IN STAGELAND NOTES AND COMMENTS ON THINGS THEATRICAL.

The Season at the Kingston Grand-Morrison Had Largest House—Protest Against Immoral Plays in France. Blanche Walsh will go on a tour with "Resurrection" on May 4th of about six weeks' duration. This week in Montreal, "David Harrow" is at the Academy, and Lewis Morrison in "Faust" at the Francois. "Chicago" will have a surfeit of musical comedy this summer, five theatres being billed for companies in that line. In the autumn of 1904, Sir Henry Irving, Ellen Terry, Forbes Robertson and Charles Hawtrey, from England, will all be playing at the same time in America. "Lord Strathmore," a dramatization of the celebrated novel "Strathmore," from the pen of the famous author, Ouida, is at the Toronto Grand this week. It is announced that Sir Henry Irving has accepted from Peorhy St. Paul, whose play has hitherto been along artistic lines, a one-act play, which will soon present. Until within the past few years, Lewis Morrison controlled his own productions. Lately he has been under the direction of a small syndicate. It is understood that he receives $15,000 a season and expenses for acting. While travelling he has a private car. During a performance in London, Eng., of "The Light That Failed," Forbes Robertson stopped a scene to rebuke several persons who, seated in one of the boxes, were indulging in loud conversation. Mr. Robertson won applause for his rebuke to the disturbers. After a run of almost four months "Mother Goose," the most successful pantomime produced in London in 1903, has been withdrawn from Drury Lane, London, in order to make room for Sir Henry Irving's rehearsals of M. Sardou's "Daute." Irving's production of this play, it is said, will be upon a scale of magnificence eclipsing everything in the past. The new Biblical play, "The Holy City," by W. B. Hurst, will be presented at the Toronto Princess theatre the next week. The play is written in blank verse and is the story of St. Mary Magdalene, varied and amplified as the author has seen fit. Many Biblical characters appear in it, but Biblical history has been altered for the purpose of the play. "There is more talk in New York of forming a union among chorus and show girls, so that they can prevent unreliable managers from taking girls away on the road and then leaving them stranded. But it will be impossible to make it a success, for there are so many in all parts of the country who are crazy to be actresses that any manager can get all the girls he wants to join company. The Toronto Opera House, recently burned, is to be replaced by a new playhouse, costing $75,000, which will be leased by A. J. Small as before. The new theatre will have a larger seating capacity than any other place of amusement in Toronto. It will accommodate over 2,000 people. August 1st is the date upon which the new theatre is to be opened. Actors and actresses like appreciation and genuine applause just as do persons in other walks of life. A bit of encouragement spurs them on to do better, while a cold human atmosphere discourages and depresses. It is not the vulgar applause that is meant however. Some audiences applaud anything and everything, and in their greed for more. There is a vast difference between vulgar and well-directed applause. When the theatrical season ends in Kingston about the middle of May, seventy-five companies will have produced at the Grand Opera House. Of this number, one-fifth will have been musical comedies or comic operas. Only a few of the season's productions could be called very inferior, some being barely poor. Most of the productions, however, have been of merit. Perhaps the two actors, who will be most remembered, are Martin Harvey and Lewis Morrison. The largest attendance at the Kingston Grand Opera House this season was last Thursday night, when 1,302 people witnessed Lewis Morrison in "Faust." The other largest audiences were 1,287 at "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," 1,211 at "When We Were Twenty-One," 1,194 at "The Bonnie Briar Bush," 1,118 at "The Show Girl," 1,069 at "Florodora," and about 1,000 at "The Only Way." This shows that the tastes of the people incline towards the best productions in various lines. The plays produced at low prices do not seem to draw at all. A strong protest was made the other day against the modern French dramas in the French senate by M. Debray, the president of the Vigilance Society. He complained that the censorship of plays was absolutely illusory. The majority of plays mounted in France were of an immoral nature. They were devoid of literary merit, and appeared to be staged for the sole purpose of exhibiting public representations of loose women. He concluded by declaring that unless measures were immediately taken to put an end to the present objectionable state of things, he would organize a "hissing league" to drive off the stage such pieces as those he complained of. Most of the English theatres are conducted by actor-managers. When an actor obtains special prominence there are friends who will build him a theatre or rent one for him. Irving, Wyndham, Tree, Alexander, Toole and Terry are examples of the system, and they prosper pretty well at it, though the drawback comes in the fact that the manager is apt to obstruct his own personality on his audiences to a rather alarming extent, even to having good plays spoiled so as to parade himself in the best part. In America there is one of that, the theatre being run commercially for what there is in them, pure and simple. Perhaps we are, on the whole, the gainers thereby, for our managers will endeavor to get the best there is in the market, without any sentiment of professional jealousy.

