. The exact make-up of the crew of the steamer Hall is not known here. It is known absolutely, however, that there are seven Oswego persons aboard her. They are: Captain Timothy Donovan, First Mate Jerome Donovan, Second Engineer John Donovan, Third Engineer James Donovan (all relatives), Thomas Cochrane, wheelman, Daniel Bigelow, wheelman, John Dixon, fireman.

There are also aboard Thomas Tyler, fireman, and Mrs. Brown, cook, both of Buffalo. Captain Donovan and First Engineer Donovan owned both boats, which were valued at about $35,000. The cargoes are valued at $5,000 and there is no insurance on vessels or cargoes.

The tragedy has cast a gloom over this city. The sailors of the Hall are all well known and popular here, and their probable fate is being discussed everywhere. Telegraph offices, police headquarters and vessel offices are deluged with inquiries for news, but nothing of a cheering nature can now be given.

Stevenson Crew Safe.

The barge Stevenson which broke away from the steamer Avon Tuesday afternoon near the Galoup Islands, is ashore on Stony Island, where the crew has been rescued. The crew is safe. The captain of the Stevenson is J. Mallet, Jr., of Kingston, whose wife was also aboard.

ARE TO CONFER.

An Irish Land Conference is Arranged.

London, Dec. 18.—The Exchange Telegraph company says it learns officially that arrangements for an Irish land conference are now complete, and that the representatives of the landlords and tenants will meet immediately at Dublin. Lord Dunraven, the Earl of Mayo, and Col. Everard will represent the landlords, and John Redmond, William O'Brien, Thomas Russell, member of parliament for Tyrone, and the Lord Mayor of Dublin, the tenants.

GREATER ACTOR FALLS.

John L. Sullivan's Engagement Cancelled Owing To A Sprue.

Detroit, Dec. 18.—The death knell of John L. Sullivan's popularity here was sounded at the Avenue theatre, when it was announced from the stage that his engagement for the remainder of the week had been cancelled owing to the fact that the ex-champion pugilist had appeared before the afternoon audience in a drunken condition and was still too drunk to go on in the evening.

Congressman Blackburn Weds.

Washington, D.C., Dec. 18.—Today's wedding of Miss Louise L. Vaughan Parker, daughter of Colonel Mervyn L. Parker, the millionaire capitalist and former commissioner of the district of Columbia, to Representative Edmond Spencer Blackburn, of North Carolina, was given éclat by the presence of a large number of congressmen, diplomats, department officials and other men prominent in public life, together with their wives and daughters.

Destroyed By Fire.

Cohoung, Ont., Dec. 18.—Grafton cheese and butter factory situated about two and one-half miles from that village and about seven miles east of Cohoung, with its contents, was totally destroyed by fire. Mr. McKay, cheesemaker, and his assistant, slept in a room in the second story, and escaping by jumping from a window. The assistant sprained an ankle. Building and contents partially insured.

Captain and Mrs. Duncan MacInnes, who recently sailed from England for the South Africa, were wrecked off the Canary Islands, but were saved with all the other passengers. After a short delay they proceeded on their way and reached Cape Town safely. Sir Henry Irving was the principal speaker at the dinner of the Actors' Benevolent Fund, in London on Wednesday evening. The famous actor, whose provincial tour has been unusually prosperous, was in high spirits, and he made a touching appeal on behalf of poor players in their dark and bitter hour of helpless decay.

Poison In The Serum.

Allahabad, India, Dec. 18.—A most painful occurrence in connection with the great anti-plague inoculation scheme in the Punjab is reported. As is well known, the Indian government is practically inoculating the whole population with Haffkine's serum. By some inadvertence as yet unexplained the inhabitants of a village near Gujranwala were inoculated with a poisonous serum instead of the remedy, and over twenty of them died. The native papers are urging the government to make an investigation. No official statement has as yet been forthcoming.

Snoyey, N.S., Dec. 18.—A man named McLean, arrived in Sydney from Oradale yesterday, to secure skilled medical treatment for one of his eyes, which was injured by a table fork accidentally thrust into it by a young lady at the supper table of his boarding house the same evening. McLean and the young lady were including in a considerable "fooling" during the evening, and the young lady suddenly raised her arm with the fork in her hand. The fork stuck square into his eye, remaining there until he pulled it out himself. He will lose the sight of his eye.

Victoria, B.C., Dec. 18.—The Imperial privy council, according to advices just received, has decided that the law of British Columbia, which declares that a Japanese, who becomes a naturalized citizen of the province, is not entitled to vote in constitutional.
