Fluttering of the heart, shortness of breath, paint and dizzy spells.

Mrs. Wm. Bagley, Grand Tracade, P.E.I., says she has had this trouble.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS. She has been relieved in perfect health.

She writes: 'About seven months ago I was badly run down in health and became very weak. I was troubled with fluttering of the heart and shortness of breath. When I lay down at night I was almost afraid to go to sleep for fear I would never wake up. When I arose in the morning I would feel a little better, but by noon I was again as weak as I was when I first began. My head would become dizzy, faint weak spots would come over me and it seemed as if black objects were floating before my eyes. I was growing weaker every day until I bought a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. When the box was half gone I should feel that they had done me good and by the time I was finished I was in excellent health and would advise all suffering from heart and nerve troubles to try them.'

IN BRIEF FORM CANADA'S BOUNDARY CONVENTION WITH ALASKA.

The Ownership of the Heads of Inlets—One of the More Important Matters to Be Decided. The preparation of the Canadian boundary with Alaska has proceeded in the usual and unexciting manner. The boundary is to be defined by a line of heads of inlets and straits. The boundary is to be defined by a line of heads of inlets and straits. The boundary is to be defined by a line of heads of inlets and straits.

The second contention maintains that the width of the strip which the United States acquired from Russia is limited by the summit of the mountains which border the coast. By this means the United States would extend the narrow limits indicated above. The United States assert that there are no mountains existing which fulfill the requirements of the treaty.

The third question involves the ownership of the heads of inlets, and particularly Lynn Canal, at the head of which Lynn Canal is situated. It turns on the meaning of the word 'coast'. When the treaty says that the line shall follow the summit of the mountains parallel to the coast, does it mean that it shall run around the heads of deep indentations, such as the Lynn Canal, or that by 'coast' the framers had in mind that which any ordinary person resident at the head of a narrow inlet extending 60 miles into the mainland would have, who might announce his intention of 'going down to the coast'?

It is said, however, that Canada's claim to the heads of inlets has been to some extent compromised by official neglect and indifference. It will unquestionably be most difficult to secure recognition of our view of this claim, but it will be fully pressed and argued before the tribunal.

Three Main Issues. It will be observed, therefore, that there are three main issues between the United States and Canada. The first involves the islands at the mouth of Observatory Inlet. The second concerns the width of the coast strip, and the third the ownership of the heads of inlets and straits of Lynn Canal.

PORT OF SPAIN. Why Canada Has an Interest in The Recent Raising.

There smart eyes of the Government of Ottawa registered a little commercial treaty with the Government of the Island of Trinidad, southernmost of the British West Indies. From the island there came a cable message to the Legislature, Messrs. Fenwick and McCarthy, the latter gentleman Commissioner of Customs. The treaty was never referred to by the Government of the Island, but it was reported to the Legislature.

QUITE LIVELY. WORKING THE X-RAYS IN PARRY SOUND.

B'rar Ireland, Editor of The North Star, Gets a Treatment, And Interestingly Tells All About It. A few days ago the Editor of The North Star, Parry Sound, had the privilege of witnessing the workings of the X-rays at the Parry Sound Hospital. The X-ray, he explains, is so called because it is still an 'X' or 'unknown' quantity.

The first thing that catches the eye on entering Dr. Stone's office, is a large glass case containing the apparatus used in producing the current which supplies the light. This machine is operated by a water motor of a half-horsepower. From the poles of the battery, wires are drawn to a small tank containing a solution of water. The current which is sent through the water causes it to glow with a dim green light.

The first mistake we made was that we did not inform Mr. Watt as to the exact geographical location of the rheumatism, and that gentleman started with his little stick on an exploratory mission, which kept us guessing lively. He started in with giving us a poke on the shoulder blade, just at that point where scratching is a most difficult operation. The sensation is a sharp tingling one, not at all unpleasant if it were not delightfully unexpected.

Indefatigable Jesuits. Of all religions orders the Jesuits seem to be the most difficult to contend with. Like the children of Israel, they are persecuted, expelled and more driven away they are, the more ubiquitous they prove. They were expelled from Portugal and from France in 1764, from Prussia in 1773, from the Netherlands in 1774, from Spain in 1765, from Sicily in 1767, from Portugal in 1769, from Prussia in 1773, from Austria in 1781, from Bavaria in 1802, from Sardinia in 1804, from the United States in 1802.

A Naval Joke. At an amateur dramatic performance in the Naval Academy, on April 1st, one of the instructors played a new April fool joke. The audience had assembled and everything was in readiness for the curtain to be rung up when one of the instructors made his appearance, carrying in his hand a telegram. 'I wish to make an announcement—a very sad announcement,' he said in funeral tones.
