The Daily Note Book For Whig Readers to Post Themselves By.

When designers contest for a prize the result is always a draw. Two good haters may be friends, but two good talkers—never. Those who are weary in well-doing are those who do the least of it. What is a kiss? The flag of truce in the petty wars of courtship and marriage. The mirror isn't a wise-looking piece of furniture, yet it does a lot of reflecting. We are getting the old-fashioned winter, but really what is most needed is an old-fashioned full coal bin. Just as a woman's winter garments begin to feel comfortable she has to begin to pack out her spring outfit. You have been good, tis true. Would we could say adieu. Old friend, to you. And so, old year, farewell. But time now rings your knell. A long farewell.

MAY REPEAT IT

The Expedition to Release Christians IN JEOPARDY.

HOW THE POWERS ARE CONCERNED IN MOROCCO.

It is said that Spain, Britain, France and Germany are all casting envious eyes upon Sultan's Kingdom—A Reactionary Policy.

London, Jan. 2.—The bearings of the revolutionary movement in Morocco though not generally understood, are far from unimportant, and affect vitally the subjects of several nations.

Both France and England have extensive commercial interests in Morocco, and German trade is rapidly increasing. As a result, they have a number of citizens whose lives will be imperilled if the rebels wage a "holy war" which has for its object the destruction of all Christians. The possibility of repetition of the expedition to Pekin, with Fez as the goal, has been suggested. France, from Algeria, and Great Britain, from Gibraltar, are in a position to hurry troops into Morocco, who have already had garisons at Ceuta and Melilla. The real difficulty, as in China, lies in the general distrust which exists as to the intentions of the various powers.

The following explanation of the situation in Morocco was given by a person well versed in the question: The territory of Morocco, the last strip of unappropriated territory in Africa, is coveted by Spain, who regards the African shores across the narrow strait as her rightful heritage; by France, whose colonies surround Morocco and whose railroads already reach the frontiers; England desires Tangier, to complete her hold on the entrance to the Mediterranean, partially established at Gibraltar. Germany also, since she holds third place in the trade of Morocco, has interests at stake. All these conflicting claims combine to make a most difficult situation, one which has permitted the Moroccan to assume an arrogant attitude. Some weeks ago the rumor was circulated that France and England had made an agreement by which the former waived her claims in Egypt and the New Hebrides, and in return Great Britain acquired the French seizure of all Morocco except the coast fronting Spain from Melilla to the Atlantic. This was, according to the rumor, which came from Paris, to go to Spain.

A Reactionary Policy.

Madrid, Jan. 2.—The latest news from Fez, Morocco, where the sultan's troops are besieged by the rebels under the pretender, is to the effect that the foreign residents and the women missionaries do not seem to be at all anxious, although fighting is going on near the city.

It is stated here that the sultan of Morocco, summoned the sheikhs and notables of Fez and made a plea for their loyalty offering to abjure his European predilections, to break his relations with Christians, and to maintain Islamism. It is asserted that the immediate proposition of European officials, consequently, is impending, accompanied by a reactionary policy. The report needs corroboration, as many stories circulating here continue to insist upon the fact that the pretender sent to the sultan, at Fez, a grizzly token of approval in the form of a number of salted heads of imperial soldiers who were slain in the recent battle.

Action For Divorce.

Waterloo, N.Y., Jan. 2.—A divorce action has been begun by Amber Swan against Emma Swan. Both resided at Alexandria Bay from their marriage, July 4th, 1878, until October 4th last, when the complaint in the action was filed. Mrs. Swan, eloped. It is supposed that she is now in Canada. The Swans have three children, a son, aged twenty-three, and two daughters, aged respectively thirteen and fifteen.

The Soldiers Warned.

Pekin, Jan. 2.—A large number of Berliners serving in various Prussian regiments, were, before being allowed to come home for the Christmas holidays, given lists of 112 restaurants and beer houses in Berlin and fifty-two in the suburbs which were forbidden to enter chiefly because their proprietors are socialists. The soldiers were forbidden to hire rooms for federalists' assemblies.

Abandoned Visit.

Durban, Jan. 2.—Colonial Secretary Chamberlain, and Mrs. Chamberlain, have abandoned their proposed visit to the battlefield of Colenso, where Gen. Buller suffered a severe defeat at the hands of Boers. The reason for the abandonment of the trip is that severe thunder storms and torrential rains are prevailing just now.

Venezuela Takes Hopeful View.

Caracas, Venezuela, Jan. 2.—The arbitration proposition of the foreign powers and the counter proposition of Venezuela, exchanged through Minister Bowen, are said by a high Washington authority to be easily reconcilable.

Settles May Yohe's Claim.

London, Jan. 2.—The Central News announces that the claim of May Yohe for $45,000 against the estate of Lord Francis Hoyle has been settled amicably. The terms of the settlement have not been published.

The Allan line steamer Preforian from St. John, N.B., and Halifax, arrived at Liverpool, on Thursday.

TO EXTEND THE PLAN.

Dairymen Ask the Government for More Instructors.

Toronto, Jan. 2.—Deputations from the Eastern and Western Dairymen's Association, waited on the minister of agriculture and discussed the dairy situation. The point under discussion was the advisability of extending the plan of instruction demonstrated in the two model districts during 1902. In the past the government has been giving $4,000 per year to each of the associations, and in 1902 spent $4,000 more in sending out four special instructors, who devoted their time to improving the produce of twenty-five factories, each, instead of endeavoring to visit one hundred factories, as the inspectors do.

