MUNYON'S RHEUMATISM CURE.

Other Cases That Read More Like Miracles Than Actual Happenings in the 20th Century—Showing the Extraordinary Power of Munyon's Rheumatism Specific to Cure Rheumatism.

"A man, like a piece of machinery, is incapable of doing his best when out of repair."—MUNYON.

"If I were not able to offer the people of Canada absolute proof of the value of my remedy to cure disease I would expect them to prohibit the sale of my remedies by law and prohibit my ever entering their country."

"I do not ask them to take a single statement of mine in regard to the curative value of my remedies that I cannot substantiate by actual and unimpeachable proof by the unbiased and unprejudiced evidence of their fellow countrymen. I have several remarkable cases to call to their attention to-day. The first is from C. D. Zimmerman, who has charge of a large department in Adams Bros' Harness Manufacturing, Toronto. It may interest you."

C. D. ZIMMERMAN.
"I have been afflicted with Rheumatism for sixteen years. In that time I have tried every available means to get well. I tried pharmaceutical preparations, advertised remedies and physicians' prescriptions and could obtain only a small amount of relief. My feet and ankles were affected, and they would pain me so severely that I have had to take to my bed for days at a time. I procured a trial vial of Munyon's Rheumatism Cure at the free distribution recently held at the News Office, and I can now get around, am greatly relieved, feel better than I have for years before, and I consider a permanent cure is not far off. C. D. Zimmerman, 47 Duke Street, Toronto."

SUFFERED FOR THREE YEARS. HEADACHES AND RUSHING OF BLOOD TO THE HEAD. APPETITE WAS GONE.

MRS. WALTER WATSON, BROOKLYN, N. S.
She says: "I suffered for three years with terrible headaches and rushing of blood to my head. I lost my appetite and became very thin and weak. I tried many different remedies and consulted doctors, but all in vain until I started to use Burdock Blood Bitters. I had not taken more than two bottles when I began to feel better, my appetite improved wonderfully and I increased rapidly in weight. I took altogether four bottles and am now as well as can be, for which I owe my thanks to Burdock Blood Bitters. I can recommend it to all those suffering as I did."

WESTWARD HO! STIRRING SCENE IN EASTERN STATION.

Well-to-do English Immigrants Bound for Canada—Seeking Their Fortune in the Far West.

London, Eng., News and Mail.
The dim, grey departure platforms of Euston station for two hours before twelve o'clock last night were packed with a crowd such as the North-Western terminus seldom sees even when football excursionists surge northwards again after an exciting cup-tie.

But last night it was no crowd actuated by a day's pleasure, flinging itself leaden-eyed into the midnight train, but a crowd of men, women, and children who were putting England behind them and setting out to seek their fortunes in the heart of Canada—"Our Lady of the Snows."

The starting notices told it plainly enough. "Emigrants to Liverpool" tersely over the booking-office, and here and there conspicuously, "Platform 12, 13, and 14. Rev. T. M. Barr's special trains to Liverpool for S.S. Lake Manitoba."

In these few brief words this latter notice told the story of the crowded platform. Mr. Barr is responsible for a scheme by which 1,500 persons, drawn from London and the south of England, started last night on a journey which will terminate at Battleford, on the Saskatchewan river, where the great Canadian plain-lands stretch for hundreds of miles from the Winnipeg lakes to the Rocky mountains. The Canadian government has granted land, and here the English emigrants will settle down.

They were no common emigrants these. All were of a fairly well-to-do appearance, as if they had not found it impossible to exist in England, but had decided that they might do even better in the fertile land out west.

Many carriages contained whole family parties of father, mother, and children, some of the latter hardly more than babes-in-arms. But young men, in the prime of youth, formed the larger proportion of the 1,500 persons.

For three hours before the hour of departure last night they came pouring into the station-yard with their goods and chattels and a host of friends to bid them farewell.

Animated and anxiously in the best of spirits, the crowd pushed along to the three special Liverpool boat trains stood waiting. They planted their baggage plastered with their bright-colored Beaver line labels, on seats of vantage in the compartments, and then sat down to chat with their friends.

Long before midnight these latter formed with the colonists themselves a crowd of between 4,000 and 5,000 persons. The scene was in every way a remarkable one. Although the crowd was chiefly in hilarious good spirits, occasionally, like an April sky, it was under a spell of gloom. But a party of new arrivals went down to the station with a burst of cheering which was taken up along the whole line to the banishment of any signs of depression.