THEY DID WELL. Successful Tea Given by Cathedral, C.C.M.C.

A most successful afternoon tea and sale of work, was held at the residence of the Dean of Ontario, on Wednesday, under the auspices of the C.C.M.C. of St. George's cathedral. The guests were received by Mrs. Buxton Smith, after paying their entrance fee to Miss Zelica Burns, and Miss Lee Taylor, who had charge of the door. Many pretty things were on the work table, which was in charge of Miss Elsie Pense and Miss Mildred Jones. Miss Lillian Kent, and Miss Dorothy Brownfield looked after the sweets, and the tea table, which was in the dining-room, was presided over by Miss Bea McGill, who had for her assistants the Misses Portia Mackenzie, Eno Ham, Freda Burns, Klitt Treadwell, Sarah Clark, Agnes Clark, Annie Merrin and Annie Wilson. All the girls and little girls in their white frocks looked very attractive and are to be congratulated along with their energetic superintendent, Miss Bessie Smith, and their equally energetic president, Miss Elsie Pense, for the success of the affair. Two prizes, for regular attendance at the guild's weekly meetings, were offered by Mrs. Buxton Smith, the first, a silver thimble, being won by Miss Portia Mackenzie, and the second also a thimble, going to Miss Annie Merrin, who lives at the outer station. Both prizes were presented to the winners by the president, Miss Elsie Pense. In the absence of Miss Bessie Smith, Miss Constance Tandy had general supervision of the pleasant little affair.

HORSE AND RIG STOLEN. But Trace of it Later on Secured.

Some time after nine o'clock, Wednesday night, a thief entered the stable owned by John Heaton, who lives near Cataragi, and took therefrom his best horse, a fine light harness and hitching the horse to a covered market wagon, drove off. A light buggy under an adjacent shed was apparently overlooked. Mr. Heaton learned of his loss early Thursday morning, when he went to his stables to feed his horses. With out loss of time he communicated the particulars to the local police. The thief left no trace of his exit, and there was nothing for the "detectives of justice" to begin work on. However, at about half past eleven o'clock a telephone message from Sydenham advised the chief of police that early this morning, Mr. Vanhuen, who lives nine miles north of Sydenham, had found the horse and harness in his stable. Later on the wagon was found hidden in an adjoining bush. It was also reported that a suspicious character was seen loitering in the vicinity, who was suspected of the theft. Mr. Heaton recognized his goods and chattels from the description given, and at once started for Harrowburgh by train, to proceed thence to Mr. Vanhuen's farm to recover his property.

MINES CLOSED DOWN. All Operations at Deloro at a Standstill.

Madoc Review. We are informed that all mining operations at Deloro, including the Canada Goldfields and Atlas companies, have been closed down for the present. For months past there has been talk of a big deal being on between them and other gold mining companies, and it is understood that to bring the deal off a focus is now the object of closing down all operations at that place. It is said that when mining is again resumed at Deloro, one powerful and wealthy corporation will control the whole operations in that section of the Hastings' gold fields.

Shakespeare's Birthday. April 23rd is the reputed birthday of William Shakespeare at Stratford-on-Avon, England, in 1564. His works have been productive of more controversy than any other in the world and are now in existence over 300,000 volumes, not to speak of newspaper and magazine matter, which would add thousands of volumes to the grand total. Singular to say not a scrap of the manuscript of Shakespeare is in existence except the autographs attached to various legal documents, including his will. Each autograph is a mere scrawl, apparently differently in each case. It is maintained by those who advocate the Baconian theory of the authorship of the plays that Shakespeare could not write, and the autographs rather support that claim.

