FIT-REFORM THE ACME OF PERFECTION IN CLOTHES

Even if your tailor never has been able to fit you the FIT-REFORM method will give you perfect satisfaction.

With Fit-Reform, science steps in with an almost perfect system of grading in sizes to fit the male figure in all its variations.

You can tell exactly how your suit will look before you buy it—an advantage no custom tailor can offer.

Fit-Reform Suits and Overcoats $10.00 to $30.00. Fit-Reform Trousers $2.00, $4.00, $5.00 and $6.00.

Fit-Reform Wardrobe Sole Agent E. P. JENKINS KINGSTON, ONT.

D & A DIP HIP CORSETS

Impart to the figure an erect carriage without that discomfort inseparable from the wearing of imperfect types of the Straight front variety.

There is a "D. & A. Straight Front" to suit every type of figure, this fact practically disposing of the necessity of buying any other make, for the "D & A" is the Standard of Corset making.

GREAT SPEECH

SIR OLIVER MOWAT AN ORATOR FOR ONCE.

Ontario's Grand Old Man Puts Party on Right Track 15 1899—His Oration at Niagara.

The speeches of Oliver Mowat were mainly arguments. One speech which was warmly by the fervor of a genuine eloquence was Sir Oliver's oration at Niagara-on-the-Lake on June 10th, 1899.

PRESIDENT RICHARD GOTTFELD, of American Federation of Zionists, whose sixth annual convention convenes in Pittsburgh during May.

As a Canadian, I feel proud of the display of that spirit which Canadians have made at every stage of their history.

"I am glad to know that Canadians of the present day as a body are not disposed to say of the sturdy, self-sacrificing first settlers of our province that they were blunderers and wrong-doers in the wilderness."

"We are British subjects, and we have at the same time a special love for Canada and feel a special interest in Canada's future, and the continuation of the country, to, to, to."

"It was in this great and growing country—this Canada, so extensive in territory, so rich in resources, and so abounding in advantages for future development—that most of the present inhabitants were born, and it is the land of adoption to the rest of its population."

"In view of the relations to it of us all and in view of the history of the country and of what is now known of its immense possibilities, there has grown amongst its people alongside of the old attachment to the British name and British nation and of the pride felt in British achievements in peace and war, a profound love for Canada, and a pride in Canada and hopes of Canada."

"I believe this to be, on the whole and in the long run, the best thing for the whole American continent."

"I hope that when another century has been added to the age of Canada it may still be Canada, and that its second century shall be the first, be celebrated by Canadians, unshaken, numerous, prosperous, powerful and at peace."

"I love my nation, the nation of our fathers, and I shall not willingly join any nation which hates her."

"I love Canada and want to perform my part, whatever it may be, in maintaining its existence as a distinct political or national organization."

Are you? (Cries of 'No.') I am not willing that Canada should be absorbed into the United States.

"Annexation necessarily means all that I mean to us preferable in Canadian character and institutions, as contrasted with what in these respects our neighbors prefer."

"Annexation means at the same time that transfer from ourselves to Washington of all matters outside of local provincial affairs."

"If," he said, "things at Ottawa do not go as we reformers would like, it is because Ontario through its own representatives has not so willed."

"They are in an important sense our brothers and I should be glad to promote the freest intercourse with them in every way, but I don't want to belong to them, I don't want to give up my allegiance."

"I don't want to belong to a nation in which both its political parties have to vie with one another in exhibiting their hatred for party purposes."

"I don't want to belong to a nation in which a suspicion that a politician has a friendly feeling towards the great nation of the origin of the most of them is enough to ensure his defeat at the polls."

"Reformers should remember that if the Quebec people are at present the allies of the conservative party, they were for many years and at various times allies of the reform party and in opposition to the conservatives."

"I am not disposed to say of the sturdy, self-sacrificing first settlers of our province that they were blunderers and wrong-doers in the wilderness."