Many banished themselves scanning their fellow passengers, and drawing hasty conclusions. A young man, waiting for the departure, walked backwards and forwards alone, had the unmistakable appearance of one who had seen better days. Some of the men among the future colonists had no one to see them off, and these sat stoically smoking their pipes.

A few concertina players enlivened the waiting minutes as the hands of the clock crept towards midnight, at which hour the specials were due to depart.

With spirited voice the crowd sang "Auld Lang Syne." "The Old Folks at Home," and the latest novel and appropriate ditties. "We've made up our minds to sail away."

There were emotional scenes when the strident voices of the porters shouted: "Take your seats," and the last parting embrace was given, and men held the last class of each other's hand. In quick succession each train moved slowly out of the station, amid a tremendous outburst of cheering and a wild waving of hats and handkerchiefs. Then the crowd drifted silently homewards. Women held handkerchiefs in their hands, and here and there an aged mother passed out leaning heavily on her husband's arm.

Easily Calculated.
An Irishman was filling barrels with water from a small river to supply a village which was not provided with waterworks. As he halted to give his horse a rest a gentleman rode up and asked:

"How long have you been hauling water, my good man?"
"Ten years or more, sor."

"Ah! And how many loads do you make a day?"
"From ten to fifteen, according to the weather, sor."

"Well," said the gentleman, laughing, "how much water have you hauled altogether?"
The Irishman jerked his thumb in the direction of the river, at the same time giving his horse the hint to start and gallop:

"All the water that yes don't see there now, sor."

Pure, Dainty, Delicate. Beware of Imitations.

ALBERT WALKER SOAP CO., CHICAGO, ILL.

When the best grain is delivered at the Tillsons' mills there is much in it that is not food. So we put it through a thorough cleansing process that frees it from all foreign substances—hulls, straws, black specs and dirt. Our cleansing method leaves nothing but the pure meat of the oats, which is rich in muscle and tissue-building qualities. To this careful cleanliness is due the appetizing appearance of Tillson's Oats—the entire contents of the package is pure, strengthening food.

Corticelli SPOOL SILK

Admitted by dressmakers to be the best sewing silk made. As Corticelli costs you no more than poor silk, why don't you buy it? Ask for "Corticelli" and politely, but firmly, refuse all substitutes, which some clerk may say are just as good.

IN PATENT HOLDERS.
The colors are fast—the silk the best. Put up in Patent Holders, which prevents waste by tangling or soiling—keeps each shade separate, and automatically measures a correct needful.
Recommended as the only proper way to put up Filo and Floss Silks, and used by art societies everywhere. Over 400 different shades of silk to select from.

However, I shall be in constant attendance for three or four weeks. The plaster cast was removed and the operation pronounced successful.

The Grand Duke Alexis, head of the Russian navy, is suffering from nephritis, and has been ordered abroad. It is expected that his successor will be the Grand Duke Alexander-Mikhailovich, husband of the Grand Duchess Maria.

GROWTH OF CIVILIZATION.

Blamed For Drunkenness—Caused By Increased Mental Strain.

Bremen, April 17.—Home Secretary von Posadowski-Wehnen formally opened the international anti-alcohol congress. In his speech he pointed out that the increased mental and physical strain occasioned by the growth of civilization was apt to lead to excessive indulgence in drink. Legislation could only lend mechanical aid to the temperance movement. The real remedy must come from a higher sense of morality on the part of the people, which, however, need not interfere with enjoyment of life.

Their gentle action and good effect on the system really make them a perfect little pill. They please those who use them. Carter's Little Liver Pills may well be termed "Perfection."

THERE'S HEALTH FOR YOU!

There's health for you in the dish of Malt Breakfast Food that you use at the morning meals. If you have dyspepsia, indigestion or a deranged stomach, sure relief is found in Malt Breakfast Food, the only cereal food made according to nature's plans. LOYALTY AND LOVE TO OUR COUNTRY

Should be Taught His Country's History. Must Call to His Country's Aid. All Literature Lacks Enthusiasm, Patriotism.

At the meeting of the Ontario National Association, Tuesday evening, Principal of Queen's University, spoke of the "Goodship of Teachers."

When we speak of our country, we must include a circle, as Hugh Miller did, which covers the whole of our country as his "Schools of Teachers." In the large school of life, every experienced instructor, as I have expressed my opinion, is a "Schoolmaster." It is, however, to sphere of influence in which the schools that I refer to are the "goodly fellowship of teachers," those who are responsible for the molding of the character of the nation.