Strongly Favors Faving. City Engineer Kirkpatrick.

City Engineer Kirkpatrick has in his declaration that the wisest course for the council to pursue is to hold to its decision to pave the business blocks. Most of the eight blocks proposed to be paved this summer are in repair, and if they are paved the expense of rebuilding them will amount to some thousands of dollars. To macadamize one block alone would cost $1,000. The paving, he considers the "cheapest" in the long run.

FEW OBSTACLES. VANDERBILT MAY BE ABLE TO GET LICENSE.

Because of Divorce—Archbishop of Canterbury, Who Must Endorse All Such Licenses, Opposed to Remarriage of Divorces. London, April 23.—Another obstacle has arisen in the way of the marriage of William K. Vanderbilt and Mrs. Rutherford on April 29th, the date appointed for the ceremony. An official of the faculty office where all special marriage licenses are issued, said today that it is almost certain that Vanderbilt will be unable to secure a special license. The Archbishop of Canterbury, he said, who must endorse all such licenses, is greatly opposed to the remarriages of divorces, and he will not sign a license in this case. Vanderbilt, unless extraordinary pressure is brought to bear, and even then it is very doubtful if he will comply. Should the archbishop refuse to sign the license, a wedding cannot be held in London or England on the date set, as in the event of no special license being issued Mr. Vanderbilt or Mrs. Rutherford will not live in some English parish for fifteen days preceding a church of grave. The date set for the ceremony, which must be performed in London, is April 29th.

NOTE AND COMMENT. A Paper Best Known By Its Readers.

Prof. Monheim, the eminent German historian, frankly admits that he does not understand the Monroe doctrine. Neither does anybody else. The Evening Wisconsin, Milwaukee, believes that a man is best known by his neighbors. A newspaper is best known by the people of the city in which it is published. Perth county council has adopted a resolution to co-operate with the Commission to draw on him, others including the terms of town, township, and village councils to two years, the elections to take place at the same time as those for county councils. Mason, Mo., is not extravagant in salaries. The mayor, city attorney, treasurer and clerk each are paid $100 a year. The policemen get $60 a year, marshals, $40 a month, police judge, $20 a month and the chief of the fire department, $5 a month and an engineer of the water works, $25 a month.

In a circular sent out by the Gainesville, Fla., Sun, a unique feature of a new newspaper is mentioned on the stones state of the times of newspapers that have passed away, the Record, Leader, Herald, Ledger, Gazette, Democrat, Journal, Informer and News. The new paper, thoughtfully surveying the scene is labelled "The Daily Sun."

A PRESENTATION. To Mrs. Mellroy—Entertainment House of Industry.

The members of the J.W.A. of St. George's Cathedral mission, on Wednesday morning, presented to Mrs. Mellroy, who has been assisting Mr. Countryman's excellent gramophone, for the benefit of the inmates of the House of Industry. As a part of the programme the refreshment committee in charge of Mrs. Mellroy, distributed cake and coffee. Before the singing of "God Save the King," Mrs. Mellroy, who has been kind enough to let the society meet at her house all winter, and who is always ready and anxious to help in every good work, was presented with a pretty china fruit dish and bread and butter plates by the J.W.A. members. The address was read by Miss Emily Clark, the secretary of the organization, and the presentation made by Miss Julia Lalonde, the treasurer.

Nathaniel W. Hunt. Nathaniel W. Hunt, one of the prominent summer residents of the Thousand Islands, died recently at his home in Brooklyn. In 1884, while on a visit to the Thousand Islands, the guest of his friends, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Heath, of the Island of Matine, was pleased with the place that he purchased one of the choicest islands near by and named it Isle of St. Elmo, upon which he built a beautiful cottage and made extensive improvements. He was a charter member of the Thousand Island Yacht club, and at one time one of its governors. He had lived in Brooklyn many years and since 1862 had devoted his time to looking after his investments and beautifying his city and country homes. He was in his eighty-sixth year.