The dairymen expressed themselves satisfied with the results in these model districts, and as anxious to have the plan systematized and extended over the whole province. They believed that this could be done with additional expense, their idea being that the benefits were so evident that the factories would contribute to the maintenance of these instructors. The plan they thought, should be applied to creameries as well as cheese factories.

Mr. Bryden said that he believed a plan could be devised which would meet the views of all, and he promised to bend his energies to the working out of such a scheme.

WILL LAND A FORCE.

Action Due to Menacing Attitude of Emir of Kano.

London, Jan. 2.—In consequence of the menacing attitude of the Emir of Kano, a powerful Mohammedan ruler of the Northern Nigeria, who has placed a price on the head of Captain Aba'i, the British at Zaria (capital of Zaria), Central Africa, the British government has decided on the immediate dispatch of a punitive expedition of 200 men, belonging to the West African frontier force.

The government has received news of the death in October last of the Emir of Sokoto, who had caused serious trouble in the past.

ATTACKED BY CANNIBALS.

The Entire Party Murdered and Eaten.

Brussels, Jan. 2.—The Congo administration has received news that Lieut. De Magnane and his party, in charge of 200 men, on the frontier of Uganda, were attacked by a cannibal tribe on June 14th, last, and that the entire party was murdered and eaten.

Mullah Means to Fight.

Berbera, Jan. 2.—The Mullah is making no attempt to move from the wells of Galadi, in the south-western part of Hadram, within the Mador region, his force concentrating there and preparing to offer an obstinate resistance to the British troops.

To Be A Triangular Fight.

Vancouver, B.C., Jan. 2.—Christopher Foley, who contested Yale-Cariboo at the last general election, in the interests of the miners' union, has consented to stand as an independent labour candidate for the dominion at the bye-election in Burrard. Chinese restriction will be one of his chief planks. Hon. T. R. McInnes announces his intention to remain in the field, so there will be a triangular contest.

Will Issue A List.

London, Jan. 1.—The new licensing act, which went into effect yesterday, and which aims to diminish drunkenness, was enforced by the London judges. The magistrates immediately applied the clause which calls for the publication of a black list of habitual drunkards where convictions must be made known to the police authorities. These habitual drunkards are debarred from having intoxicants for a term of three years.

The Soldiers Warned.

Pekin, Jan. 2.—A large number of Berliners serving in various Prussian regiments, were, before being allowed to come home for the Christmas holidays, given lists of 112 restaurants and beer houses in Berlin and fifty-two in the suburbs which were forbidden to enter chiefly because their proprietors are socialists. The soldiers were forbidden to hire rooms for federalists' assemblies.

RICH DURBAR

Oriental Pageantry And Magnificence. A VIVID SCENE.

LORD CURZON MAKES A FINE MANAGER.

Chamberlain as a Seductive Influence—His Cordial Greeting in Natal—An Embittered Controversy at an End.

New York, Jan. 2.—The Tribune's London cable says: The morning journals are filled with details of the oriental pageantry and magnificence of the durbar. It was, perhaps, a less picturesque function than the state entry into Delhi, with its long double file of richly caparisoned elephants, but there was a larger representation of Indian princes and a greater display of military forces. If a few accounts of the procession of elephants and vassal princes read like a new chapter in the "Arabian Nights," the details of the proclamation of the king as emperor of India from a throne with golden lions formed a sequel to the oriental romance of the British dominion, of which a statesman with a Hebrew imagination was the author.

Lord Curzon's genius as a stage manager with a unique knowledge of oriental character, is recognized, and there is a conviction that he will enact a great part in imperial policies after his return from India.

Mr. Chamberlain's power of exciting colonial enthusiasm is considered magical. The shrewd comment of one of his critics is that after his remarkable achievement in inducing the people of Natal to shout themselves hoarse over the privilege of taxing themselves for the payment of £2,000,000 of war taxes, he ought to be sent from one end of the empire to the other as a seductive recruiting sergeant, and the practical tax gatherer of imperial federation.

After seven years of embittered controversy, the Ausgleich difficulty between Austria and Hungary, has at last been satisfactorily settled. The Vienna correspondent of the Daily Telegraph points out that the conclusion of the question is an all-important matter for the dual monarchy. As soon as parliament has accepted the agreement, the battles upon the new commercial treaties with foreign states can be undertaken. Above all, the monarchies need no longer stand defenceless before the new German tariff with a united customs and a single policy. Austria-Hungary again becomes a factor in European commercial affairs. Therefore, the eve of 1903 forms an historical date for the monarchy.

CABLE IS READY.

Flashing Messages From Honolulu to United States.

San Francisco, Jan. 2.—The first cable communication between Honolulu and the outside world took place at 11:58 o'clock, last night. Signals were exchanged with the city at that hour and were perfect at both ends. The speed was fast, but the operators have not figured out the rate at which the earliest messages were exchanged. Almost immediately after communication was established a message of greeting was flashed to President Roosevelt at Washington. The message was from Governor Dole, of Hawaii. The cable will be in active operation in two or three days. Regular communication will then be started.

Bristol, Conn., Jan. 2.—Fire on Thursday afternoon caused damage to the amount of $12,000 to the stockpile factory of N. L. Birey, Sons & Co. Five of the girls jumped two and a half storeys to the ground, and Winnie Busley, fourteen year old, sustained a broken leg, and a sprained ankle. A number of the employees were taken to the ground in safety by the firemen.
