TORY UNSEATED

MAJOR HUGH CLARK, OF CENTRE BRUCE.

The Seat Declared Vacant Because of Bribery of an Agent Who Secured Liquor on Election Day.

Walkerton, Ont., Jan. 28.—The Centre Bruce election trial came to a sudden close this morning.

Donald Galbraith admitted having got liquor at McClure's Hotel Paisley, on election day, and it having been established, yesterday, that McClure was an agent for Hugh Clark, the respondent, the judges at once declared the election voided.

The cross petition was not proceeded with. The petition and the cross-petition were dismissed without costs.

WHEN SMALLPOX WOM.

Prayer: Did Not Save Woman—Illness Was Concealed.

Indianapolis, Jan. 28.—Mrs. Jennie Leppert, whose home was in the thickly settled neighborhood of 24 Blake street, died of small-pox last night without having been attended by a physician.

She was a disciple of Christian Science, and during her sickness several persons of the same faith tried to restore her by prayer.

These persons visited her regularly, but the nature of the disease was kept from the authorities, and it is believed that it will spread to other neighborhoods.

The coroner began an investigation to-day to secure all the facts, and says that he will institute proceedings against all persons who visited Mrs. Leppert and were parties to the concealment of the nature of her disease from the authorities.

Another Bad Accident.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—In a rear end collision on the Chicago and North Western railway, at La Fox, Ill., early this morning, two trainmen and five stockmen were killed.

The trains in collision were a side-tracked stock train and a fast passenger. The latter telescoped the caboose on the stock train, killing almost all of its occupants. The fireman on the passenger engine also was killed.

He said the staff was the most efficient he had ever met with on his travels. He also congratulated Electrician Hartick upon the excellence of the electrical effects.

A "Sandy" Suggestion.

W. J. Paul thinks it would be a good idea if the corporation would supply all the merchants with a pail or two of sand at the beginning of the winter, so that when the days of slippery water arrive, each one would be able to scatter some of the sand on the sidewalks in front of their places of business. This could be done early in the morning, and much trouble saved.

Plot Nipped In The Bud.

Hong Kong, Jan. 28.—The viceroy has caused the arrest in this city of seven Kwang-Si rebels, which led to the discovery of plans for a simultaneous rising here and at Canton.

The rebels were found to be in possession of banners and secret codes for communicating with their fellow-conspirators.

ENGINEER'S STATEMENT.

He Said He Was the Responsible Party.

New York, Jan. 28.—It is known there are twenty-four dead in the railway wreck at Graeland, N.J. The engineer of the express, John S. Davies, was not the regular engineer. He was a relief for the fast train, and had been put on in the absence of the regular man, who had a day off. He was, however, perfectly familiar with the running of the train and he ran it at least once a week.

Policeman Lurch who assisted carrying Davies from the engine, says that Davies said to him: "I am responsible for the accident; I saw the danger signal but I expected it to turn white."

Engineer Davis of the Philadelphia flyer, is still alive but is in a dying condition. So far the railway authorities and police have succeeded in getting a list of sixteen of the dead, but there are six bodies in the Plainfield morgue still unidentified, and several bodies scattered through little hamlets in this vicinity.

Several unidentified bodies are in the Westfield railway station. The bodies of some of the unidentified are battered and burned beyond recognition.

May Not Be Fully Known.

Plainfield, N.J., Jan. 28.—It is estimated that the list of dead in the wreck in the Central New Jersey railway will reach thirty.

Accurate estimates are being made for the ruins of the eastern train were pulled out from under the wrecked engine of the Philadelphia flyer parts of bodies were found and it is believed many were buried.

WILL HANDLE FUNDS

And See That Claimants Are Arranged With.

Paris, Jan. 28.—It was learned, today, that the Belgian charge d'affaires at Caracas, M. Vanner Heyde, has informed his diplomatic and official colleagues that Belgium will undertake the administration of the Venezuelan customs in behalf of the allies and other foreign claimants, thus relieving the United States and other parties interested from the responsibilities of administering the situation.

Belgium agents will be appointed to receive the customs and distribute the respective portions to the different claimants.

Little Secrecy There.

In New Brunswick each voter may print or write his own ballot. There is no official ballot paper. Each voter is at liberty to prepare his own ballot, and to write on that ballot the names of the candidates for whom he votes.

All the law stipulates is that it shall be of white paper, of usual size, however, is for each party to print its own ballots. If there are four candidates on each side in the constituency, and there are in some cases, each side will prepare printed ballots containing the names of their four candidates.

Electors can get these before they enter the booth or afterwards. If a doubtful voter is brought up to the polling booth, he is given a ballot as he enters, and the person interested may watch to see that this particular piece of paper is deposited in the ballot-box. It is only a shade tetter than open voting.