DENIES WHAT GAMEY SAYS. Gamey Made Cash Slip—Has No Duplicate Deposit Book.

Gamey's allegations in Buffalo early this morning. "Mr. Gamey says, Mr. Crossin, that the $900 deposit was not made on the same day as the $1,500 one." "Mr. Gamey is mistaken," replied Mr. Crossin. "There can be no doubt whatever on that point. As a matter of fact, the bank book shows that the $900 deposit was made on September 11th. I remember the details clearly. Mr. Gamey and I left the factory shortly after 12 o'clock noon, on our way to lunch. We went to the bank and deposited the money. The $1,500 deposit was made on the afternoon of the same day. We left the office shortly before 3 o'clock. Mr. Gamey said that the $900 deposit was made on the same day." "I am quite certain," "Mr. Gamey says further, that you made the $900 deposit." "I did not make the deposit. I was with Mr. Gamey, and may have handed him the money and deposit slip. It did give the bank book to the ledger-keeper, and I received it back from him. I am sure of the latter fact, for I opened the book and said to myself, 'Well, there's $900.' But Mr. Gamey made out the deposit slip, and, therefore made the deposit. I am positive of that." "Mr. Gamey says that he has duplicate books, a duplicate cash book. What do you say about that?" "The only book in Mr. Gamey's possession, so far as I know, is a memo, or notebook, in which he enters the money he pays into the company. Sometimes I draw on him, and he sends me cash or cheque. These transactions are jotted down in this book. That's the only book he has. We lack a complete set of books, but we have been intending to purchase a thorough system, but have not done so."

Mr. Gamey states that he never touched the company's cash book when he was here on Saturday last. What do you know about that matter?

"Mr. Gamey arrived at the factory on Saturday morning when I was out. On my return I went up on the elevator just as he was descending. As a result I missed him that time, but he came back half an hour later. I understand that he remained half an hour on his first visit."

"Did he always see the books when he came to the office?" "Well, I am not always with him in the office, to which he has a key. I have the other key, and the door is always locked when neither of us is using the office."

"When you are with him, does he always look at the books?" "Yes, I think so; generally, at any rate. When he comes to the factory he nearly always goes to the office and sits at the desk, or near it."

"I am quite willing to tell all I know," said Mr. Crossin. "I have nothing to conceal. I am a business man, not a politician. I have lost nearly twelve days over it, and am sorry that either the company or myself has been drawn into it."

Says Gamey Will Be Arrested. Toronto, April 22.—E. F. E. Johnston, K.C., senior counsel for the defence in the Gamey investigation, said he would report to the crown attorney four distinct cases, one of forgery, two of perjury, and one of falsification of evidence. "The whole object of my cross-examination," said Mr. Johnston, "was to pin Gamey down to either of two things. He had either to commit perjury or to destroy this evidence in the cash book, and alter the deposit slip. His talk about the slip being his own property and that he had committed perjury is all moonshine. Things have turned out just as I anticipated. Of course, I knew beforehand what evidence was in the bank and this made me confident that he could not explain the matter satisfactorily unless he destroyed some of the evidence. Those who did not know the circumstances failed to see the object of a portion of my cross-examination, but it turns out now that I was right. If Gamey comes back he will surely be arrested."

Kidney Trouble Eight Years. Lumbago and Tired Worn Out Feelings Were the Portion of a Toronto Machinist.

He is Well Now—Dr. Fitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets Have Cured Him. James J. Walsh, a machinist in the employ of the Kemp Mfg. Co., and whose home is 391 Adelaide St. W., Toronto, told the story of his cure as follows: "For eight or nine years I have been troubled with my kidneys. I first had a severe attack of lumbago, then was troubled with intermission of pain in my back, and felt tired and worn out all the time. I used a number of remedies, but did not get much benefit from them. I heard of Dr. Fitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, and decided to try them. I have taken in all three boxes, and can positively state the Tablets have completely cured me. I recommended them to my brother, and they have cured him already. They are certainly splendid."

Every form of kidney trouble, from backache to Bright's disease, is cured by Dr. Fitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, and the cure is permanent. The Dr. Zina Fitcher Co., Toronto.
